LATIN REVOLTS CALLED BAR TO FOREIGN TRADE

United States Chamber Session Told Unrest Curbs Markets.

AMERICA'S BUYING WILL AID REVIVAL

Merchant Marine Looked To as Necessity in Pushing World Commerce.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 30 (A.P.).—The United States Chamber of Commerce today heard the assertion that political uncertainty in some Latin-American republics constitutes "a serious obstacle" to foreign trade recovery.

Robert H. Patchin, vice president of W. R. Grace & Co., New York, added to that assertion the statement that the great purchasing capacity of the United States, due to high wages and high standard of living, would "powerfully contribute to world business revival, * * * repeating the economic history of recovery from past depressions."

Modification of the antitrust laws, an attack on "Government interference with business" and agitation for an investigation of possibilities for stabilization within industries were other subjects which occupied the attention of 2,500 delegates to the nineteenth annual convention of the chamber.

Curb on Loans Explained.

Almost complete cessation of foreign loans because of the depressed state of the foreign bond market was attributed by Mr. Patchin to "political uncertainty" in some, but not all, of the Latin-American republics, and to "doubt as to the ability of one or two to meet, in the immediate future, the service on their foreign debt."

He viewed it "a mistake to consider this serious situation" as solely the concern of bankers. It was, he said, a "vital problem for the individual investors throughout the United States who now hold the billion and a half dollars of Latin-American public securities outstanding in this market."

The foreign bond market, he continued, was likely to remain depressed until debt service uncertainties were removed by convincing evidence of the ability of the governments "in difficulty" to balance budgets, effect economies and safeguard their commerce and industries to prove a basis for additional credit.

Looks to Merchant Marine.

The American Merchant Marine, he said, was in a strategic position to aid the recovery of both export and import foreign trade. He believed as overseas business revives American traders would find "under their own flag unprecedented frequency and rapidity of service to practically all markets."

Repeal of the criminal provisions of the antitrust laws on the ground that fear of such prosecution kept business men from attempting even sincere cooperative efforts, was advocated by William S. Benet, vice president of the Edward Hines Lumber Co., of Chicago.

Relaxation of legislative restrictions which prevent combination of small banks with large ones was demanded by Edmund Platt, vice president of the Marine Midland Group, Inc., of New York, and a former vice governor of the Federal Reserve Board. He held combination would aid in limiting the number of bank failures.

Bank Encroachment Scored.

Business was warned by Fred M. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, against further encroachment of Government. Business men, he asserted, must be fearful of the future if they are continually faced with the fear of Government competition.

Morris E. Leeds, president of Leeds and Northrup Co., of Philadelphia, urged the chamber to get facts and recommend practices for budgetary and other stabilization. He advised extensive publicity to convince business men of the necessity of improvement and study of state unemployment insurance to back imminent State laws.

Professor Willits suggested that the business man's present attitude on unemployment may be as wide of the mark as was his attitude about

150 Killed, 300 Hurt By Plant Explosion

Terrific Mysterious Blast in Suburb of Rio de Janeiro Throws Bodies Hundreds of Feet; Damage Is Estimated at $500,000.

(Copyright, 1931, by United Press.)

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, April 30 (U. P.).—A terrific explosion of mysterious origin today wrecked the naval chemical plant at Nichteroy, fashionable suburb, with heavy loss of life.

The number of persons killed was estimated unofficially at 150. Upwards of 300 were seriously injured. Scores of others in and near the plant were hurt. Windows for blocks around were shattered. The suburb, across the bay from Rio de Janeiro, was rocked over a three-mile radius.

Fragments of bodies were thrown for a quarter of a mile. Dozens probably never can be identified, rescue workers said. Relatives recognized parts of bodies, severed heads, legs and other limbs being strewn in horrible fashion over the city for blocks. Women fainted when bodies of their husbands or relatives were located.

Fainting women necessitated the use of 30 ambulances. The morgues and hospitals were taxed to capacity with the victims of the catastrophe.

The explosion occurred at 8:55 a. m. This was determined by official Nichtery clocks, stopped by the blast. Earlier reports from the plant said a 350-pound torpedo had exploded, set alight by careless workmen. This theory has been abandoned.

Morgues tonight were filled with mangled bodies and fragments impossible to identify. The hospitals were crowded with injured.

Long lines of men, women and children—some women with infants in arms—filed through the morgues seeking to identify the dead. Many were hysterical. Relatives admitted they had lost hope of identifying scores of the missing.

Gruesome scenes occurred in the heavily guarded vicinity of the chemical plant. An old man recognized the severed head of his son. A woman

PAY RAISES BAN HIT AS SLAP AT HOOVER

Official of National Group of Federal Employes Amazed at Action.

Decision of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur and Attorney General Mitchell that no employe of their departments shall be granted increases in pay was characterized yesterday as a "direct slap in the face of President Hoover."

The description of the announced decision of the two edpartment heads was given by Miss Gertrude M. McNally, secretary-treasurer of the National Federation of Federal Employes.

"We are very much amazed at such a decision, Miss McNally said, adding that despite their amazement union officials were not very much excited because the amount involved was "small change" comparatively.

"Nonetheless," she said, "the department heads are in duty bound to give promotions to deserving Government employes within the limit of their appropriations as contemplated by law.

"The action of these two Cabinet members can be construed as nothing less than a slap in the face of the President.

"President Hoover himself repudiated such a course, not only in various public declarations regarding wages, but in his message to the last Congress, in which he urged that increased appropriations be provided for salaries, so that many Government employes, who are not receiving the salaries they are entitled to under the law, should have increases.

"Cabinet officers who may fall into the error of following the bad example of Secretary Wilbur and Attorney General Mitchell are not keeping faith with their employes and are not keeping faith with Congress, in the last session of which this very issue was fought out and Congress declared itself against the Wood amendment and in favor of salary increases within the limits of appropriations. The worst aspect of this action is the reflection cast by his Cabinet officers on the President, whose emissary, Secretary of Commerce Lamont, has just made a speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce deploring tendencies to reduce or keep down wages."

No effort will be made by representatives of the employes to take the

POLICEMAN IS SLAIN, SAW LINGLE KILLED

Man Fleeing Arrest as Bank Robber Shoots Another and Is Captured.

Chicago, April 30 (A.P.).—Policeman Anthony Ruthy, the traffic officer on duty at Randolph and Michigan boulevards when Alfred J. Lingle was slain June 9, 1930, in a pedestrian tunnel there, was killed at the same busy intersection tonight by a man fleeing arrest for bank robbery.

A fellow officer, Patrick Durkin, was seriously wounded in the chase along streets jammed with rush-hour traffic, which ended with the capture of Frank Johnson, 30, of Rock Island, Ill., as the assailant.

Ruthy, whose testimony of "visions" in the trial of Leo V. Brothers for Lingle's murder caused a sensation, was felled as he started from his post in the middle of Michigan boulevard. It was he who had named Frankie Foster as the man he saw fleeing from the pedestrian tunnel after Lingle was shot down, but at the trial he said his identification of Foster was only a "vision."

Officers said two private operatives had trailed Johnson to a building just north of the intersection. While one of them, L. B. Benson, started for police the other, John Woods, walked down the boulevard with him.

Just as Ruthy moved from his post and Durkin from the corner, Johnson broke away and dashed down the street, threading across Randolph to the Public Library corner. On the way he whipped out a gun and fired twice—once at Ruthy, once at Durkin. Ruthy fell, mortally wounded in the abdomen.

Johnson dashed to the Library steps and Policeman Pat Enright, on duty half a block away, started after him. Johnson fired again and the shot grazed Enright's face.

Johnson ran down Randolph street to Garland Court, a half-block away, and twisted his way among parked automobiles, with Enright, Policeman Leo Sherlock and Ernest Schaeblin, a civilian, close behind.

He turned onto Washington street, over to busy Wabash avenue and down it a half-block, his pistol now empty, before Schaeblin could seize him.

The shooting came at 6 p. m.—the Loop's busiest time—and it snarled traffic into a knot it took an hour to untie. Michigan boulevard was blocked by excited pedestrians, and street cars were jammed along Wabash avenue.

The private operatives said Johnson was wanted for a $2,800 robbery of the Lafayette, Ill., State Bank April 10 and the Neponset, Ill., State Bank April 22, when $400 to $500 was taken. They had obtained a warrant for him at Kewanee, Ill., this morning and were preparing to serve it when the shooting took place.

Ruthy was on traffic duty at the same spot when Lingle was slain. He

Bus Hero Is Most Wonderful Man Peggy Ann Ever Met

President and First Lady Join Enthralled Grandchildren as Audience for Harmonica Concert by Bryan Untiedt, 13, White House Guest.

(United Press.)

The most wonderful man that Peggy Ann Hoover, age 6, ever met is Bryan Untiedt, 13.

With wondrous eyes she watched him yesterday as he played "The Lonesome Cowboy" and "Turkey in the Straw" on the harmonica. When it came time for President Hoover to go to work, she took Bryan's hand in one of hers and the President's in the other and marched them both off to the executive offices.

The President and Mrs. Hoover have remarked that never has Peggy been so quiet as since Untiedt has been a White House guest. They are thinking of keeping him here as a disciplinary measure for Peggy Ann.

While the society columns may never blaze with the culmination of this romance, it is said that young Bryan is considering the possibility of waiting until Peggy grows up before he gets married. He thinks she is the nicest girl he ever saw.

She has been his hostess. After breakfast yesterday she took him out to the White House kennels to feed the dogs. They got to talking about the West, particularly the section of Colorado where Bryan distinguished himself in his efforts to rescue seventeen children snowbound with him in a school bus.

"Wait a minute," he told her. "I have something to show you."

Dashing off upstairs he took from his bag the harmonica he brought along with him from home. He was presented with a dozen harmonicas by the Philadelphia Harmonica Society, but he likes the old one best.

EYE OPERATION ON SIAM'S KING SET FOR MAY 10

To Be Performed at Home of Whitelaw Reid in New York State.

TRIP HERE WILL END AT 10 THIS MORNING

Queen Visits Mount Vernon as His Majesty Goes to Baltimore Clinic.

The King of Siam, who traveled half way round the world for the advice of American doctors, yesterday heard previous diagnoses confirmed and prepared to submit to an operation for removal of a cataract from his left eye.

The operation will be performed in Ophir Hall in Westchester County, New York, the palatial Whitelaw Reid residence, which is the American headquarters of the visiting monarch and his entourage. May 10 has been fixed as a tentative date, but definite determination is to be made later.

The verdict of operation was passed on King Prajadhipok by Dr. William H. Wilmer, of the Wilmer Institute of Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, yesterday.

The king traveled from Washington to Baltimore and returned by automobile, escorted by a squad of motorcycle police, who permitted no hindrance to his journey.

Hour Under Examination.

He was an hour under the critical examination of Dr. Wilmer, who first submitted him to the usual tests of vision and then took him into the dark room for a more minute examination. There is a cataract forming on the king's right eye, but that growth is not progressing to any material degree and it is not now ready to be removed by the surgeon's knife. Removal of the cataract from the left eye is not expected to be difficult, nor to result anywise but happily.

While the king was in Baltimore having his eyes examined, Queen Rambai Barni went to Mount Vernon. She was to have gone there with the king the day before, but physicians forbade the visit and Prince and Princess Svasti, parents of the queen, made the visit instead as the official representatives of their majesties.

The accounts of Mount Vernon given the queen by her father and mother, however, were too much and she confided to Mrs. Hoover and others that she would like to go there herself.

Boat Sequoia Used.

She went, accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, jr., Capt. Russell Train, naval aid to the President, and Col. Campbell Hodges, military aid to the President, and apparently enjoyed herself and thought the visit worth while. The party did not go by automobile, but went on the Sequoia, of the Commerce Department fleet, and thus the queen got her first view of Mount Vernon from the bosom of the Potomac, the most beautiful view.

Returned to their Washington residence, the Larz Anderson home, on Massachusetts avenue, their majesties late in the afternoon received Presi-

NATION'S ILLS ARE REVIEWED BY ROOSEVELT

Republican Party Called Conservative and Reactionary.

NEW YORK GOVERNOR IS SPEAKER AT CLUB

Empire State Is Described as Most Progressive" in Nation.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt described the national Republican administration as "the conservative and reactionary party now in power at Washington" tonight and declared the Democratic party was looked to by the Nation to lead it to "the real government of the people."

The New York Governor stepped momentarily from his executive role to address the Young Men's Democratic Club. With the former governor and presidential candidate at his side, Gov. Roosevelt said that Alfred E. Smith had brought this State to the point of being the "really most progressive State in the Union."

He compared the reorganized State government with the "clogged and creaking, cumbrous wheels of governmental machinery" which he said existed elsewhere, "even in Washington."

Gestures Became Actions.

"It was not until the Democrats were put in control of the executive department of the State that gestures became actions, that platforms became programs to be accomplished instead of honey words for voters," Gov. Roosevelt said, after stating that Republicans had "gestured without conviction" during campaigns.

If the Democratic party were given legislative as well as executive control in the State, Roosevelt said, the "ultimate goal" could be reached. Then he added:

"As in this State, so it is in the Nation—from the conservative and reactionary party now in power at Washington; from the timid councils of the aged; from the selfish grasping of the powerful few who control actions from behind the scenes, the people all over the United States are looking to our party to lead them into the broad road that leads to the real democracy of which our forefathers dreamt—

Lincoln's Plea Is Filed.

"To the real government of the people, by the people and for the people, which Lincoln pleaded for but which his party since has filed in the archives of their past, to be dragged out and quoted for campaign speeches and Memorial Day addresses."

The governor made his address on the eve of his departure for the South, where he proposes to rest for several weeks.

In addition to the governor and former Gov. Smith, the dinner was attended by John J. Curry, Tammany Hall leader. This gave rise to the belief that the meeting afforded an opportunity for the three men privately to compare political notes before the governor left the State.

Gain in Expenditures Blamed on Congress

Chairman Wood, of House Appropriations Committee, Says New Legislation Responsible for Major Portion, in Reply to Borah.

(Associated Press.)

Congress was held responsible yesterday by Chairman Wood, of the House appropriations committee, for a large part of the increase in Government expenditures in recent years.

Replying to a statement of Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, saying a large share of the blame should be placed on the executive branch, Representative Wood contended "the largest part of the increase, aside from the war, lies at the door of new legislation passed by Congress, authorizing or compelling such expenditures, in considerable degree in opposition to the executive."

While noting that Senator Borah supported Mr. Hoover's veto of the recent veterans' loan bill, Representative Wood took the Idahoan to task for advocating other legislation in opposition to the President, which, he contended, would have meant additional governmental expenditures.

"I think," Representative Wood said, "if Senator Borah would examine the authorization bills which have been passed by Congress over the opposition of the Executive, and the legislation which calls for expenditures in excess of that recommended by the Executive, he will find Congress has an infinitely larger responsibility for increased expenditures than he now believes. * * *

"After the bills are passed authorizing Government expenditure, the Executive can do nothing but estimate the additional expenditures involved and budget the expenditures called for by authorization bills. And the vice of this new legislation and increased authorization bills lies in the electorate and special groups in the country in their demands upon Congress.

"If we are to search for responsibility for increases in Government expenditure, we must not neglect the war, which is responsible for fully 40 per cent of the increase in Government expenditure and, on the other hand, we must not deny the responsibility of Congress in yielding to the clamor of groups throughout the country for special legislation, in a large part of which Congress has always exceeded the recommendations of the Executive.

"Everybody knows that every dollar of Federal money expended must first be authorized by Congress."

INVESTMENT TRUST SHARES DEAL LOOMS

Selected Industries Stock Block to Be Acquired by Tricontinental Group.

Shareholders in Washington and vicinity, whose funds are invested to the extent of $10,000,000, are eagerly awaiting further details of a plan announced last night from New York by the Associated Press wherein Tri-Continental Corporation, a management investment trust, is to acquire a substantial stock interest in Selected Industries, Inc., another management investment trust.

Described by a Washington banker as "the biggest transaction of its kind, and the most important to local investment trust shareholders in years," the plan provides for the retirement on May 11, at the annual meeting of the shareholders, of the present management of Selected Industries, Inc., but the banking interests which have sponsored the trust will continue active in its affairs.

Earle Baille, president of Tri-Continental, and Francis F. Randolph, vice president, are expected to become chairman and president, respectively, of Selected Industries, Inc. Both are members of the banking firm of J. & W. Seligman, of New York, sponsors of Tri-Continental.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Plans contemplating the acquisition by Tri-continental Corporation, an investment trust, of a substantial stock interest in Selected Industries, Inc., another trust, were announced here today.

The present management of Selected Industries, Inc., plans to retire at the annual meeting of the stockholders on May 11, but the banking interests which have sponsored the trust will continue active in its affairs.

The board of Selected Industries will recommend to the stockholders at the annual meeting, May 11, approval of a contract making available to that trust the statistical and advisory facilities of Tricontinental. It is contemplated that Tricontinental will acquire a large block of Selected Industries outstanding common and convertible preferred stocks, although this interest will not constitute control. A further agreement between the two companies would give Tricontinental an option to purchase up to 200,000 additional Selected Industries common shares.

Present officers of Selected Industries include R. S. Reynolds, presi-

DEMENT ACQUITTED OF FATAL STABBING

Prince Georges Jury Frees Defendant of Slaying Claude Hughes.

Paul E. Dement, accused of the fatal stabbing of Claude E. Hughes, of Branchville, Md., was freed by a Prince Georges County jury last night after less than 30 minutes deliberation.

Hughes was stabbed near his home on February 23, and died several days later. The attack was the outcome of a fight between the two men over their children. Dement, who is 56, was a neighbor of the slain man.

The trial had lasted all day, the case going to the jury about 6:30. Both sides called relatives of the two men involved, both families having witnessed the scuffle between the two men.

Dement said that he remembered nothing of the stabbing, as he pushed the other man "and then everything went black." Witnesses for the prosecution stated that he had told his son not to take Hughes to the hospital, but to let him bleed to death.

Dement himself was one of the first witnesses put on the stand by J. Wilson Ryon and Albert R. Hassall, who defended him. Apparently under the impression that he was to address the jury, the accused man started a speech as he stepped into the witness box.

During Ryon's examination of his client, State's Attorney Alan Bowie interposed an objection. Turning to him, Dement said, "Please, sir, let me defend myself." The objection was overruled and the questioning proceeded.

Dement appeared dazed as he answered questions, and could not identify the knife shown to him by lawyers. He turned it over in his hand and said: "It looks like mine, but I'm not sure. It might be mine."

A 15-year-old boy, Edward Wentzell, was one of the witnesses called by the defense. He testified to the Young Girl Student Clawed By 'Tame' Lioness in School

Leashed Animal, Becoming Vicious During Exhibition, Attacks 6-Year-Old Spectator Until Beaten Back by Cincinnati Policeman.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 30 (A.P.).—Vivian Leischner, 6, who was slashed about the head and back today by a lioness which was being exhibited at the Whittier School here, was reported by attaches at Good Samaritan Hospital tonight to be doing well. Her condition was not regarded as critical, they said.

The lioness, believed to have been tame, unexpectedly became vicious while leashed to plumbing fixtures in the school hall with two bears, reached out its paw and struck down the little girl. She suffered numerous scalp wounds and scratches on her body, but her face escaped. Physicians said that although there was one severe wound on her scalp, they did not believe her skull had been fractured as was thought at first.

Patrolman Howard McMiller, called to subdue the animal, said he found children screaming and the lioness standing over the prostrate girl and the trainer crouched in a corner holding the bears.

The officer said the beast jumped at him, but he knocked it away with his mace, grabbed the child and took her to a hospital. By the time other police arrived the animals had been taken from the building.

Instructors told police the animals belonged to a man who had given his name as William Harwood and who claimed to own a private zoo at Palo Alto, Calif. Harwood, by permission of the Board of Education, had exhibited the three animals at 50 other greater Cincinnati schools recently.

Detectives were assigned to hunt for Harwood and his charges after board of health veterinarians said they wanted to examine the lioness for rabies. Police said the woman trainer and the animals disappeared after the accident.

2 MEN LOCK UP CLERKS IN LOOT OF POSTOFFICE

Young Bandits Flee With $500, Disregarding Stamp Supply.

CUSTOMER IS FORCED TO WITNESS ROBBERY

Pair Is Hunted for Daylight Holdup of Station in St. James Hotel.

Locking three clerks in a rear room and holding a customer at the points of pistols, two young bandits yesterday afternoon staged a daring daylight holdup at a branch post office station in the old St. James Hotel, Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and escaped with more than $500 in cash.

Entering the office shortly after 4 o'clock, while the clerks were busy at their desks, one of the bandits strode to the counter and engaged Bernard L. Smith, chief clerk, of Arlington, Va., in conversation, while the other remained near the door.

Suddenly the man talking to Smith produced a pistol and ordered the clerk to "Stick 'em up!" At his command, the other clerks, Miss Mary Connor, of 76 K street northwest, and Arthur Kleisath, of 300 F street northwest, looked up from their work. The three were ordered to the rear of the building, where the bandit locked them in a small room.

Patron Made to Hurdle Gate.

Meanwhile, the second bandit walked over to a counter where Perry M. Teeple, of 1731 I street northwest, a civil engineer in the Municipal Architect's office, was filling out a money order blank. Teeple was the only other person in the station, and the bandits had operated so quietly he did not know the holdup was in progress.

Thrusting a gun in Teeple's side, the second man warned him to be quiet. As Teeple turned in surprise, the bandit noticed a sum of money lying on the counter before him, and asked how much was there. When informed there was about $50, the bandit ordered Teeple to get as far as possible in the rear of the building and "stay there."

As Teeple hesitated the bandit jammed the gun in his ribs and ordered him to vault a high gate leading to the postoffice proper.

"I can't jump as high as that," Teeple protested.

"Yes, you can," returned the bandit, pressing his pistol harder against Teeple's back. "Jump!"

Teeple's Money Not Taken.

Teeple obeyed, clearing the gate by several inches, and as he gained the other side the first bandit forced him against the wall, where he was held while the two men rifled a cash drawer. Ransacking the office, they stuffed the currency in their pockets. Several large packages of stamps were disregarded and their loot consisted of postal saving and money order funds and a quantity of cash in a number of drawers behind the counter.

With a final warning to Teeple not to move, the bandits fled, leaving his money on the counter in the front part of the station. Teeple told police that he had more than $100 that he was sending to relatives and tucked it under the corner of a newspaper when the bandit approached him.

When the bandits fled, Teeple ran to the rear of the office and released the clerks. A call to the Postoffice Department brought Postal Inspectors L. A. De Ward and F. B. Talbert to the scene and a check-up was started to determine the exact amount of the loot.

Description of Bandits Broadcast.

A description of the bandits was given to District police and a lookout was broadcast within fifteen minutes after the holdup.

According to Joseph Cash, a guard in the office of public buildings and public parks, two men answering the description of the bandits were seen by him loitering near the postoffice station for more than two hours before the holdup. Both appeared to be very young, he said. One was wearing a light overcoat and cap, while the other wore no coat and had on a dark cap.

SHOUSE HITS HOOVER IN KENTUCKY SPEECH

Democrat Says President "Utterly Misplaced" in White House.

Frankfort, Ky., April 30 (A.P.).—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, attacking the administration of President Hoover in an address here today before the State convention of the Democratic Woman's Club of Kentucky, declared President Hoover "is as utterly misplaced in the White House as any man could be."

"The American people have ceased to give credence to statements issuing from the White House," said Mr. Shouse. "The trouble is President Hoover can't deal with men on a basis of equality, although he does well where he has the authority of a czar."

Mr. Shouse predicted the Democratic party would gain control of both houses of Congress as well as the Presidency in 1932 and said Kentucky had the opportunity "to lead the way this fall for a victory that would provide the basis for from 20 to 30 years of Democratic rule in the Nation."

Departing from his prepared text, Mr. Shouse also discussed the tariff, farm relief, charges he had "smeared Hoover," and prohibition.

Discussing prohibition, Mr. Shouse said: "I hope the Democratic party will have the courage to make a constructive declaration on this vexed problem."

Mr. Shouse criticized President Hoover for what he charged was failure to give Senator Robert Wagner, of New York, credit for employment relief measures introduced by the senator in the last Congress. He predicted the measures would be passed by the Seventy-second Congress "over the President's veto if necessary."

PEGGY ANN HOOVER ADMIRES BUS HERO

You can get more melody in the inbreathing notes, he thinks.

With Peggy Ann and her 4-year-old brother, Herbert 3d, as his sole audience, he played everything he knew. The strains of the doleful cowboy tunes drew the attention of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover who were upstairs. They joined their grandchildren in admiration of the unusual White House musicale.

Peggy is sure Bryan would make a good husband because he loves his mother. She has heard her elders say boys who love their mothers make the best husbands and she must have been impressed when Bryan broke up the musicale after nearly an hour to go downtown to buy a gift for his mother. He took it to the postoffice and mailed it himself.

Writes Letter to Mother.

Before he jumped between the linen sheets of the big four-poster bed in the blue room last night he wrote a long letter to mother, telling her of the wonders of Washington.

His round of sightseeing during the day furnished most of the material for his report, but it is understood Peggy Ann and the President also came in for descriptions.

The morning was occupied with trips to the Smithsonian Institution, the National Museum and the Bureau of Engraving. He likes airplanes and spent much time investigating the first flying ships built by the Wrights and the Spirit of St. Louis in which Charles A. Lindbergh flew to Paris.

The afternoon round took him to Mount Vernon, home of George Washington. He was accompanied on all his tours by Mrs. Stark McMullin, close friend of Mrs. Hoover.

Will Visit Zoo Today.

The Zoo will be visited today. He may leave for home tonight, although the White House denies definite plans have been made concerning his departure. However, some of his activities were denied by White House officials yesterday, although word of them leaked out from responsible sources. A denial was made that he witnessed the medicine ball Cabinet meeting as if he were a State problem.

Officially it also was said that it was not known whether he played the harmonica, although the intimation was drawn that he did. What present he sent to his mother would not be divulged.

The King of Siam was not half so closely guarded as the boy here from the country. His hours of departure and arrival, his sightseeing itinerary, his comments and all trivial details of his visit were kept confidential as state secrets.

Has Secret Service Guard.

Wherever he went a secret service man trotted behind to make sure he was not molested. The President and the king are the only other persons who receive such service.

In keeping with this policy, he may be half way back to Colorado before announcement of his departure is permitted to become public. He was taken privately away from Denver last Sunday and his parents there were still denying he had gone as he was nearing Washington.

In explanation for the extraordinary precautions, White House officials explain that Mr. Hoover does not desire to spoil the lad by too much publicity.

They dined privately in their Washington home and prepared to leave the National Capital today. They are to leave their home at 9:30 o'clock this morning for Union Station. There they will board their special train, which is to leave at 10 o'clock and take them back to Ophir Hall, in New York.

prosperity, and urged a national planning body as the best way out.

Filene Backs Willits' Plan.

Edward A. Filene, Boston financier and philanthropist, agreed with Professor Willits it was unlikely the great majority of business men would voluntarily arrive at unemployment plans. He said business was obligated to care for its employes and urged the necessity of fact finding, saying that the economies which would result would more than care for the unemployed.

Darwin J. Meserole, president of the National Unemployment League of New York, presented a resolution urging an extensive immediate program of public works. It did not go to vote. Harold S. Buttenheim, New York editor, while not specifically approving the resolution, urged the necessity for quick public construction.

At a round table discussion on banking, John W. Pole, comptroller of currency, and Edmund Platt, vice president of the Marine Midland Group, Inc., of New York, advocated a national banking system that would disregard the extension of branch banking beyond State lines, while Oscar Well, chairman of the First National Bank of Birmingham, Ala., expressed doubt as to the desirability of such a plan.

Watch on Problems Urged.

Alton N. Moore, a San Francisco business man, held that banking and industry should watch banking problems, not leaving their solution solely to bankers and legislators.

A proposal that the chamber consider the small loan situation, which has a total annual volume of about $3,000,000, was offered by Dr. Frank Parker, professor of finance at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, Philadelphia.

At the foreign trade round table, Jacob H. Hollander, professor of political economy at Johns Hopkins University, urged the necessity of an international conference on silver. He said the silver problem was heavily responsible for world depression and held that only by a world conference could it be solved.

Presses for Foreign Trade.

Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines Corporation, New York, disagreed with business men who reason the United States can not compete in world markets and should cultivate domestic markets. He held that business is confronted with substantially the same obstacles at home as abroad.

The United States, he said, has made "a good start" in international commerce and should utilize its highly developed advertising methods at home to sell its products in foreign markets.

Leslie E. Freeman, of New York, for eleven years national councilor of the American Chamber of Commerce for Brazil, addressing a dinner meeting of the chamber, said there were many instances where foreign governments had requested the point of view of the American Chamber of Commerce before enacting laws which would affect American economic interests.

He called the 37 American Chambers of Commerce abroad and the 20 in the noncontinguous territories and possessions of the United States promoters of American foreign trade.

dent, and C. K. Reynolds, vice president.

"When the present officers accepted their positions," said R. S. Reynolds, "it was contemplated that a purpose of the corporation would be to acquire substantial interests in related businesses offering attractive possibilities. Conditions of the last two years, as well as conditions now existing, were not and are not propitious for such investments. Under these conditions the present management, who are all industrialists, have decided not to stand for reelection, but they are retaining a substantial stock interest in the company."

The banking sponsors of Selected Industries comprises Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc., Charles D. Barney & Co., Lehman Brothers, Brown Brothers-Harriman & Co., with Kidder Peabody & Co., all of which are represented on the board, and will not part with any of their stock holdings. John W. Hanes of the Barney firm, will become chairman of the executive committee.

Selected Industries, Inc., was formed in 1928. President Reynolds is also president of Reynolds Metals Co., U. S. Foil Co. and Eskimo Pie Corporation, and is a director of Southern Railway.

One of its outstanding transactions was purchase of control of Kraft Phenix Cheese Co., which was in turn sold to National Dairy. The company also held, according to its December 31 statement, large blocks of Missouri - Kansas - Texas Railroad, Chesapeake & Ohio, P. Lorillard Co. and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Its total assets on January 22 were more than $76,000,000, which included investments costing $66,275,000. The market value of these holdings at that time was slightly less than $50,000,000.

Tri-Continental, formed in January, 1929, had assets of $77,856,000 as of March 31, which included investments of $60,349,905 carried at cost. Their market value was slightly under $52,000,000. Six of the sixteen directors are partners in the Seligman firm. Others include C. E. E. Groesbeck, president of Electric Bond & Share, and A. H. Wiggin, chairman of Chase National Bank. Its investment portfolio is widely diversified.

DO-X Will Leave Today On South American Hop

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, April 30 (A.P.).—The commander of the German seaplane DO-X announced tonight that he planned to leave on a flight to South America tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock (4 a. m., E. S. T.)."

The crew, he said, will be transferred to Gando Bay three hours earlier to prepare for the departure.

Jewels Taken From Apartment.

Miss Helen Noyes reported to police that her apartment at 1417 Newton street northwest was entered between 9:30 a. m. and 3 p. m. yesterday and $280 in jewelry stolen. Among the missing articles, she said, were four rings, a breastpin and a watch.

150 DEAD, 300 HURT BY PLANT EXPLOSION an recognized the decapitated body of her husband by the wedding ring.

The police found it difficult to restrain the crowds.

All theaters and amusement places in Nictheroy were closed tonight. The city was in mourning.

Almost every one of the 1,500 persons working at the plant suffered some injury. Many were gravely hurt.

Fire spread rapidly through the naval plant following the explosion. It spread to the surroundnig district before it was placed under control.

Several fire department units fighting the flames aided also in rescue work. Hundreds of persons were enlisted in the emergency in an effort to remove bodies. The police placed heavy guards in the wrecked plant and vicinity.

The naval plant includes an experimental laboratory. The torpedo exploded in that section of the building. It was believed most of the persons in the room were killed instantly.

The authorities believed workmen set fire to the torpedo.

Windows for blocks were shattered by the force of the explosion. Many houses in the "model home" section of Nictheroy were damaged, some catching fire from the plant.

The damage was estimated at $500,000. An investigation was ordered.

Nictheroy is a suburb of Rio de Janeiro, about 5 miles outside the capital, on the east shore of the Bay of Rio de Janeiro. It has a population of about 100,000.

One woman went insane at the sight of the battered body of her son, removed from the ruins of the chemical plant. The minister of marine, Admiral Heck, who supervised the gruesome rescue work all day, broke into tears when the badly mangled youth was extricated, still alive.

A group of 150 workmen in the building was saved by the fact that they had left the plant shortly before the explosion. They had been ordered elsewhere by the superintendent, who himself escaped. He left to visit a physician to receive an injection against fever.

Police and marines maintained a heavy guard around the wrecked plant. They admitted only relatives. Mothers, wives and sisters searched the debris, dug frantically into the ruins with their bare hands seeking their men.

Baltimore Party Excavates Ruins

Baltimore, April 30 (U.P.).—Ancient coins in the mouths of buried children, designed to pay their souls' fares across the dread River Styx, and terra-cotta figures "as beautiful as Tanagra" have been found by a Baltimore archeologist in a Grecian city destroyed 26 centuries ago.

Prof. David Moore Robinson, of Johns Hopkins University, heading an expedition of students, has written to friends here of discoveries in excavating the ruins of Olynthus, destroyed by Philip of Macedonia and his legion in the fourth century before Christ.

Robinson expects to bring back some of the coins designed by the ancients to pay the ferryman of the river of death to the university for exhibition and teaching.

MONTGOMERY COURT SHORTAGE IS $12,865

State Comptroller Announces Result of Audit; County Funds Not Affected.

Shortages of $12,865.77 were found by the audit of the books of the late Preston B. Ray, clerk of the Montgomery County Circuit Court, it was announced yesterday by State Comptroller William S. Gordy at his office in Baltimore. The shortages were revealed in an audit which began ten days before the death of Mr. Ray, who was found in the gas-filled kitchen of his home in Rockville April 15. A coffee pot and a burnt match gave credence to the theory that he had died of a heart attack while preparing coffee.

Mr. Gordy said shortages occurred in three places; the first was $5,400 paid to Mr. Ray by the county treasurer's office as a recording fee for the deed to each of the parcels of property sold at the county tax sale, at $3 a parcel. These payments were never recorded in the receipt books for incoming fees of the clerk's office.

Working Balance Involved.

A $1,500 working balance which had been authorized kept on hand also is involved. The remainder of the funds short are in different fee accounts as shown on the receipt books of the office and checked back against the cash standing to Mr. Ray's credit.

It was Mr. Ray's practice to deposit all of the receipts of the office in his personal bank account and the balance in that account now stands at some $1,200, the total of which has been claimed by the State. Funds of the county were not involved in the shortage, it was said.

Mr. Gordy declared yesterday that on two separate occasions in recent years he had directed Mr. Ray to discontinue the practice of depositing the fees of his office to his personal account.

These instructions were not carried out, the audit shows. The audit of the fee collection books was to begin the day after the death of Mr. Ray, according to Mr. Gordy. The funds involved are protected by bonds.

Estate to Assume Obligation.

William F. Prettyman, attorney for Mrs. Nancy Ray, widow of Mr. Ray, said yesterday that the head clerk's estate would be applied to making good the account. He said that he did not know at present whether or not here would be sufficient funds to cover the deficit.

Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners, last night issued a statement in which he said that he felt he could safely say that the county had not lost a cent through the shortages in the office of Mr. Ray.

The shortage in Mr. Ray's office was the third in the past ten years discovered in the courthouse. The first was in the accounts of Clinton Allnutt, register of wills, and amounted to $8,500, which was made good by his family. The second shortage was in the accounts of Perrie Waters, who succeeded Mr. Allnutt, who was short a little more than $2,000, which also was made up by his family.

Carr Estate Nets $12,000 at Auction

George Washington University to Benefit From Sale at Moorefield.

Property of the late Mrs. Emma K. Carr, who left the bulk of her estate to George Washington University, was sold at auction yesterday in Moorefield, W. Va., for approximately $12,000. A former resident of Washington, Mrs. Carr had lived at Moorefield several years before her death.

Personal property netted about $800. The residence at Moorefield sold for $6,500 and was bought by Dr. Justice Harmon. The tenant house and lot adjoining the residence were bought by Hugh Bean for $1,400. A lot on Town Run was sold to G. R. Miley for $75 and a tract of timber land 6 miles southeast of the town was sold to Hugh Bean for $1,300. A farm on the State road on the South Branch Valley River sold to Ott Fisher for $1,640.

The sale was conducted under direction of Attorney Tracey L. Jeffords, executor, of Washington, and attracted a large crowd.

POLICEMAN WHO SAW LINGLE DIE IS KILLED

pursued for some distance a man who fled the tunnel, and later identified Frankie Foster as the man.

However, when called as a witness in the trial of Brothers, Ruthy said he actually pursued "a vision" instead of Foster. His credibility as a witness thus was nullified. He had been off traffic duty during the Lingle investigation, but was reassigned to the corner after Brothers was convicted.

Six in Lingle Case Slain.

By a remarkable coincidence, the slaying tonight of Patrolman Ruthy marked the sixth instance in which violent death has visited persons prominently identified with the case growing out of the murder of Alfred Lingle last June.

Jack Zuta, suspected of having ordered the execution of Lingle, was trapped in a Delafield, Wis., resort and shot down by gang gunners.

Dominic Aiella, head of the Aiello-Moran gang, also thought to have had a hand in the Lingle killing, was cut down by machine gun fire as he emerged from an apartment of a friend here.

Patsy Tardi, Zuta gunman, once sought as the killer, met death by gang bullets on a West Side street.

Frank Mario, member of the Zuta combine thought to have planned the Lingle execution, was assassinated in New York.

Benny Butler, Chicago beer runner and Pal of Leo Brothers, tapping of whose telephone wires led to the arrest of the St. Louis gunman, was killed in an automobile crash here Monday night.

fight to the President until such time as a direct and specific issue is joined in a particular case, Miss McNally said.

Neither will the new personnel council created a few days ago by President Hoover take a hand in the matter, Thomas E. Campbell, head of the Civil Service Commission and chairman of the council, said.

The matter, Mr. Campbell said, was one for the individual action of the various department heads, and though the question of policy perforce centered in the person of the President, so far as he knew there was no new policy adopted by the Government as a whole contrary to the President's efforts to get Congress to approve increased appropriations for salaries.

Mr. Campbell definitely removed his council as a factor in such personnel problems, declaring that it had not even been adequately organized and probably would have nothing to say for nine months or a year. He emphasized that he spoke only for himself and did not pretend to represent the President or the council.

Senator Brookhart (Republican), of Iowa, who has been active in his interest in legislation affecting Government employes, took notice of the "no raise" decision and announced his purpose to get more definite information looking to action which would support the expressed intent of Congress in passing on the last appropriation bills that raises should be given eligible employes.

Sale of Virginian Railway Is Denied

Controlling Factors Have Not Been Approached, Hix Declares.

Norfolk, Va., April 30 (A.P.).—The Virginian Railway is not for sale and the controlling factors, including the Rogers heirs, have not been approached on the subject of disposing of their interests, President C. H. Hix said here in discussing reports that the Pennsylvania and Van Sweringen interests have agreed upon a plan to divide control of the line.

"If there has been any agreement to share the Virginian with any other system, the owners have not been consulted," Mr. Hix said, "and I have been so informed by the controlling interests. Besides, I do not believe the Interstate Commerce Commission would authorize the joinit ownership suggested in the newspapers, nor do we believe that the arrangements could be accomplished under the present constituiton and statutory laws of Virginia."

Medical Science Declared Failure

Baltimore Physician Hits High Death Rate and Infant Mortality.

Chestertown, Md., April 30 (A.P.).—American medical science was called a "dismal failure, despite spasmodic achievements," by Dr. William H. Pearce, of Baltimore, in an address at Washington College here today.

He quoted Dr. J. B. S. Haldane, British scientist, as authority for a statement that the death rate for Americans from 30 upward had been increasing steadily, and blamed the development of "medical science" at the expense of "medical art" as the cause. America, he said, ranks twentieth among civilized nations in infant mortality, and added that midwives had a smaller percentage of death charged to them than did physicians.

"Recently I made a survey of the alumni of Johns Hopkins University Medical School residing in Baltimore, with the idea of ascertaining their contribution to community needs," Dr. Pearce said.

"We found there are 320 alumni of Johns Hopkins, less than 2 per cent of whom are engaged in general practice. The rest are specialists. The committee on cost of medical care estimates that 75 per cent of all physicians should be general practitioners. Many other medical leaders say the percentage should be from 85 to 90 in general practice.

Alexandria Woman Is Chosen by Guild

Needlework Group Names Mrs. Reba B. Smith as Vice President.

Philadelphia, April 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, jr., Princeton, N. J., the widow of President Grover Cleveland, today was reelected national president of the Needlework Guild of America, at the opening of the annual three-day meeting.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Clement B. Webster, Philadelphia, first vice president; Mrs. Reba Barrett Smith, Alexandria, Va., second vice president; Mrs. Burnham S. Colburn, Biltmore, N. C., third vice president; Mrs. Florence Moore Kreider, Los Angeles, fourth vice president.

Mayor Harry A. Mackey, of Philadelphia, extended greetings to the delegates and thanked members of the Philadelphia branch for their aid in assisting the unemployed.

Veteran Must Die For Killing Autoist

Maryland Appeals Court Upholds Sentence of Death to Price.

Annapolis, Md., April 30 (A.P.).—Lorenzo Price, crippled Negro war veteran, must hang for the murder more than a year ago of Reuben Heyman, the Court of Appeals ruled today.

All the nine judges of the court concurred in affirming the conviction of murder and the sentence to hang imposed on him in the Towson Circuit Court.

Price walked up to an automobile parked in Druid Hill Park and held up Heyman and a girl companion, forced the man to drive to a deserted road, and there shot Heyman and assaulted the girl.

He was captured the next day after an exchange of shots with a patrolman, in which Price was wounded.

Three Bandits Escape With $3,299 Pay Roll

New Haven, April 30 (A.P.).—Three gunmen late today held up three girl cashiers, the manager and a salesman in the D. & I. Shirt Factory and after clipping the telephone wires escaped with the company's pay roll of $3,299.85.

SEASONAL INCREASE IN TRADE REPORTED

Fifth Federal Reserve Area Also Shows Rise in Bank Deposits.

Richmond, Va., April 30 (A.P.).—Seasonal increase over February trade was noted in some lines during March by William W. Hoxton, chairman and Federal Reserve agent at the Bank of Richmond, in his April review of credit, business and agricultural conditions throughout the Fifth Federal Reserve District during the month of March, released here today.

He added, however, that while seasonal increase was noted in some lines, developments in others during the month were disappointing.

Deposits in reporting member banks increased during the month, both demand and time deposits registering gains. But at the same time, Mr. Hoxton said, the member banks failed to increase their agricultural loans as they usually do at this season.

Deposits Are Higher.

At the end of March, 1931, total deposits in 12 mutual savings banks in Baltimore were at the highest figure on record, and time deposits on April 15 in reporting member banks in the Fifth District were considerably above time deposits a year ago.

Debits to individual accounts figures, representing payments by check, were seasonally larger during the five weeks ended April 15, 1931, than during the preceding five weeks, ended March 11, but were 15 per cent less than debits in the corresponding five weeks in 1930. The market decrease in debits this year was attributed in part to lower price levels, but the review asserted that lower income tax payments this year probably accounted for some of the decline.

Business failures in the Fifth District in March were more numerous than in any other March since 1922, Mr. Hoxton said, reporting aggregate liabilities involved in the month's insolvencies to be exceptionally high. He said that in comparison with the bankruptcy record of March, 1930, the March, 1931, record for the Fifth District was worse than the national record.

Coal Production Less.

Labor conditions were reported as showing little if any improvement in March, although there was some increase in such work as painting, gardening, &c.

Coal production continued in less volume than a year ago, and West Virginia remained below Pennsylvania in output. The textile industry reported slight improvement. Cotton consumption in Fifth District mills showed more than a seasonal rise in March, but still was below the consumption of March last year. However, the percentage of national consumption attained by Fifth District mills was higher in March than in the corresponding month last year.

Retail trade as reflected by department store sales rose 6 per cent in March in comparison with the trade of March, 1930, but most of the increase was attributed to the earlier date of Easter.

Building permits issued in leading cities of the district in March provided for only a little over half as much work as was provided for in March, 1930, permits, and contract award figures for March this year were also materially lower than those for the corresponding month a year ago.

threats made by the dead man and to the location of the fight. Attorney Leroy Pumphrey, assisting in the prosecution, then put only one question in the cross-examination, eliciting the fact that the boy had been to the scene the day before the trial and had talked to persons there about the stabbing.

The courtroom was quiet as the jury announced its verdict, but Dement said aloud, "God bless you." While the roll of the jury was bringing a series of "not guilty" answers, he repeated, "It's a just verdict." As the court adjourned he was embraced by his sobbing wife.

Dement must still face a damage suit for $5,000 brought against him while he was in jail. It was instituted by Elizabeth A. Thomas, of 3928 Military road, and asks damages for personal injuries and property damage suffered in an auto collision last year. John S. White is atttorney for the woman.

The jury which freed the accused man was composed of James B. Bland, foreman; J. Wilson Rawlings, Marcellus Buckler, James Prout, Charles Binger, Howard M. Perrie, W. A. Gallahan, Rudolph Entzian, Charles N. Brown, P. E. Clark, William H. Brooke and William Richards.

Aviators Prepare For World Flight

Pangborn and Herndon Hop to Florida on Training Trip for Event.

Miami, Fla., April 30 (A.P.).—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., who plan to make a world-circling airplane trip soon, landed here today after a flight down the Florida coast from Jacksonville on a leisurely training cruise from New York to Porto Rico.

They were accompanied by Capt. Lewis A. Yancey, who once flew from New York to Rome. He is teaching Herndon advanced navigation on the trip, in preparation for the proposed world flight.

The fliers decided to remain in Miami overnight before continuing on to San Juan, Porto Rico. They said they would leave early tomorrow, proceding either by way of Havana or Camaguey, Cuba. They will stay in San Juan a day or so before starting the return flight to New York.

SCHOOLS IN FAIRFAX PLAN MAY DAY RITES

Parents of Pupils Are Invited to Visit Classrooms During Morning.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

May Day will be observed by all the schools in Fairfax County today as "Child Health and Patrons Day," Divisional Superintendent of Schools W. T. Woodson, of Fairfax, has instructed teachers to prepare elaborate programs for the day. During the morning session parents of the pupils have been invited to visit the schools and view classes at work.

In the afternoon the health features will be illustrated with playlets, and there will be May dances and games. In order to stress the health feature of the day teachers have been urged to impress the importance of the five-point health program. To the school having the highest percentage of five-point pupils a large banner will be presented. It is estimated that 500 boys and girls will receive the five-point health certificates showing they have met the State Health Department's requirements in regard to weight, sight, hearing, teeth and throat.

The faculty of the Baileys Cross Roads School has planned an unusual program for the day. The exercises will begin at 10:40 o'clock with athletic contests on the campus. This will include high jumps, broad jumps, running and standing; 50-yard dash, races for the first and second grades, three-legged races for the third and fourth grades, potato races for the girls of grades five, six and seven, basket ball goal throwing and basket ball distance throwing, the last two classes for both boys and girls.

At 11:40 o'clock there will be a musical comedy in the auditorium, directed by Miss Barnie Jarrett. The players will be Irene Daniels, Dora Cleveland, Dorothy Dean, Helen Oliver, Leonard Alward, Elizabeth Sweeney, Helen Dove, Dick Purdy, Jimmy Hardin, Charlotte Athey, John Lowman, Elizabeth Klein, Jean Parsons, Dorothy Gorham, Richard Oliver, Irvin Payne and Wilson Rowe.

At 12:15 ribbon prizes will be awarded to winners in the athletic events and the five-point health certificates given out. A picnic lunch for parents and pupils will be eaten on the grounds. The May court procession will form on the grounds at 12.45, led by Beulah Bell as the May queen with Peggy Rowe and Belle Hoffman as flower girls and Betty Gordon and Ruth Harlow as train bearers. The crown will be offered by Paul Rowles and Burton Cleveland. This is directed by Miss Margaret Pugh.

The health court, directed by Miss Jarrett, has Athey Duvall, George Hoffman, Hunton Oliver, Jimmie Hardin, John Lowman, Elizabeth Klein, Charlotte Athey, Dora Cleveland, Helen Daniels, Dorothy Dean, Mildred Runyon, Helen Oliver, Helen Lacey, Virginia Taylor, Walter Taylor, Buck Payne, Myrtle Oliver, Leonard Alward, Helen Oliver, Jimmie Parsons and Irving Payne.

The program closes with a Kinder Polka by pupils of the second grade, Farmers in the Dell by the first grade, both directed by Miss Frances Hurst.

Work on widening the one-way bridge at Colvin Run on the Leesburg Pike was started yesterday. This bridge has been the scene of at least eight serious automobile accidents within the last two months and with the completion of the hard surfacing of the upper end Leesburg Pike traffic on this road has increased.

The Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce and citizens of the Colvin Run community have waged a campaign for widening of the bridge, and yesterday were rewarded for their work, when workmen from the State Highway Commission, acting under direct orders from Chairman H. G. Shirley, started work to widen the bridge.

Representative-elect Howard W. Smith, of Alexandria, has been named permanent chairman of the Bicentennial coordinating committee of northern Virginia. Henry C. Morris, of Aurora Heights, was elected vice chairman; Guy N. Church, of Falls Church, treasurer, and W. L. Bragg, of Clarendon, secretary. As Morris was not a member of the Arlington County committee he was appointed by Mayor L. P. Daniel as a member of the Falls Church town committee in order to be eligible to office. During the election and discussion Capt. Thurlow White, of Fairfax County, presided as temporary chairman.

The executive committee adopted a resolution whereby it can enlarge the list of committees if deemed expedient at any later date, the appointment to each committee to be made by the locality involved. A system of voting by units was also adopted, so that each delegation casts one ballot on each question.

J. Barton Phillips, of Alexandria, announced he had selected the personnel to represent Alexandria, but had not assigned each to his proper committee. Capt. White announced the personnel of the Fairfax County committee as follows: Executive and finance, John W. Brookfield; planting and beautification, Mrs. Amos Chilcott; clean-up, H. B. Derr; housing and subsistence, Mrs. G. Ashley Money; publicity and advertising, E. H. Allen; first aid and comfort, Mrs. Herbert Seamans; general information, Capt. Thurlow White; history and celebrations, Miss Ludema Sayre; officials and legislation, Wilson M. Farr; routes and guides, Martin T. Webb; Girl and Boy Scouts, Vernon Gowin.

APPRAISER NAMED FOR CAPITAL PARK

Curtis Walker Will Act for Montgomery and Prince Georges.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4208.

Appointment of Curtis Walker, of Chevy Chase, Md., to be appraisal engineer of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission was announced yesterday by Irvin Owings, chairman of the commission. Mr. Walker will act in conjunction with an official to be appointed by the Federal Government to appraise all land the park and planning commission wishes to acquire in Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties for the extension of the park system of the National Capital into Maryland.

He also will act in the negotiations for the purchase of the lands needed for the parks under the terms of the Cramton Act passed at the last session of Congress.

Mr. Walker has had wide experience in the real estate business in Washington and nearby, and has had a great deal of experience in appraising all types of properties in Washington, Virginia and Maryland. He has appraised for such well known concerns as the Prudential Building Association, the Riggs National Bank, the Silver Spring National Bank and other individuals and firms.

Mr. Walker is severing his connection with the North Washington Realty Company, where he has been vice president and treasurer for the past three years. Prior to that time he was in business for himself, specializing in Washington business properties and in properties and acreage in the sections adjacent to the National Capital. He negotiated the sale of a number of large tracts in Montgomery County, and assembled for the Army and Navy Country Club the 200 acres in Arlington County, Va., which is now club property.

Mr. Walker is a director and appraiser for the Prudential Building Association, a director of the Silver Spring National Bank, a director of the Title & Investment Co. and a director of the Maryland Publishing Co. He is secretary of the citizens' committee of section 2, Chevy Chase, in which comunity he makes his home. His father, John C. Walker, is president of the Chevy Chase Savings Bank.

The Montgomery County Commissioners yesterday in special session authorized the issuance of two sets of certificates of indebtedness totaling $125,000. The certificates are to be sold to the Annapolis Trust Co., which has offered a twelve-month loan at the rate of 3 per cent annual interest.

The first issue is to the amount of $25,000 and is to provide funds for the carrying on of certain street improvements in the suburban sections of the county. The certificates are to be paid for out of front foot benefit assessments against the abbutting property which is benefited.

Streets involved are Park Crest drive, Wessex road, Sussex road and Midhurst road in Sligor Park Hills in the Silver Spring suburban area, and Elm, Bethesda, Reed and Arlington streets in Bethesda suburban area.

The second series, totaling $100,000, is issued under authority of chapter 192, acts of 1931, creating what is known in the act as a revolving fund. This is an emergency act and provides for the refunding of certain items which are necessary prior to passage of this act. These certificates are to be retired out of a subsequent bond issue. The principal deficit to be cared for is one of approximately $50,000 for the police department. The intent at the time of the creation of the county police was to retain motor vehicle violation fines in the county treasury, but this later was disapproved and these funds must be sent to the commissioner of motor vehicles in Baltimore. The deficit must be made up.

More than 6,000 children are expected to participate in the annual field day program of the Montgomery County Schools tomorrow at the Rockville Fair Grounds. Every school in the county, except two, has entered contestants in the events. The events will be under the supervision of the Maryland Playground Association.

The schools of the county have been arranged in five groups as follows: Group A, one and two room schools; group B, smaller graded; 3, 4 or 5 teacher, elementary; group C, larger graded, 6 teachers and above, elementary; grade D, junior high schools; grade E, senior high schools.

Pupils will compete only with pupils of the same group. This arrangement in effect provides for the carrying on of five separate meets on the same day. Five sets of medals will be given, a complete set going to each group winner.

The activities will begin at 9 o'clock and will be played according to a time schedule. The schedule will provide for completion of events in the younger classes early in the day. The older events will be held in the afternoon.

Festival Planned In Fredericksburg

Civic Groups Will Combine With City in Observing Bicentennial.

Special to The Washington Post.

Fredericksburg, Va., April 30.—A decision to stage a general community celebration, which will be Fredericksburg's contribution in the Nation-wide observance of the Bicentennial of George Washington's birth, was reached here last night at a joint meeting of 21 committees representing the municipality and civic, fraternal, historical and patriotic organizations.

Assembling with an official committee appointed by the Common Council to make arrangements for local participation in the 1932 bicentennial, the representatives advised the formation of a steering committee with Mayor Jere M. H. Willis at its head. The official committee includes besides the mayor City Manager L. J. Houston, jr., and W. A. Bell, chairman of the council's public interest committee.

C. A. Bryan, of the George Washington Bicentennial News, outlined the character of the celebration. Other addresses were made by Herbert Ellis, City Manager L. J. Houston, Roger L. Clarke, president of the Chamber of Commerce; W. A. Jackson, Judge A. T. Embrey, Chester B. Goolrick, Mrs. H. H. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Chewning, W. A. Bell and Dr. S. L. Scott.

Another Collects $5,900 Race Prize

Baltimore Man Who Lost Stub Finds He Dreamed of Wealth in Vain.

Baltimore, Md., April 30 (A.P.).—Bad luck pursued Peter Balko, the laborer who mislaid what he was sure was a $5,900 ticket on the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes, to the bitter end today. His attorneys were notified by cable that the sum, representing a consolation prize, had been paid to James Gorman, mate on a steamship plying to Baltimore.

Balko paid $2.50 for a ticket on the sweepstakes. After the race he was informed that the holder of a ticket who gave the name of "Baltimore Balko" had won $5,900. Balko, overjoyed, searched frantically for his stub and could find no trace of it. But he retained lawyers and they told him he might be able to collect anyhow.

Then Gorman arrived on his ship and announced he was the real "Baltimore Balko." He said he devised the pseudonym from the name of a race horse.

UNITED DAUGHTERS MEET AT MANASSAS

31 Chapters of Confederate Order Hold Reception; Convention Opens.

Special to The Washington Post.

Manassas, Va., April 30.—Thirty-one chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy from the fourth Virginia district were represented at the historical meeting and reception held tonight in connection with the fourth district annual convention, which is holding a two-day meeting here.

The program was in the hands of Manassas Chapter, and Mrs. C. A. Sinclair, president, presided, while the Rev. Westwood Hutchison, a Prince William Confederate veteran, was master of ceremonies.

A welcome speech was made by Mayor Harry P. Davis, after which musical numbers were given, several readings, and ensemble singing of Southern melodies was led by Mrs. Stewart Pattie, with Miss Virginia Nelson Speiden at the piano. Mrs. C. A. Sinclair introduced Mrs. B. F. Calfee, of Culpeper Chapter, who is fourth district chairman, who in turn introduced Mrs. Charles Bolling, of Richmond, State U. D. C. president.

Business sessions will feature tomorrow's meetings and fourth district officers will be elected for the ensuing year. In the afternoon a pilgrimage will be made to the fields on which the first and second battles of Manassas were fought. This feature will be under the direction of Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Robert Hutchison and Mrs. Albert Speiden, while the transportation will be furnished by a committe under the guidance of Mrs. C. B. Compton.

Freak Arrested As Wife Deserter

Man With "Rotating Head" Taken in Baltimore on New York Complaint.

Baltimore, Md., April 30 (A.P.).—Martin Laurello's odd job made it comparatively simple for Baltimore police to find him when a telegram arrived from New York asking his arrest on a charge of abandoning his wife.

Laurello, said the telegram, was 42 years old, and "has a rotating head." Two detectives started a round of carnivals and dime museums. At a tent show Laurello was found.

He was standing up on platform with his back to the crowd, looking right at his audience. He could do that because he could roll his head around as though it were on ball bearings. He was held under $500 bond.

NEW QUAKES ROCK DEVASTATED AREA

Fear Rises That Death Toll in Central Russia May Exceed 500 Estimate.

Moscow, April 30 (A.P.).—Further earthquakes in the Soviet republic of Azerbaijan, in Transcaucasia, today caused fears that the total number of deaths in the wide-spread disturbances, which started Monday may mount to more than 500, already unofficially estimated.

More than 2,000 persons were injured in the original quake Monday, which wrought great damage in the Soviet southern Transcaucasian sections of the union, and was felt most severely in Armenia. Today's renewal of shocks occurred in the Zanguesur district of Azerbaijan.

Great suffering is reported in many sections, and in some places residents have deserted their stricken villages and are living in the open. All communication was disrupted at certain points, and authorities are having difficulty determining the exact number of casualties.

The government has started relief work and provided 500,000 rubles (about $250,000) for immediate use among the sufferers. Food and medical supplies are being rushed to devastated areas, where hospital shelters are being erected to care for the most seriously injured.

While no definite estimate of the amount of damage has been made, it is certain to run well over $1,000,000. The larger newspapers are contributing to the relief fund which the government is planning to use in the stricken sections.

In Armenia the shocks were most severe in the southwest, near Nakhichevan, where the inhabitants were further terrified by subterranean rumblings.

Thousands of peasants saw their homes crumble before their eyes in the Kafance district, and nine villages were laid waste in the Gerusin district. The number of dead in the latter section and at Sisian was particularly large.

At certain points the misery of the refugees was increased by a drenching rainfall.

Youth Held After Child Dies at Baseball Game

Three-year-old Ursula Thompson, colored, died almost instantly yesterday after a colored youth, playing baseball with a group of others in Ward Court northwest near the child's home, flung the bat from him after striking the ball. An Emergency Hospital ambulance surgeon who responded, said he found no marks on the child's body and offered the theory that she may have succumbed to fright.

Herbert Green, 21, colored, who swung the bat, told police that he thought it struck the girl. He was taken to the Third Precinct station to be held for investigation pending action by the coroner on the cause of death.

Illinois Society Holds Last Meeting of Year

The last meeting of the season of the Illinois State Society was held last night at the Willard Hotel, with more than 300 members and guests present.

The principal entertainment feature was a quartet composed of George Goodwin, Ben Thomasen, Paul Fox and W. Cameron Burton, and their offerings were enthusiastically received. Judge T. S. Williams, president of the organization, was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Orrel I. Ellis and Mrs. Carl I. Chindblom.

Father and 8 Children Stricken by Mastoiditis

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Within six days a father and his eight children have been taken to Southside Hospital in Bay Shore, Long Island, suffering from acute purulent mastoiditis. All are in serious condition.

The father, Valentine Minder, a fireman, a chronic sufferer, was stricken first. The children, all of whom had measles earlier in the month, followed at intervals.

Mrs. Charles H. Sabin Undergoes Operation

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, president of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, was reported resting comfortably in Doctors' Hospital today after a mastoid operation.

Man Admits Killing Wife and Daughter

Anesthetic Death Method in Estrangement Slayings.

San Francisco, April 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Florence Buttusil, 38, and her 9-year-old daughter, Angie, were killed here today by the husband and father, Joseph Buttusil, an electrician, who confessed, police said, he slew them by administering an anesthetic.

Buttusil told police he went to his estranged wife's home and when she refused to become reconciled, seized her and applied an anesthetic-soaked cotton pack to her face. Neighbors heard quarreling and called police.

While en route to police station Buttusil said:

'By the way, I killed my daughter, too." He said he had called for the girl at her school and took her to his apartment. Police went to the place and found the body.

Arkansas Republicans Propose Radio Station

Little Rock, Ark., April 30 (A.P.).—Arkansas Republicans today offered to construct a radio station here to aid the 1932 presidential campaign in the South.

Osro Cobb, secretary of the Republican State committee, announced the offer after a conference of Republican leaders held here with former Representative Franklin W. Fort, of New Jersey. They asked Mr. Fort to offer President Hoover the radio station for the broadcasting of information and speeches.

It would cost $2,250 to send postcards to all the readers that can be reached any morning by Post Classified Ads.

CASSIDAY'S FIGHT TO EVADE JAIL LOST

Court of Appeals Confirms Conviction of Man in Green Hat.

George L. Cassiday, the man who went on to national prominence under the sobriquet of "The Man in the Green Hat," was committed to jail late yesterday when the District Court of Appeals refused to stay its mandate confirming his conviction in the District Supreme Court of violating the national prohibition act.

Cassiday's bootlegging activities in and about the Capitol itself, and the adjacent House and Senate Office Buildings, brought him to the fore, and in a series of articles published in The Post he detailed his operations.

Cassiday still has the remote hope that the Supreme Court will review his conviction. The writ of certiorari granted him by the District Court of Appeals last month means that there is some possibility he will get a review, though the Supreme Court may refuse to give him a hearing.

Cassiday will have to serve 18 months, less time off for good behavior. He was convicted of transportation and possession of liquor. His machine was seized by police just outside the House Office Building, and a search of it led to the discovery of liquor. The case was bitterly fought in the District Supreme Court when Cassiday claimed illegal search and seizure.

Richard Ware, Writer On Child Labor, Is Dead

Boston, April 30 (A.P.).—Richard D. Ware, lawyer and writer, died last night at Baker Memorial Hospital. He was born in Marblehead May 26, 1869. Retiring from 20 years active legal practice, he went to Amherst, N. H., in 1913 and devoted much of his time to writing, working against ratification of the proposed child labor amendment to the Federal Constitution.

He published works that included "Politics Adjourned," "Politcs Regained," and "The Constitutionalist," in opposition to the eighteenth amendment on purely legal grounds. To the latter, several widely known antiprohibitionists contributed.

Dedham, Mass., April 30 (A.P.).—Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, wartime commander of the Twenty-sixth Division, left an estate valued at $153,843. An inventory was filed with the Probate Court today.

The personal property included 1,110 shares of preferred stock of William Edwards Co., of Cleveland, a wholesale grocery firm once conducted by his father. The value of the stock was listed at $83,250.

Representative Hull's Wife Succumbs in West

San Francisco, April 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Katherine Bingham Hull, wife of Representative Morton D. Hull, of Illinois, died of heart disease at a hotel here yesterday. The body will be sent to Chicago for burial.

Mrs. Hull and her husband recently returned from Hawaii.

Two New Orleans Banks Are Robbed

Loot Is Nearly $10,000 at Each Branch of One Firm.

New Orleans, La., April 30 (A.P.).—Bandits raided two branches of the Canal Bank & Trust Co. today and escaped with several thousand dollars.

While police were investigating the holdup by four bandits of the Ewing Branch Bank, in uptown New Orleans, the Lautenschlaeger Branch, in the downtown section, was invaded and robbed. A check by bank officials showed the holdup of the Ewing Branch, for uptown, shortly before noon, to have netted about $10,000 loot. The second holdup, at the Lautenschlaeger Branch, downtown, this afternoon, resulted in the loss of almost an equal amount.

In the first robbery four masked men invaded the bank and fled in a closed car driven by a black-hooded chauffeur after forcing three depositors to lie on the floor of the lobby while a dozen employes were herded into a corner. The same methods were employed in the Lautenschlaeger Branch robbery, in which four masked men also participated. In each case the holdups were conducted quietly and no shots were fired, although the bandits were heavily armed.

EZEKIEL J. AYRES RITES ARE PLANNED

Obsequies for Late Chief Clerk of State Department Are Set for Tomorrow.

Funeral services for Ezekiel Jarman Ayres, chief clerk of the State Department, who died yesterday at his home at Woodside, Md., after a month's illness, will be conducted from the Hines Funeral Home, 2901 Fourteenth street northwest, tomorrow afternoon. The place of interment had not been selected last night.

Mr. Hines had been connected with the State Department since 1924, when he was appointed chief clerk. Previously he had served as administrative assistant of the Department of Commerce. He was 64 years old.

Before becoming connected with the Government, he had been a merchant-farmer and general agent for an insurance company up to the time he was 30 years of age. He was first connected with the legal division of the United States Patent Office in 1896, serving in that office until the early part of this century.

Leaving the Patent Office, he became purchasing agent in the Interior Department, and during his term of service there he completed a standardization of the filing systems in that department. During the World War he was a member of the District Council of Defence and the War Industries Board and the United War Campaign Board.

At the close of the war he served as a member of the interdepartmental committee which considered the disposition to be made of the war material. During his term of service with the State Department he represented that division of the Government at the exposition in Philadelphia in 1926 and at the International Exposition in Seville, Spain, in 1929.

He was a native of Hopewell Township, N. J., and the survivors include his wife, Mrs. Edith Ayres; a son, Robert Ayres, and a daughter, Mrs. Julia Randolph Sheppard, in addition to two grandchildren.

Man Asks to Change Name.

Gabriel Abriel Santos yesterday petitioned the District Supreme Court to permit him to change his name to Santos Rivera Abriol. In a petition to the court he says that it is a great inconvenience to be called by his proper name and, anyway, he says, his present name does not "betoken the actual and proper custom for names given to and used by citizens of the land of their birth and recognized in this country."

Electrical Show Visited by Crowds

Manager of Refrigeration Department Cites Record Year.

A throng of downtown shoppers yesterday visited the National Electrical Show, at Fourteenth and G streets northwest, the largest exhibit of electrical home equipment ever staged in Washington. The show will close May 9.

Commenting on the public response to the exhibit, C. L. McCrea, manager of the refrigeration department of the National Electrical Supply Co., said "The American home has gone completely electrical."

He said his department experienced a record-breaking year in 1930, and hopes this year to surpass even that mark. "It is predicted that 350,000 electric refrigerators will be sold in 1931," he said.

In Shanghai Grimm likewise denied the report, saying he had met Miss Patterson on her return from a big game hunt in Indo China.

Court Action Will Allow Him to Handle Business Matters for Children.

Walter Johnson, manager of the Washington Baseball Club, was appointed guardian of his five children by action of the District Supreme Court yesterday.

The action of the court was necessary because of the death last August of Mrs. Hazel Lee Johnson, wife of the baseball player. In her will, Mrs. Johnson made her children the heirs to a home in 1423 Taylor street northwest, and the guardianship will make the father eligible to handle the business details of the home.

The children named are Walter P., Jr., Edward R., Robert W., Carolyn A. and Barbara J. Johnson.

BORAH ON BUREAUCRACY.

Senator Borah is a past master in what Michelet calls the art of befuddling one's self methodically. He has come forth with a scathing denunciation of bureaucracy; that is to say, bureaucracy in which the senator has no interest. It can hardly be supposed that he would include in this class of "wasteful and extravagant" bureaus the agencies which he himself sponsors for the benefit of special classes.

"The Government has no right," says Senator Borah, "to exact from its taxpayers one dollar beyond the amount necessary to run the Government, wisely and economically expended." Yet he is in favor of spending millions out of the Treasury to set the Government up in the power business. He advocates the export debenture plan, under which the Government would pay a bounty on all wheat that American farmers could ship abroad. These projects are a step ahead of bureaucracy. Even a multiplication of bureaus is more tolerable than governmental dabbling in the field of private business.

Senator Borah charges Congress with responsibility for only 1, or possibly 2, of the 26 commissions that have been created under the present administration. Surely the senator does not forget that all the funds which these commissions spend are appropriated by Congress.

Senator Borah calls attention to the reductions which Congress has made in recent Federal budgets. But he ignores those appropriations which were not included in the budget, and which aroused vigorous opposition from the White House. He pleads for economy for the administration, but insists that Congress shall raid the Treasury for the benefit of special classes. Economy is a wonderful principle when applied to some one else. Would Senator Borah forego the debenture and other pet schemes for the aid of agriculture in the interest of reducing taxes?

LABOR CHEAPER THAN EVER.

A committee report which has been made public by the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce contains a good deal of enlightening information on the problem of wages. It furnishes the chamber with facts on which it may judge whether or not wages are too high. The report was prepared as an analysis of the depression, but the significance of that section dealing with increased production and the expansion of purchasing power can not be overlooked in the present controversy over maintenance of wage scales.

'In 1899, the committee finds, the United States operated 207,514 manufacturing establishments, employing 4,712,763 workmen who earned $2,088,361,119. The manufactured products turned out during that year were valued at $11,406,292,701. Nearly three decades later, in 1927, the number of plants had decreased to 191,866, but the number of workmen had increased to 8,349,755, and their earnings to $10,848,802,532. The value of manufactured products had jumped to $62,718,347,289.

In the abstract these figures mean little, but when analyzed they indicate that labor is cheaper today than it ever was before, in spite of high wages. Those who believe that wages are too high point to the fact that at the turn of the century the average factory employe earned only about $426 per year. In 1927 he earned about $1,300. Wages have been multiplied by three and a small fraction. On the other hand, the value of manufactured products which these working men help to create has been multiplied in that period by about five and one-half.

While manufacturers have been doubling and trebling their output they have expanded their pay rolls at a much slower rate. Machinery has made labor more efficient. One man produces several times as much as he did 30 years ago. Allowance must be made, of course, for the added cost of machinery to the manufacturer. But even when that is taken into consideration it is very evident that a year's work at $1,300 was a better bargain for the manufacturer in 1927 than was a year's work in 1899 at $426.

Approaching the subject from another angle, it may be seen from the committee's figures that about one-fifth of the value of all manufactured products went to pay the cost of labor in 1899. In 1927 labor received only a little more than one-sixth of the total value of manufactured products. On the basis of productive capacity workingmen are actually receiving a smaller percentage of the wealth which they help to produce than they were receiving at the beginning of the century.

Unfortunately the chamber's figures are not quite up to date. But statistics prepared by the Census Bureau show that production ran far ahead of wages in 1928 and 1929. Business is too prone to measure wages by the cost of living instead of by productive capacity. If labor is paid according to last year's standard of living and produces according to this year's improved methods, overproduction and consequent economic derangement can not be avoided. Analysis of the tendency of wages to lag behind productive capacity during recent decades leads to the inescapable conclusion that wages are not too high, and that their present level should be maintained.

BRYAN UNTIEDT.

America loves courage. The lad who is visiting at the White House as a guest of President Hoover little realized that his aid of others in the face of a horrible death would bring him national acclaim. But since the President has recognized his unselfish courage he has become a new symbol of daring, chivalrous American youth.

Entertainment of young Bryan Untiedt by the President has brought a consciousness of romance, adventure and heroism to the lives of millions of American youths who were perhaps thinking that this is a drab old world after all. Boys throughout the Nation thrill at the boy's experience in becoming a friend of the President, meeting the King and Queen of Siam, and seeing the famous sights of Washington. Youthful chivalry, courage and enterprise will be inspired wherever the story of Bryan Untiedt is read.

Lindbergh woke the country out of its lethargy with a feat of inimitable audacity. Admiral Byrd earned plaudits for his courageous achievements. But they are men skilled in a profession which is open only to adults with technical experience. Young Bryan did what any lad might have a chance to do; that is, he saved the lives of his friends by sacrifice of himself. He is a true hero; one whose achievement and reward will make a powerful appeal to the youth of America.

It is well for the country to acclaim those who are great of heart. One manifestation of self-reliance and manliness inspires others. Bravery and daring become contagious. Youths learn to love their country, their homes and their friends better because they feel a responsibility for defending them. Whoever has felt the aspiration of youth to do great deeds will realize that the adventures of Bryan Untiedt in Washington will reverberate through the Nation.

YOUNG FASCISTS.

The temporary political setback of the Hitlerites in Germany has by no means slackened the activity of these "reactionaries," who form the foil for the ever-busy Communists. President von Hindenburg has had to employ military restraint to curb the riotous meetings of both parties. He has found that antireligious campaigns are making disquieting headway.

At the inaugural session of the summer semester of the University in Berlin the President appealed to the student corps to hold fast to the Christian faith, saying: "At a time when so many of our fellow citizens are deserting the church and abandoning the Christian faith I appeal to you to hold fast to the faith of our forefathers. Our daily routine brings its fill of worries and burdens, but the blessings which our faith brings will help us to bear them."

In curious contrast to student political activity as a rule, particularly in Latin countries, where it takes the form of radicalism, is the pronounced reactionary sentiment among Germans in the higher schools. To offset this growing tendency the "League of Human Rights" has been formed, and it adds confusion to the multitudinous divisions already existing in German politics.

At a recent session of this league, speakers recalled that before the war German universities were the traditional home of academic freedom, which now appears to be giving way too often to the terrorism of reaction, with many young men entering the colleges to promote reactionary politics in revenge for losses, social and economic, that they believe to have been lost through the war. Some student fraternities have refused to join the National Students League until it makes full confession of loyalty to the republic and its symbols, and has abandoned racial hatreds as enunciated by the Fascists.

MISSISSIPPI'S FARCE.

Now it is Mississippi's turn to favor the country with a political comedy. Louisiana and Oklahoma have both been generous in their contributions to the gayety of politics. Texas put on a farce that has not been surpassed in the recent annals of government anywhere. The South Central States thrive on political burlesque. It seems to be a tradition that comedians find their way into legislative halls and executive mansions.

Mississippi's contribution to the drama of primitive politics is a "rump" session of the Legislature. The "Big Four," meaning the tyrants who dominate the two legislative chambers, insist that Mississippi is in desperate straits and must be saved from financial embarrassment. The State has acquired a deficit of $7,000,000 and it is feared that schools, charitable institutions and prisons will have to close down unless additional funds are raised. Interest is due May 1 on $600,000 of bonds and, alas, there is nothing available to pay. Mississippi's tax on interstate corporations was held invalid and Gov. Bilbo has been left "holding the sack," as Mississippians say.

But it seems that Mrs Bilbo would rather face State bankruptcy than the Legislature. More than 100 members of the Legislature gathered at Jackson determined to hold a session in spite of his opposition. The governor left town, paying a visit to his pecan farm in the hope that this "fool" move would peter out. But not so. The lawmakers decided that they were helpless so long as the governor refuses to issue a formal call for a special session, but they are endeavoring to appease him so that the call will be forthcoming.

Gov. Bilbo has no objection to a meeting of the Legislature for the purpose of solving this financial riddle, but he doesn't want the lawmakers wasting a lot of time on anything that might be embarrassing to himself. If there is to be any meeting at all, he says, it must be a "no-investigation, no-impeachment session." Since Gov. Bilbo holds the trump card the legislators have individually agreed to leave his reputation as white as snow if he will only legalize their session. It remains to be seen whether this legislative strait-jacket will give Gov. Bilbo a feeling of security, and whether it will be sufficient to hold down the wild men of Mississippi, once they are assembled.

IS ANOTHER CANAL NEEDED?

Recent disturbances in Nicaragua and the completion of the survey of a canal route through that country by United States Army engineers have given rise to various misconceptions. In the first place, nothing at all definite has been decided about building another canal and, furthermore, the necessity for one does not appear to exist at present.

Owing to the depressed condition of world trade during most of the last two years the number of vessels passing through the Panama Canal has fallen off, but even at the height of demand for interocean transfers the capacity of the canal was not strained. Over 6,000 vessels are handled by the canal every year, operating on a daylight schedule. If traffic should require it there is no reason why the Panama Canal could not maintain continuous operation with simply the addition of forces necessary to handle night operations. Additional locks can be added that would still increase capacity indefinitely.

The Panama Canal is capable of handling all traffic for another twenty years at least. Additional locks can be provided in time to accommodate all requirements. The cost of additional capacity at Panama would be immeasurably less than the construction of a new canal in Nicaragua.

Added to the expense of building a second canal would be the heavy overhead of entirely separate executive and operating organizations, and the still further expense of Army and Navy defenses. The safety feature of having an alternative route in case of war or the destruction of one canal is also questioned by experts. Located comparatively close together, any attacking force that could destroy the usefulness of one canal probably could put both out of commission. As to earthquakes, it is believed that the locks at Panama are practically indestructible. If commerce can be handled through the Panama Canal for another 50 years or more it does not seem advisable to spend money on another canal.

When Nevada's six-week divorce industry begins running full blast next week the other States may have to pay a bounty to retain their legal talent.

CALVIN COOLIDGE SAYS:

Northampton, Mass., April 30.—Occasional discussion has been given to furnishing better library facilities for rural communities. Very little action has resulted. In spite of our great centers of population we are still far from being an urban people. A great mass of our inhabitants live in the country and have all the disadvantages as well as the strength of that kind of life. They are a large and important element in the Nation.

Since the opening of the century much progress has been made in the schools of the rural sections. The telephone, radio, motion picture, automobile and good roads have done much for their improvement. Newspapers and periodicals reach nearly everywhere. But there is still a wide area and millions of people without access to any libraries. In spite of all the other facilities books are the principal permanent repository of knowledge and culture. An individual may make progress without books but the people as a whole are dependent on them. Where there is the most leisure and the least outside diversion the need for books and the benefits from them are greatest. Provision for rural libraries would be a public service of the first importance. CALVIN COOLIDGE.

CENTER OF POPULATION

From the Indianapolis News.

Relative to the country's center of population, as it will be disclosed by the 1930 census, the St. Louis News Service recalls a prophecy made by Julius Erasmus Hilgard in Scribner's Magazine for June, 1872. He predicted that the center would be 30 miles east of St. Louis in the year 2000. Using a mathematical system devised by himself, Mr. Hilgard calculated that the center would move 126 miles between 1870 and 1900, and missed it 6½ miles. The News Service continues:

> In 1930, however, it seems likely that he will be almost exactly right, according to Clarence E. Batschelet, census geographer. Mr. Hilgard estimated that the population center would move 88 miles between 1900 and 1930, and present census figures are bearing it out almost to the mile.

The statement attributed to Mr. Batschelet is the first semiofficial word to come out of Washington concerning the 1930 center, and it, of course, is subject to revision. Since 1890 the center of population has been in Indiana, it having been 20 miles east of Columbus at that time. In 1900 the center was on the Henry Marr farm, 6 miles southeast of Columbus, it having moved 14.4 miles west and 2.8 miles south during the decade. Following the 1910 census the center was found to be in Bloomington. It had moved 38.9 miles west and .7 of a mile north. The westward movement was slowed materially between 1910 and 1920, it having been only 9.8 miles, and the 1920 center was fixed at the base of a beech tree on a farm in Owen County, 11 miles from Spencer and 9 miles from Bloomington. The spot is a short distance west of the village of Whitehall.

Mr. Hilgard estimated that the center would move 88 miles between 1900 and 1930, and it moved 48.7 miles from 1900 to 1920. This would leave a movement of 39.3 miles necessary to bear out the Hilgard prophecy for 1930. The present center in Owen County is approximately 45 miles east of the Illinois State line. Moving due west, 39.3 miles, the center of population for 1930 will be found in Sullivan County, about 10 miles northwest of Sullivan. If the pull was to the north, the estimated movement would place the center in Vigo County, and if the trend was to the south the spot would be in Knox County. In any event, if the Hilgard estimates prove to be approximately correct, the center of population for 1930 will remain in Indiana.

LINCOLN FORGAVE.

Mrs. La Salle Corbell Pickett, says the Boston Transcript, who became the "Child Bride of the Confederacy" when at fifteen years she was married to Gen. George E. Pickett, two months after he had led the famous charge of the Confederate forces at Gettysburg, is dead in Washington at the age of 86 years.

Mrs. Pickett related that, following the evacuation of Richmond, she was at home in company with her baby. One day she was informed that a Mr. Lincoln was at her door and wished to see her.

"When I heard the caller ask for George Pickett's wife," says Mrs. Pickett, "I came out with my baby son in my arms."

"'I am George Pickett's wife,' I said.

"'And I am Abraham Lincoln.'

"'The President?'

"No, Abraham Lincoln, George's old friend."

To his inquiry, "Where is George Pickett?" Mrs. Pickett answered, "Running away from you, I suppose," to which President Lincoln responded, "I don't see why George should run away from me; I wouldn't do anything to him." Taking the baby in his arms, Lincoln said: "Tell your father, the rascal, that I forgive him for the sake of your mother's smile and your bright eyes."

DEVELOPMENTS within the next ten or twenty years will, in all probability, require drastic changes in American customs and institutions.

It is therefore high time for the thinking people of America to begin the development of some plan that will save what is left of their liberties.

In all civilized lands, thoughtful people are watching with anxious eyes the vast economic and social experiment in Russia.

That experiment, by whatever name it is called, consists in mobilizing the whole people to work for a common end.

Its possibilities are almost unlimited. Try to imagine how greatly American production could be increased if all industries were organized under one management and all citizens required to work when and where they were needed.

Waste, lost motion and duplication of effort would be eliminated. Costs would be cut in half. And this Nation, operating as a single vast factory, would be able to produce goods so cheaply as to undersell all competitors in the markets of the world.

That, in outline, is the thing that is happening in Russia.

But there is another side of the picture. Mobilization destroys freedom. Recently the authorities in Russia had need of more railroad workers. The call went out, and every man who had done railroad work—though now a doctor or lawyer—was required to leave the occupation of his choice and return to the road at wages fixed by the authorities.

It is a system tremendously efficient. You will recall having a taste of it when America went to war. It gets things done, but it absolutely destroys liberty. Americans endured it in the name of patriotism, but even yet they are running amuck to get the taste out of their mouths.

Will they endure it again, without a war, to meet the competition of Russia and other lands ruled by dictators?

Some changes must be made to meet that competition, else America will lose her foreign markets and the prosperity based on them.

But prosperity at the price of liberty is too dearly bought.

Life means something more than efficient production. Better a hungry freeman than a fat slave fed in a communal trough.

It will be a sorry day for America when the people surrender liberty in the name of cooperation.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

A Challenge to the South.

Rochester Herald.

Four newspaper columns of words from the pen of Chairman Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, can not conceal the one main object he has in mind—namely, to commit the Democratic party so plainly and unalterably to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment that no escape will be possible when it comes to naming a presidential candidate next year. To do this he is willing not only to ignore the dry sentiment of the Democratic South, but even to cut loose from the South if necessary to advance the wet program to which he is almost fanatically devoted.

What other construction can be placed upon that portion of his letter in which he says that if the wet groups in the North can not reconcile their views to the dry sentiment in the South "we must squarely face the fact that our party is really divided into two parties?" He leaves no doubt as to which of those two parties he pledges himself, nor of his confidence that it will control the writing of the next national Democratic platform.

If Southern tempers have retained their traditional warmth, Mr. Raskob's defiance of the dry vote in the South will be accepted as a gage of battle. Instead of closing the breach between the two sections, Chairman Raskob has widened it. Previously there has been at least a gesture of compromise in the knowledge that it was the defection of the South that hurt most deeply in the election of 1928 and that a similar defection next year will be fatal to Democratic prospects.

Now, however, so far as Chairman Raskob is concerned, there will be no more compromise. The South is bluntly warned to get in on Mr. Raskob's repeal program or get out of the party. It can hardly fail to see what has been obvious for some time—that Mr. Raskob is a wet first and a Democrat second.

Prosperity a la Couzens.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Senator James Couzens, in his emphatic challenge to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, takes up several extremely important questions. Most of the alluring formulae for prosperity, of which there are hundreds, have had to be discarded as their fallacious elements came to light. It may be that the Couzens theory will go that way. But, although prone to fiery phraseology, the Michigan Senator usually thinks soundly on economic problems.

Couzens asks the National Chamber of Commerce to take a clear position on the proposed slicing of wages to increase employment. He charges that the Chamber, as the representative of business, ought to assume leadership at a critical time and show the way to American industries. Couzens himself believes that widespread decreases of wage levels would be unfortunate, as, in his mind, they would lower the standard of living and also, by reducing average purchasing power, increase unemployment.

John Barrymore, Statesman.

Los Angeles Times.

Announcement is made back East that Californians are grooming John Barrymore for Congress. This may be news to the Golden State, but even then he might put up a better job of play-acting than we have encored in those historic halls.

Nosh Raskob.

Detroit News.

After listening a certain length of time to Mr. Raskob, the impressionable hearer has the strongest impulse to go out and build himself an Ark.

And They Heard Him.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Not having been invited to address the United States Chamber of Commerce this week, Senator Couzens decided to speak before it met.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Abuse of the Opposition Gets Nowhere in Politics, Says a Democrat Who Recalls Teapot Dome.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your correspondent, "Hickory," in his letter appearing in The Post on April 29, states lamentingly among other things: With Raskob in the managerial saddle, and the fatuity of Raskobism proclaimed from 10,000 orotund throats, it would just about break the donkey's neck." This comment is directed to the Democratic party's chances for success in the 1932 election.

In order to relieve "Hickory" of any necessity for furture worries over this matter, please advise him that in accordance with all precedents there is not the remotest possibility of Mr. Raskob being chairman of the Democratic National Committee which will function in the 1932 election. Consequently, he will not then be in the "managerial saddle," and therefore "Raskobism" cannot be an issue. And should an attempt be made by the opposite party to make an issue of "Raskobism" there is also a very recent precedent which indicates that such a foolish effort would greatly benefit the Democratic party. Witness, for instance, the great Coolidge victory when an attempt was made to condemn the whole Republican party for the shortcomings of a few officials in the Harding administration.

It just won't work; and past experiences all indicate that such foolish gestures rebound to the benefit of the party thus unjustly attacked.

So, "Mr. Hickory," I believe your worries are entirely unjustified.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRAT.

Washingtonians Should Brush Up on Local Historical Points of Interest in Order to Help Pilgrims of '32.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I like the suggestions which have recently appeared in The Post that our school children should be specially instructed in regard to points of interest, so that they may be thoroughly prepared to furnish helpful information to bicentennial sight-seers next year.

Why should not everybody freshen up on the monumental and other attractions of the National Capital? There is nothing which makes a more pleasing impression on strangers in a town than to be intelligently and courteously informed regarding what they want to see and how to get there by any chance citizen whom they may happen to consult.

Let mother, dad, sister and buddy properly equip themselves and no doubt theirs will be the heartfelt thanks of thousands of the city's guests in 1932, and so the fame of Washington as an exceptionally hospitable Capital will eventually be spread all over the country—all over the world, in fact. F. P. WEEKS.

Misuse of the Word "Bandit" Deprecated by a Discriminating Reader.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I wish the newspapers would stop referring to housebreakers, footpads, sneak thieves and all sorts of robbers as "bandits." Upon idle, mentally defective and irresponsible boys and young men the psychological effect of the word "bandit" may be harmful when used in news items dealing with crime.

The genuine bandit is now and always has been a brutal, stealthy murderer. But in fiction and on the stage he has been presented in such a picturesque way that the name loses a good deal of its true significance.

I don't think anyone would miss it much if "bandit" were dropped from the newspaper vocabulary. To me its use in reference to common thievery and common thieves has grown decidedly obnoxious.

THE FISHING TRIP.

I suppose you'd call it fishing! I've been out upon a stream,
But we had a thermos bottle filled with coffee rich with cream
And twenty dollar boots to wear, the latest style of creel,
A book of all the fancy flies, a costly
rod and reel,
And everything which mortal man could ever ask or wish To guarantee his comfort when he ventures out to fish.

We had a man to cook the meal, a man to drive the car,
A guide we paid good money just to tell us where they are,
And though we had a happy day,
somehow it seemed to me
It wasn't just exactly what a fishing trip should be;
I didn't think the bargain fair, too easy were the terms,
I thought I should have been compelled to dig a can of worms.

I thought we should have had to trudge at least a mile or two,
And rise at dawn to start the fire,
the way we used to do,
It seemed to me I missed the thrill of planning for the trip,
Of packing cheese and crackers in the pocket on my hip;
Although I had a splendid time, I'd say upon the whole,
I think I liked it better when a fish
rod was a pole.

It may be only memory which paints
such pictures fair,
And twenty dollar boots are nice, but heavy things to wear,
And if from food on fishing trips you want the greatest joy,
It seems to me you ought to have the hunger of a boy.
We had some luck; we had some sport, but still somehow I know
It wasn't like our fishing trips of forty years ago.

SIR OSWALD MOSLEY JEERED BY LABORITE

British New Party Sponsor Escapes Mob After Its Party Loses Election.

Ashton-under-Lyne, England, April 30 (A.P.).—Sir Oswald Mosley and his wife, Lady Cynthia Mosley, were nearly mobbed tonight by a crowd of angry Laborites, following upon the defeat of A. Young, the Mosley "new party" candidate for Parliament, in the first bye-election in which the party has been a contestant.

In the bye-election Mr. Young ran a bad third, and the seat, now held by the Labor party, was won by the Conservative candidate.

The crowd of Laborites swarmed around the Town Hall after the result of the election was announced, jeering and cat-calling, evidently blaming the loss of the Laborite seat on the injection of the "new party" candidate into the contest.

Sir Oswald and Lady Cynthia, with a group of wealthy young Socialists, seceded from the Labor party some time ago to organize the "new party."

While the crowd howled, Sir Oswald bade the women of his party to remain in the Town Hall, while he went out alone. Young, the defeated candidate, was smuggled out a side door under heavy police guard.

"I'm delighted with the result," Sir Oswald said afterward. "My organization went to Ashton-under-Lyne nine days ago, not even knowing the address of any one in the constituency, and today we've polled more than 4,000 votes. I'm convinced that if we had had another week we would undoubtedly have won the seat."

ENTRIES AT RECORD IN BRIDGE CONTEST

Committee on Arrangements Now Making Up Teams for Play.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS.

Thursday, May 14, 2 p. m.—Pair contests, advanced and intermediate classes, both contract and auction.

Thursday, May 14, 8 p. m.—Auction team matches, advanced and intermediate classes.

Friday, May 15, 2 p. m.—Pair contests (final) advanced and intermediate classes, both contract and auction.

Friday, May 15, 8 p. m.—Contract team matches, advanced and intermediate classes.

Saturday, May 16, 2 p. m.—Auction team mathes (final) advanced and intermediate classes.

Saturday, May 16, 8 p. m.—Contract team matches (final) advanced and intermediate classes.

The place—The New Shoreham Hotel.

By special delivery, by messenger and by regular post came the final entries yesterday in the first annual bridge tournamnet of Washington players. All applications mailed yesterday, which was the last day for filing, will be properly classed and the entire list published in The Washington Post at an early date.

Already it has been determined that the event will be the biggest bridge tournament ever held in this country, not excepting the professional contests held annually in New York, Cleveland, Chicago and other large cities. The entrants include representatives of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, the Diplomatic Corps, congressional, official and social circles and the prominent clubs, so that a gathering of distinguished persons is assured. The suburban districts are also well represented.

Extensive Arrangements Made.

Manager Moore, of the New Shoreham, where the tournament is to be held, is making extensive plans for the comfort and the seating of the players so that there will be no inconvenience on account of numbers. The beautiful parlors of the hotel are spacious and well appointed and, under the direction of R. E. Needham, expert tournament manager, the mechanics of the play will be in smooth running order.

In view of the fact that there are three major events, each being allotted two separate sessions, it is unlikely that there will be more than one-half of the entrants engaged in playing at any one session. While practically all who are listed will play in the team matches, either at contract or auction not every one will participate in the pair matches that take place Thursday and Friday afternoons. Moreover, there is only a limited number who have expressed a desire to play both in the auction and the contract team events which are held in separate sessions.

Time of Play.

Both the advanced and intermediate classes of auction will play on Thursday night and Saturday afternoon, and both advanced and intermediate classes of contract will play on Friday and Saturday evenings.

With all the entries now in, the committee on arrangements, A. P. Stochvis chairman, is working hard on the matter of making up teams from the pair and individual entries and within a few days will be able to inform such players who their teammates will be. This is unnecessary where entry was made in teams of four.

Clip out and retain the schedule printed herewith, so that you will not make any other engagements for the dates.

JEWISH CAMPAIGN LAUDED BY HOOVER

President's Message Is Read at Meeting of Teams in $60,000 Drive.

An enthusiastic meeting of workers in the United Jewish Campaign was held yesterday at the Jewish Community Center. Determination to carry on the drive until the $60,000 goal was reached was expressed by leaders.

New workers are being rounded up and new spirit injected into the campaign, now in its second week. Among those who addressed the drive teams were Harold H. Levi and Isidore Hershfield, cochairmen; Rudolph B. Behrend and Mrs. Charles A. Goldsmith.

Mr. Behrend announced he would be host at a luncheon Tuesday and that other drive luncheons would be arranged.

President Hoover's indorsement of the cause of eastern European relief, for which half of the fund raised is to be devoted, was read to the meeting. In a letter to the American Jewish joint distribution committee, the President wrote:

"The work of the joint distribution committee is well known to me and I consider it a remarkable piece of human engineering.

"A people who have for a period of more than fifteen years provided funds for the rehabilitation of their unfortunate coreligionists in foreign land will, I feel sure, continue to work in this noble purpose and will contribute again so that the program affording opportunities of self-help and relief for these people on the other side may be carried on."

King Enjoys First Walk in 4 Weeks

English Ruler Outdoors for Hour After Being Ill for Month.

Windsor, England, April 30 (A.P.). King George, for the first time since he was taken ill April 2, deserted Windsor Castle for the outdoors today.

Accompanied by Queen Mary, he strolled about the grounds for nearly an hour. An automobile picked them up half a mile from the castle and they returned for luncheon.

Close upon his return from South America, the Prince of Wales went to London this morning for a golf match with Jose Jurado, Argentine professional, and planned to spend the night at York House. Presumably, Prince George is remaining at the castle with the family.

Bandits' Loot $3,000 In Arkansas Bank Raid

Malvern, Ark., April 30 (A.P.).—Two unmasked men bound and gagged two officials of the First National Bank of Malvern, forced them into the vault and escaped with about $3,000 today.

They fled in an automobile driven by a confederate.

THE TRAVEL, LEATHER & GIFT SHOP

Feel the difference; Hear the difference; TASTE the difference!

Like an oasis in the dusty desert of dried tobacco, the new Camel Humidor Pack brings you the delight of fine quality cigarettes in factory-fresh, mild condition.

Now, wherever you go, you can always be sure of getting a fresh, throat-easy cigarette when you demand Camels.

It's easy to tell the difference. Your sense of touch detects it as you roll a cigarette between your fingers. Dry tobacco is stiff and crumbly. Camels are full bodied and pliant.

Even your ear can tell the difference. For a dried-out cigarette crackles when you roll it.

But the real test is taste and taste is causing a great nation-wide switch of men and women alike to Camels in the scientific new Humidor Pack. As you draw in that fragrant, mild, cool smoke, redolent with the joy of choicest Turkish and mellow Domestic tobacco, only then do you realize the full importance of this new Humidor Pack.

For scorched or dried tobacco is brash and tasteless and its smoke is unkindly hot to the tongue and throat.

If you are already a Camel smoker you have noticed the improvement in this your favorite cigarette.

If you don't smoke Camels, try them for just one day to see how much you're missing. After you've known the mildness and delight of a really fresh cigarette, switch back if you can.

● It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton—this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.

$2,000 PRIZE AWAITS AD CONTEST WINNER

Rizik Brothers Will Give Half of Amount if Victor Features Store.

A $2,000 grand prize will be given for the best amateur ad submitted in the seven weeks of The Post-Zain campaign. If the winning ad is written about Rizik Bros., specialists in the ultra smart of women's apparel, Rizik Bros. will give the additional $1,000 in cash.

That's a lot of money; well worth an hour or so of your time each day. With such a goal to shoot at, get busy. Double up on your ads and let's have more of them. What to write about? That's easy.

In your ad bring out individuality, the keynote of Rizik Bros. Every mode of fashion is created for milady's particular type of personality. Tell about the smart, chic frocks, suits, afternoon and evening gowns this "Fifth Avenue Shop" of Washington sells. Go to this home of Paris creations, located at 1213 F street, and learn the story of the progress of this popular apparel shop.

Write About Fairfax Farm Dairies.

Health should be incorporated in your ads about Fairfax Farm Dairies. Their Hi-Test Jersey milk, full of rich butterfat, should prove an ideal theme for your ad. Tell about their famous beverage, chocolate milk. Explain its nutritious value and how simple it is for mothers to get children who dislike milk to drink this healthful beverage, full of the richness of milk and yet so delightfully flavored that youngsters and grown-ups can not resist drinking it.

Don't forget that to every person writing an ad about this concern one bottle of chocolate milk will be delivered free. Fairfax Farms Dairies' products not only keep one healthy, but their buttermilk, besides being a refreshing drink, beautifies the skin if used instead of face creams. It is well to remember in writing your ad that this milk can not be purchased at stores; it is obtainable only from the dairy. Tell about the 50 delivery trucks which insure prompt service anywhere in the city at any time.

Tune in on WOL at 9:15 every Thursday night and hear the delightful Fairfax Farms Dairy Maids program. WOL will be the first station to announce the $100 cash prize winner May 7. Don't miss them; it may be your name that you will hear.

Suit Offered as Prize.

Win that $45 "Beau Geste" hand-tailored, silk-lined, two-trousers suit, now on display at the D. J. Kaufman store at 1005 Pennsylvania avenue. The store is giving the suit to the author of the best ad submitted during the entire contest about the concern. Of course your ads about this concern are eligible for any of the many worth-while prizes given during this combined period and at the close of this contest, but this is just an added incentive to write good ads about D. J. Kaufman, Inc.

For tips and what to write about, tune in on Radio Joe's Budget Boys' program of fun, frolic and foolishness, broadcast over WMAL every Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. Their theme song tells the story of their selling plan and will give many ideas for ads. In your ads tell about their values, high quality of merchandise, service, competent employes and the courtesy and friendliness their three convenient stores which the "home" atmosphere affords. Don't forget the name D. J. Kaufman means "everything for men from head to foot."

Write About United Food Stores.

What "just wonderful" ads you should be able to write about the United Food Stores, which handle that fragrantly flavored Wilkins coffee. That speaks for itself, and all their other products are just as good. Ask any dealer or any one who has used Wilkins coffee and they will tell you that in freshness, quality and flavor it is "just wonderful, perfection plus."

United Food Stores offer the best of foods for the lowest price, individual attention, credit and free delivery service without extra cost, and cheerful assistance, with prompt and courteous service. How's that for an ad? Don't forget to weave into your ad that United Food Stores are 100 per cent Washington owned and operated, and their 60 high-class stores gives them a tremendous buying power and makes it possible for them to sell the highest quality meats, groceries and vegetables for the lowest prices.

Or, Try One About This.

National Pale Dry Ginger Ale is an interesting subject about which to write. It is one with which we are all familiar. National Pale Dry Ginger Ale has that taste that just touches the spot. The millions of bottles sold tell the story. Ask your dealer about this famous drink. Look in the box of special prizes and see what the author of the best ad on this product will receive.

Or, how about writing a prize-winning ad about the Home Laundry, which in addition to being a laundry for the home is also the home of courteous employes. In writing about the Home Laundry it should be remembered that everything laundered by them is "double-checked" for sanitation and cleanliness. By doing this the public is definitely safeguarded. For more information call the Home Laundry, or better than that, try the Home Laundry and your spotlessly clean, well-ironed apparel that they return to you will give you many suggestions for an ad.

Special Prizes Offered.

Until the close of the contest the Home Laundry is issuing 25 $1 vouchers for the best 25 ads written about it. What a wonderful chance you housewives have. Write those ads now.

Only five more days to go and the combined third and fourth weeks ad-writing period will be over. Wednesday noon, May 6, is the deadline. Get your ads in now. Read the rules carefully and get busy. Prizes are increasing every day. Don't forget that over 500 prizes will be given. Read about the special prize The Washington Post is giving the winner of the $100 cash prize and the winner of the $1,000 grand prize. Don't overlook all those special prizes offered by the participating concerns which appear in a box on this page. Also there is that $165 ABC Washer, those three pounds of Triple X Richelieu Pearls, 100 quarts of Avignone Freres delicious ice cream and the 525 merchandise prizes. There's no limit to what you can win. Set your goal and get busy.

Due to a typographical error in the account of L. P. Steuart & Bro., which appeared in The Post Zain Amateur Ad editorial Wednesday, a wrong address was given. Instead of this concern being located at Sixth and K, as stated, the firm's correct address is 138 Twelfth street northeast.

"THANK YOU" GIRL GIVES TIP

Of course, you know the sweetest "Thank You" girl in the world, Miss Maxine Doyle, of the Warner Bros.' Earle Theater! Miss Doyle stopped between acts to take a delicious drink of that famous National Pale Dry Ginger Ale. Maxine said she never had tasted such a wonderful, cooling, refreshing drink as this. She advised all Post-Zain ad test fans to try a bottle of this National Pale Dry Ginger Ale to get the idea for that $1,000 cash grand prize.

LEE'S DESCENDANTS WILL SEE CEREMONY

Boulevard Ground-Breaking at Fort Buffalo Today Will Launch Project.

Members of the Lee family who will be guests at the ground breaking ceremonies for the Lee Memorial boulevard, this afternoon, at Fort Buffalo, Va., will be Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Mrs. Casanova Lee, Mrs. Hanson Ely, Mrs. Hunter De Butts, Dr. George Bolling Lee, Lawrence Lee, and his son, Richard Henry Lee.

Dr. George Bolling Lee will arrive in Washington from New York City this morning. A famous gynecologist of New York, he maintains interest in his native State of Virginia. Born at Lexington, he is a grandson of the Confederate general. Also from New York will come Charles Davis, president of the National Highway Association.

The section of the boulevard included in today's exercises is the six-mile stretch from the western side of Fort Myer to Fort Buffalo, which will be constructed at once. When completed it will form the entrance of the Lee highway, reaching from Virginia to California across the Southern States, into the National Capital.

Dr. S. M. Johnson yesterday made public information received from Virgil Bouldit, judge of the Supreme Court of Alabama, to the effect that a section of Lee highway in Alabama, which had not yet been paved, was to be immediately surfaced. "This leaves only a few short stretches of Lee Highway throughout its entire length to be paved," said Dr. Johnson. "This great highway will bring thousands of tourists here next year, making it imperative that the Lee Memorial boulevard be ready to receive them."

The National Boulevard Association announced that ample parking space has been reserved for those coming by automobile to the ceremonies. The Association advises that autoists coming from Washington proceed along Key Bridge, out Lee highway to Falls Church, turn left at the traffic light and go one mile to Fort Buffalo.

SCION OF LEE

DR. GEORGE BOLLING LEE, grandson and most direct descendant of Gen. Robert E. Lee, who will participate in the ground breaking ceremony at Fort Buffalo today.

Firms Plan Better Distribution of Gas

Seven Improvement Projects Are Listed in Report of Officials.

The Washington Gas Light Co. and the Georgetown Gas Co. yesterday submitted to the Public Utilities Commission an outline of their year's program for providing a better distribution of gas service throughout the city and suburban areas.

George A. G. Wood, president of the Washington Gas Light Co., furnished the technical data in reply to a request of the engineering staff. Seven projects for improvements, including the installation of several new gas mains, were listed.

Gas officials expect to provide better service to outlying residential sections, such as Chevy Chase, Foxhall Village, and even the Northeast and Southwest areas, while at the same time reducing the gas pressures within the city proper through installation of the new equipment.

Tornado Scare Subsides.

Clinton, Okla., April 30 (A.P.).—A heavy black cloud, funnel-shaped, circled a part of this city today and caused a tornado scare, but passed over without damage.

Tune in on WRC every Thursday and Saturday night at 10 o'clock, for the Washington Gas program will bring many suggestions which may help you be a winner in the $10,000 Post Zain amateur ad writing contest. They also announce the winner of that $100 cash prize at the close of each ad writing period.

RULES FOR CONTEST

1—$10,000 in prizes to be distributed over seven weeks of amateur ad writing.
2—$1,000 in cash will be given for the best ad written by an amateur during the entire Post-Zain ad-writing campaign. To compete for this prize it will be necessary for contestants to write at least one ad about each of the 35 firms participating in the ad contest.
3—Grand weekly award of $100 will be given for the best Ad, written during the third and fourth periods of the ad-writing contest.
4—Fifteen merchandise prizes for each of the 35 concerns will be given during the third and fourth weeks of the campaign.
5—Ads for the third and fourth weeks of the Post-Zain ad-writing campaign must be received prior to noon, Wednesday, May 6.
6—Ads submitted in competition for the grand award of $1,000 must be received prior to midnight, May 27.
7—Any one anywhere may compete for the prizes with the exception of newspaper employes and members of the advertising profession.
8—There are no obligations. No coupons to clip, no entrance fees to pay, no subscriptions to buy. One person may submit as many ads as he chooses. The Post-Zain ad-writing contest may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about one or all concerns.
9—Write your ideas on one side only of a sheet of paper at least twice the size of a postcard. Place the name of the concern about which you are writing in the upper left-hand corner of the page. Place your own name and address, also telephone number, on the reverse of the advertisement and the envelope. Your contribution may be a slogan, a poem, a regular advertisement, a letter of testimonial, or an essay.
10—Winning advertisements will be selected by a committee of advertising experts. In the event of a tie like awards will be made to both.
11—All advertisements received become the property of the concerns about which they are written.

Ad-Writing Suggestions.

Prizes are given for ideas, not for grammar, spelling, punctuation, art work or layout.
Your ideas should be new and original; your idea may win one of the prizes.
If you are not familiar with the advertisers about whom you are asked to write ads: study their service and merchandise; visit their shops, ask questions, and then jot down your ideas simply. Be brief and to the point.
If you can write a letter, you can write an ad. Get members of your family and your friends interested. Encourage them to write winning ads. Send in your amateur Ad, to the Post-Zain Ad-Contest Editor, Washington Post, Washington, D. C.

Paradise Fish Special Hobby Of Mrs. Alfaro

150 Tropical Specimens in Solarium of Home in Capital.

FADS and foibles and a woman's fancy take divers paths, but to Mrs. Victor Alfaro may be awarded the palm of originality in the realm of hobby hunters. For when a charming young hostess takes to fish—well, that is something! And Mrs. Alfaro has done just that. Aristocrats of the water are the bright-hued "paradise" fish which form her collection and they boast a lineage proud and dating from goodness knows when down in the tropics. There are 150 of the tiny tropical specimens and they represent three generations "right here in Washington," declared their owner.

"Gone modern," these orange and peacock-blue fish have adopted stripes. Tiny things with long tails and "decorations" of stripes on their shining backs they slip in and out of little rock caverns in the improvised ponds that give additional tropical atmosphere to the solarium on the third floor of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hamilton's house on Indian lane where Mrs. Alfaro, the former Nancy Hamilton, visits frequently from her home in Philadelphia. Dr. Alfaro will complete his post-medical course in that city in June after which they will establish their home in Washington. Dr. Alfaro is the son of the president of Panama and Senora de Alfaro.

When a house is selected here the Alfaros will move the seven rectangular tanks which are scattered about the large glassed apartment "leased" for the schools of fish. In harmony with the tropical lineage of Mrs. Alfaro's pets are the surroundings. Thick, tropical plants and brilliant flowers of the South form a background for the gaily decorated tanks. In summer, as soon as warm days come, Mrs. Alfaro transports her fish to the garden, where they live in rock-bottomed ponds.

In competition with Dr. William M. Mann, director of the National Zoological Park, Mrs. Alfaro has included in her collection fish of rare species and coloring, as fine as any in the large aquarium at the zoo, declares Dr. Mann, to whom Mrs. Alfaro plans to present a pair of fish perfect in coloring and markings.

Also interested in the collection of small fish of rare species is George Sutherland Elmore, son of Mrs. Sutherland Elmore and grandson of Justice and Mrs. George Sutherland, whose gold fish form a hobby that has mounted to a real art in the selection of fine specimens.

Hydes Are Entertained By Col. and Mrs. Smith.

The Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Arthur H. Hyde were the guests in whose honor Col. and Mrs. Hugh Caron Smith entertained at dinner last evening at the Army, Navy and Marine Corps Country Club.

Surgeon General Hugh Cumming sailed on Wednesday on board the Mauretania for Europe to attend the sessions of the sealth section of the League of Nations in Geneva. From there he will go to Paris for the sessions of the International Congress of Public Hygiene. He will return to Washington about the first of June.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles B. Drake will have as their guest during the Chevy Chase gold tournament, about the middle of May, Mr. Edward Ransom, of Toronto, who will come for the tourney.

Ambassador Harry F. Guggenheim will leave Havana May 5 for the United State on "personal business." He will make the trip by his own plane and will remain in the United States from seven to ten days.

The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Robert Patterson Lamont will entertain at tea today for the members of the wedding party of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Lamont and Mr. Charles Eskridge Saltzman, whose marriage will take place tomorrow at 4:30 o'clock in the home of Secretary and Mrs. Lamont on Kalorama road.

Miss Jane Tronbridge and Miss Helen Ewing, of Lake Forest, Ill., arrived in Washington yesterday.

They will be members of the wedding party, which also includes from out of town Miss Lamont's sister, Mrs. Chauncey Balknap, of New York; Miss Elizabeth Duncan, of Baltimore; Mrs. Henry Cole, of New York, and Miss Harriet Beardsley, of Utica, N. Y.

Representative and Mrs. James M. Beck have gone to New York for a few days, from where they will go to Atlantic City for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Shaw have as their guest the latter's sister, Miss Etta Merrill, of Salt Lake City.

The United States Consul General in Dublin and Mrs. Cornelius Ferris arrived in New York yesterday on the Leviathan from Ireland for a vacation in this country.

Returns to Capital

Underwood & Underwood.

MME. JAN STALINSKA, Wife of the former Second Secretary of the Polish Embassy, who recently returned to Washington from Warsaw for a visit in her former home. Mr. Stalinski will join her here in June.

Freitas to Go Soon to Post In Brussels

Juan Rui Barbosa Will Be Second Secretary for Brazil Here.

Change, which has proved the established order of the spring at the Brazilian Embassy where an Ambassador and a Secretary have come and gone, will mark another transition in the impending departure of Senor Mauro de Freitas, second secretary of the embassy, who will leave in a few weeks for station at the embassy in Brussels.

Associated with the embassy in Washington only 18 months Senhor De Freitas has made a host of friends who regret his departure for Europe early in June. He will go first to Paris for a few weeks' recreation and may visit his former colleague in the embassy in Washington, Senhor Ruebens de Mello, who is now attached to the legation in Vienna, where Senhor and Senhora De Mello live in an attractive apartment.

The transfer of Senhor De Freitas leaves as the only member of the former staff remaining under the new regime the First Secretary Senhor Paulo Coelho de Almeida, who with Senhora De Almeida will continue to make their home in Washington.

Since the establishment of the provisional government in Brazil last fall the embassy in Washington has undergone many changes.

First, the ambassador, Senhor S. Gurgel do Amaral, received orders of transfer to Tokyo, and is today in San Francisco, after a trip through the Panama Canal, from where he will continue his trip to the Orient. The new ambassador, Senhor de Lima y Silva, has arrived with his wife, and although not yet established in a permanent residence, they already have made a place for themselves in Washington society.

On Tuesday the Secretary of Embassy and Mme. Chermont left for New York to pass a few days before sailing on the Eastern Prince next Friday for Rio Janeiro, where the former will be attached to the office of Mme. Chermont's father, Senhor Mello Franco, minister of foreign affairs of the new government. Senhor Juan Rui Barbosa, newly appointed secretary of embassy, has already sailed for this country and will arrive in New York the day that the Chermonts sail.

Lieut. William C. Eddy, U. S. N., who is now stationed at New London, Conn., has been ordered to Washington for the summer. Lieut. Eddy will arrive here next week and will be joined later by Mrs. Eddy, who will bring their two children, Nancy Jane and William Crawford Eddy, jr.

Mrs. Powell Clayton, who has been at the Berkshire in New York with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall M. Langhorne, will sail Thursday on the Belgenland for Europe.

Mrs. Samuel Eells, of Cleveland, Ohio, is passing a month in Washington visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Rickey. Mrs. Eells has taken an apartment at Wardman Park Hotel for her stay.

Mary Tyler Is Married to R. Peter, Jr.

Old Maryland Families Joined in Rockville Ceremony.

Two of Maryland's oldest families were united yesterday by the marriage of Miss Mary Sackler Tyler, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank Tyler, of Rockville, and Mr. Robert Peter, jr., son of Judge Robert B. Peter, also of Rockville.

The ceremony took place last night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, her father officiating. Her brother, Mr. Frank Tyler, gave her in marriage and she selected for her bridal gown a robe of ivory satin made princess style with a long train and long, tight sleeves. Her tulle veil was draped from a cap of the same material, caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Her sister, Miss Margaret Tyler, was maid of honor, and Miss Miriam Robinson, of Portsmouth, Va., was bridesmaid. Miss Helen and Miss Julia Tyler, younger sisters of the bride, were ribbon bearers.

Judge Peter was best man for his son. There were no ushers.

The maid of honor wore a frock of orchid chiffon made with a long, full skirt and trimmed with net. She carried yellow snapdragons. Miss Robinson, as bridesmaid, wore yellow chiffon and carried sweet peas and spring flowers. The ribbon bearers were in old-fashioned gowns of green point d'esprit with orchid ribbon sashes and carried old-fashioned bouquets. Mrs. Tyler, mother of the bride, wore black lace and orchids.

The house was decorated for the event in palms, lilies and spring flowers.

Following the ceremony, the young couple left for a motor trip in the North the bride wearing for her traveling costume a dress of beige with a brown coat and biege fox fur, with a hat of beige straw. Upon their return from their honeymoon they will make their home in Rockville.

Mrs. James Alexander Lyon, of Glenview Farm, near Rockville, Md., is passing several days in Greensburg, Pa., and so will not observe her regular day at home on Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Spicer is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bondy, in New York.

Paul Wilstach, the noted author, will speak on "Mount Vernon" at the last of the series of lectures given under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Washington at the Willard this morning at 11:15 o'clock. The lecture will be given in the small ballroom. Mrs. Spencer S. Wood, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, will introduce Mr. Wilstach to his audience.

Voteless Women's League Will Give Dinner.

Mrs. Henry Grattan Doyle, will preside at the annual dinner of the Voteless District of Columbia League of Women Voters tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Women's City Club, 736 Jackson place. All members of the league have been invited. Reservations have been made by Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, Mrs. Harry Lee Parkinson, Mrs. William Johnstone, Mrs. Elizabeth Freidman, Mrs. Laura A. Porter, Mrs. David Tressler, Miss Mattie Rosenberg, Miss Mary E. Bakewell, Mrs. Max Stern, Mrs. O. S. Beyer, Miss Fay Bentley, Miss Harriett Byrne, Miss Grace Rogers, Mrs. Ann D. Bursch, Mrs. Laura C. Williams, Mrs. William D. Phelan, Mrs. Clara Wright Smith, Mrs. Helen Montague and Mrs. Grattan Kerans.

Mr. S. Milton Simpson, of New York, formerly attorney in the Department of Justice, and Mrs. Simpson have returned to their home after spending several days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen M. Simpson, in Cherrydale, Va.

Tau Phi National Sorority will hold its spring dance at the Hotel Mayflower tomorrow night.

W. L. White, Kansas, Wed In New York

Son of Editor Takes as Bride Girl Employed on Magazine.

From New York comes news of the marriage of Mr. William Lindsay White, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen White, of Emporia, Kans., and Miss Katherine Klinkenberg, of New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Klinkenberg, of Ottawa, Kans., which took place there on Wednesday. The ceremony was performed in St. Thomas' Church, by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks, in the presence of relatives and close friends.

Mr. White is widely known in Washington, having been a frequent visitor here when he was a student at Harvard University, from which he was graduated in 1924. Mr. White was a member of the Hasty Pudding Club of Harvard, and the year of his graduation wrote the Hasty Pudding play, which was performed in Washington. He is at present associate editor of the Emporia Gazette, of which his father is publisher and editor. Mr. White, sr., was a member of the Hoover commission which last year investigated conditions in Haiti.

The bride, who was born in Cawker City, Kans., has for the last four years, been assistant to the national affairs editor of Time Magazine, so both Mr. and Mrs. White will find a common interest in the latter's work when they return to Emporia to make their home after passing their wedding trip in the East.

Miss Lily Blackford, formerly of Washington, now of Asheville, N. C., is visiting Mrs. C. L. Minor at 2301 Calvert street.

The Aloysian Club will hold a reception at the clubhouse, 47 I street, Sunday, from 4 to 6 o'clock, in honor of Mrs. John A. Foley, the first president of the organization.

Miss Minnie Mahler, president of the club, will receive the guests assisted by the other officers: Miss Alice G. Kelly, Miss Mary McHugh, Miss Catherine Burns, Miss Grace Kelly, Mrs. Jennie Flynn, Mrs. Margaret Talty, Miss Mary Agnes Peck and Miss Florence Kelly.

Dr. Marvin Entertains For Siam Delegates.

Two Sororities Plan Dances For This Week

Alpha Sigma Lambdas to Give Spring Ball Tonight for 800.

Sigma Tau Gamma Sorority will hold its open spring dance tonight at the Army-Navy-Marine Corps Country Club in Arlington County.

Miss Ruth Duckett, chairman of the dance, will be assisted by a committee including Miss Carl Louise Johnson, Miss Betty McCaughey and Miss Cornelia Reid.

In addition to the dancing from 9 until 1 o'clock there will be tables of bridge in the adjoining sunroom of the club.

Among the guests of honor will be Lieut. Col. and Mrs. William J. McCaughey.

The Chi Sigma Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Lambda Fraternity will hold its annual spring dance this evening in the large ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel. About 800 guests will attend.

The Chi Sigma Chapter is associated with the Emerson Institute. Arrangements for the dance have been under the charge of a committee including Mr. Paul Llewellyn, Mr. F. E. Dieste and Mr. Charles Grover Wayland.

Students to Visit Philadelphia Today

Georgetown Delegation to Study Port Facilities Under Prof. Haag.

Fifty students of shipping at the Georgetown University Foreign Service School, under direction of Prof. Alfred H. Haag, will go to Philadelphia today to study its port facilities and transportation problems.

Several school officials, including Dr. William F. Notz, dean; Emile C. Vrisakis, First Secretary of the Greek Legation, and Ahmet Bedi, Counselor of the Turkish Embassy, will accompany the students.

At Philadelphia the delegation will be luncheon guests of C. L. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding Co., and will inspect its great yards.

English Riding Boots To Fit You Perfectly— In 72 Hours, or Less!

Even if you ordered your boots in England (and waited seventy-two days for your order to be executed and then sent overseas to you) you could not get better service than we are prepared to give you, right now.
First of all, we had the boots made in England to our special order and instructions. They have already passed two critical inspections before you see them. The British bootmaker examined them. Then, when they reached Washington, our expert, who has an exacting eye, and knows the requirements of American riders, scrutinized every pair.
The result is that we can fit you to your complete satisfaction, in 72 hours, or less, with boots you'll be proud to wear!

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

EARLY MAY IN THE GARDEN.

MAY is the month when the garden makes definite demands on our time. But what real gardener cares anything about this, for May is such a delightful month to be in the open, and all that we do at this time begins to yield large dividends before the end of another month.

As the buds of our maples are unfolding, this is a good time to trim these trees. Then we must be sure to prune our spring-flowering shrubs, such as spireas, lilacs or forsythias, as soon as they are through flowering, so that they will have plenty of time to develop new flowering wood for next season's bloom. You know these bushes bloom on wood made the previous season.

This is also the time to give not only our spring-flowering shrubs, but all our shrubs, a top dressing of bonemeal. This must be well incorporated with the soil about the roots of the plants.

May is the month to begin pruning our hedges, especially privet.

It is well at this time to remove the old seed pods from rhododendrons and spray any elms we may have with arsenate of lead. This will eradicate, in a large measure or entirely, the activities of the elm leaf beetle, which, if left to itself, will ruin the trees.

May is the month to pinch the tips from the branches of our evergreens. This is the only form of pruning these plants require.

The latter part of the month we can with safety begin to plant bedding plants, such as geraniums, coleus or anternantherias.

Gladiolus, tuberose and even dahlia bulbs or tubers can be planted in May. Of course, we never set out all we have of any of these bulbs, except, perhaps, the tuberose bulbs, because we do not want them all to bloom at the same time. So we set out a portion of our stock, and then in two weeks plant more, and so on until the end of June. One of our greatest authorities on dahlias tells us to plant our tubers ten days apart, from May 15 until July 4.

Do not forget to disbud your peonies, and remember that they will be hungry after their long winter's rest; so be sure to feed them liquid manure about every two weeks and give them plenty of water, should we have little rain. The flowers we have next month will depend on the care we give them at this time.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is supplied.

Jane Interprets the Mode

An evening dress suitable for both formal and informal occasions is this of black taffeta; embroidered with white wool, and with a quaint, removable cape. (Courtesy of Martial et Armand, Paris.)

New York, April 30.

THE flowers, that bloom in the spring don't grow only in gardens or in florist's windows, this season. No, my dear, they are sprouting all over miladi's wardrobe—not only in the form of designs on printed materials but in any number of novel and amusing ways. And the closer the resemblance of the fabric flower to the real thing—the better!

In the first place, they are used to give the striking color-contrast on evening gowns, and very often form the only note of color on them. For the smartest results they are placed in the most unexpected places and with the most original arrangements. Lenief has a white peau d'ange evening gown in her collection trimmed with gardenias that looked for all the world like the real flower—complete with their green, green leaves. A row of the gardenias climbed up one shoulder strap, and an odd gardenia or two lurked in the folds of the skirt.

Black flowers on white evening gowns or vice versa are always stunning, particularly when placed at the point of the front decolletage. And vivid sun flowers on a sulphur green chiffon dress, is a dashing combination, if nothing else. Sometimes a bunch of old-fashioned garden flowers—sweet peas and the like—are tucked into the belt of the evening gown. And by the way, the favorite flowers are camelias, gardenias, chrysanthemums, dahlias, but never, never roses!

And what do you think of Suzanne Talbot's idea of having a necklace of flat white pique flowers accompanying a dark blue morning suit? Or of Ardanse's bracelet of flowers worn above the elbow with an evening gown? Very chic, they both are. Ardanse even makes a ring set with a large violet! And I've already told you of Jenny's cuff-links and front decollete closing of two chrysanthemums which she uses on ever so many daytime dresses.

Suppose some one pounced upon you suddenly and demanded in ferocious accents what two points were high lights in the new Paris collections? Wouldn't you say, after breathless gasping, black-and-white—and practicability? You'd be just about right at that. Black and white is one of the season's very smartest combinations, and economy—not penny-pinching, but wise expenditure of funds to obtain attractive, unusual and wearable clothes—is an extremely fashionable fad at the moment. This smart and lovely dinner dress of Worth which I have sketched for you today is charming, and it is chic, and it is wearable—with the little shoulder cape for semi-informal dinners, and without the cape for more formal affairs. Its of black taffeta embroidered with white wool, this adorable frock, and it's quaintly shirred from the neck to mid-thigh. Godets of embroidered taffeta, slightly longer than the frock itself, give the frock its gracefully flaring skirt.

* * * *

A chic suit for the street this spring if you want to be smart, and a fashionable pair of lounging pajamas for the home if you want to be comfy—and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post if you want to know how to make both of these garments for a wee fraction more than just one of them alone would cost. Yes, I have prepared for you this week a leaflet giving clear and easy directions for making a skirt, jacket and pajama-trouser combination that's adorable and practical.

You shouldn't fail to read Dare's weekly fashion letter in The Post every Sunday.

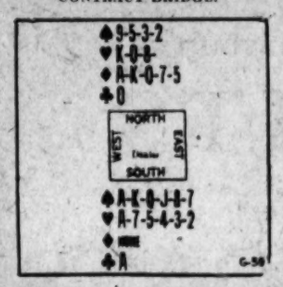
WORK ON BRIDGE

CONTRACT BRIDGE.



THE following hand shows how all systems of Contract bidding are apt to produce the same result when both partners are very strong. (The cards of South, Dealer, and North are given; obviously the cards of the adversaries are unimportant).

The hand was played at a large number of tables in a Duplicate Contract game. At one table, South bid three Spades, North bid five, South six, and North seven. At another table, South bid one Spade, North three Diamonds, South three Hearts, North four Spades, South five, North six and South seven Spades. At quite a number of tables South bid two Spades, North four, South five, North six and South seven Spades. But the safest route to reach the grand slam was by the artificial two-Club bid. South two Clubs, North two No Trumps, South three Spades, and North being quite sure that the choice to be afforded him was between Spades and Clubs (although as a matter of fact it was between Spades and Hearts), and knowing that South had eight tricks, and he at least four, bid six Spades, after which South unhesitatingly bid seven.

The only danger about bidding two Clubs with this hand would be that it presumably would result in giving North a choice between Spades and Hearts, and it is a bit dangerous to offer a choice when one suit in the hand is much stronger than the other. The two-Club bid, however, is valuable because it will show whether North has an Ace and a King; but in this case after it has produced that information, South, with no Diamonds, is perplexed as to the value to him of the knowledge he has gathered because North's Ace and King may both be in Diamonds and useless to South. However, the artificial two-Club bid is apt to produce great accuracy in the bidding of slams.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Lord" is generally of English origin. It is derived from the old English "hlaf-weard," which really means "the loaf-keeper." As is well known, this word later took on the extended meaning of "the master of a household," and finally came to be applied as a title of nobility. The common meaning of "Lord" as a family name is "the master of a household." However, it has been found that this name was given as a nickname, also, to the servants of a lord and to those who had taken the part of a lord in a pageant. It occurs with great frequency in the Hundred Rolls, sometimes with the old spelling, "Loverd." That important thirteenth-century document includes the names of Robert le Loverd, William le Loverd, Roger le Lord and Walter le Lord. In some cases the family name "Lord" stands for the Irish names "Tierney" and "Ternan."

The family name "Laird" is the Scottish and northern English form of "Lord." Its common meaning, therefore, is "the master of a household."

The family name "Tierney" (also spelled "Tiernan," "Ternan," "MacTiernan," &c.) is derived from the Irish "Mac Tighearnain" and "O Tighearnain." These names mean, respectively, "the son of Tighearnan" and "the descendant of Tighearnan." The personal name "Tighearnan" means "the little lord" and "the little lordly person." Some Irish families which were originally called "Tierney" or "Ternan" have changed those names to the English equivalent, "Lord."

The personal name "Bessie" is a shortened form of "Elizabeth." "Elizabeth" is ultimately of Hebrew origin and may be translated "God's oath" or "consecrated to God."

Watch this column every day. Your name will appear here.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE.

"TAURUS."

IF May 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:50 a. m. to 11 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:50 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 7 p. m.

The planetary aspects of May 1 seem to affect the psychic and mental, rather than the material. Expansion and enlightment are promised, and it will prove to be an exceptionally auspicious time for all those engaged in literary or artistic work. Not favorable for travel.

A child born on this May 1, will be blithe and happy-go-lucky, and any trouble that may come to it will be suppressed and never displayed. It will despise all ostentation, abhor hypocrisy, and love only frankness, truthfulness and naturalness. A useful career is its destiny.

Born on May 1, you possess native genius, which only needs cultivation in order to produce good results. You evince a keen interest in all matters touching on public welfare, and if you desire, it should be easy for you to secure prominence in any such field of endeavor. You are a person of strong convictions, and, so long as you believe you are right, the gibes and criticism of opponents do not disturb your equanimity.

You are inventive and original, and have little use for hide-bound convention and not much respect for tradition. In a small community, your talents could only be exploited with great difficulty. You need a big area in which to work to the best advantage. Without being reserved, you are quiet, but persistent. A great deal of thought prompts your words, and careful consideration prefaces your actions.

Your character is a masterful one, and when you go "bald headed" after a certain object, you invariably get it. In the home circle, you are affectionate, and your love nature needs expansion and an opportunity to express itself. You never wait for opportunities to come to you. You create them for yourself. Your horoscope denotes a successful and a fairly eventful life.

Successful people born May 1:
Samuel Ward, banker.
Junius Brutus Booth, actor.
George Inness, artist.
Duke of Wellington.
Marie Corelli, novelist.
Wharton Barker, financier.

A MAY PARTY.

Spring Salad Dainty Sandwiches
Basket Dessert Coffee

Spring Salad.

8 orange baskets
1 cup diced oranges
1 cup diced grapefruit
1 cup diced pineapple
½ cup red cherries
1 cup boiled mayonnaise

Carefully remove the orange pulps so that the cases can be cut with scissors into basket shapes. Mix and chill fruits. Drain well, fill orange baskets and top with mayonnaise. Arrange on lettuce.

Boiled Mayonnaise.

2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
5 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon paprika
4 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup water
2-3 cup salad oil

Beat the yolks, sugar, salt, mustard and paprika. Add the oil. Mix the flour and 1-3 cup of the water. Cook until very thick. Cook in double boiler and stir constantly. Add rest of water. Cook directly over fire 2 minutes. Stir constantly. Pour hot cooked mixture into bowl with oil mixture. Beat 2 minutes with dover beater. Cool and chill.

Cream Cheese Sandwiches.

12 slices thinly cut white bread
½ cup white cream cheese
4 tablespoons salad dressing
1-3 cup chopped almonds
½ teaspoon salt

Mix cheese, dressing, almonds and salt. Spread on bread which has been spread with soft butter. Arrange sandwich fashion.

Date Bread for Sandwiches.

3½ cups flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup light brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped dates
1 egg.
1½ cups milk

Mix all ingredients. Pour into greased loaf pan. Let stand 15 minutes. Bake 1 hour in slow oven.

Basket Dessert.

8 individual sponge cakes
1 quart pineapple sherbet
1½ cups whipped cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 tablespoons sugar
1 cup coconut
1-3 cup chocolate

Remove centers from cakes so cases can serve as baskets. Arrange on serving plates and fill with sherbet. Mix the cream, vanilla and sugar. Pile on the sherbet and sprinkle with the coconut and chocolate shot. Serve at once.

MAY DAY DISORDERS TAKE EARLY START

Reds Parade in New York to Rap Existing Order of Things From Boxes.

(Associated Press.)

May Day disorders got away to an April start yesterday when Communists paraded through the New York financial district and assailed the existing order of things from soapboxes in the shadow of the United States Subtreasury and the J. P. Morgan & Co. Building.

A crowd of 5,000 office workers stood on the Treasury Building steps, on the sidewalk and looked on from office windows, frequently interrupting the harangues with cat calls and jeers. The meeting finally dispersed without disorder.

Many industrial centers both in America and abroad have made plans for demonstrations today. Extra police have been detailed in New York City where former service men, Socialists and Communists will occupy Union Square at different hours of the day. No trouble is anticipated.

Three thousand police will guard against disorders in Mexico City, with a strong guard placed in the main plaza.

England does not anticipate much May Day enthusiasm, but in Berlin, police will be mobilized to prevent serious rioting such as occurred two years ago. Some Balkan countries have forbidden demonstrations during the day, while others will permit observance of the "International Labor Day" under strict police supervision.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—A group of Communists put on a demonstration in Wall street today as a prelude to the world-wide observation of May Day tomorrow.

The meeting was handled by police without difficulty.

Louis F. Budenz, editor of Labor Age, one of the speakers, answered the ironic cheers of spectators thus: "You office workers do nothing but cheer. You have nothing in your heads to think with."

Bits of paper were dropped on the demonstrators from skyscraper windows and some one hit a policeman on the head with a piece of soap. The committee carried banners bearing such legends as "Bankers Favor Wage Cutting; Cut Profits Instead," and "Morgan Will Follow Alfonso."

One banner carrier, Anna Kula, was caught in the surging crowd and slightly injured.

P. U. C. Staff to Probe Street Gas Explosion

The Public Utilities Commission yesterday instructed its engineering staff to investigate the cause of the recent gas explosion beneath the street at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

The District Engineering Department is also making an inquiry into the blast, which tore a hole in the pavement and hurled manhole covers into the air.

DEWEY MEMORIAL SERVICE SET TODAY

Rear Admiral Wood to Talk at Annual Manila Day Ceremony.

Rear Admiral Spencer S. Wood, U. S. N., retired, will be speaker at the annual Manila Day service in commemoration of Admiral George Dewey this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral, last resting place of the Manila Bay hero.

Naval officers, members of patriotic organizations and friends of Admiral and Mrs. Dewey will attend. Accommodations also are to be available for Spanish-American War veterans, former associates of the admiral and the public. Rear Admiral Wood served under Admiral Dewey as an aid.

The Rev. Dr. William L. DeVries, canon and precentor of Washington Cathedral, will conduct the service.

At 3:30 o'clock sons and daughters of naval officers will participate in a pilgrimage to the tomb of Admiral Dewey. A wreath will be placed by Beverly Moffett, 12-year-old daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. William A. Moffett.

The pilgrimage is sponsored by the Woman's Naval Service of Washington, of which Mrs. Dewey was a former president and of which Mrs. George Barnett is now leader.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

FROM immigrant newsboy to recognized maestro of the harmonica might easily furnish the theme of a modernized Horatio Alger story, dealing with the unique career of Borrah Minevitch—and I wish they would spell his name twice alike—in his climb to the theatrical heights.

Minevitch, who during the last several years has been a sensation not only in the principal cities of this country, but also in those of France, England, Italy and Germany, and this week is in "Manhattan Serenade," at the Palace, is universally hailed as the greatest living exponent of the harmonica—mouth organ to you. This humble instrument, although the simplest and most elementary of all harmony-producing musical inventions, has furnished the real inspiration for many great musical careers. (Voice from the gallery: "Name one!")

Minevitch, however, is the only person of record who has reached theatrical stardom solely by his playing of this almost primitive contraption. He arrived in this country with his mother from Russia at the age of 6. From the beginning it was necessary that he help with the support of the family—so for eight years he sold papers on the streets of Boston, where they settled. During his spare time, he took violin lessons, but anticipating Kreisler, and a few others, soon abandoned strings to take up the instrument that has since brought him fame.

It is reported that when he apprised his mother of his determination to stick to the mouth organ, she replied: "You said a mouthful."

When Frederick Kerr, with Constance Bennett in "Born to Love," at the RKO-Keith Theater, retires from the stage and screen he probably will go so as the undisputed holder of three records.

One of them already is assured. He has been an actor for 50 years and has never kept a scrapbook or a press clipping.

With the half-century mark as an actor already past, and his health excellent, he stands a good chance of establishing a record for length of activity.

The other record, which his friends do not hesitate to claim for him, is for long distance commuting. During his five decades of theatrical work he has been a steady commuter in one direction or the other from London to New York to Hollywood. He has made 28 trips across the Atlantic and has played in practically every large American city.

You've never heard of anything he has been in going Kerr-flop!

One of the men responsible for that erstwhile song sensation, "Chloe," is appearing at the Fox this week. He is Harry Vernon, the singer. "Chloe" was one of the most successful songs of recent seasons and was rousingly revived a fortnight or so ago at the Belasco in Lew Leslie's production of "Rhapsody in Black" by a cloudy contralto—not Ethel Waters—who virtually stopped the show cold in its hot tracks.

Although born in England, Herbert Rawlinson, who heads the cast of Elmer Harris' new play, "A Modern Virgin," coming to the Belasco Monday for a week's engagement, preliminary to a New York hearing, came to America as a youngster and soon found employment on the movie lots that produced the almost forgotten Selig, Chadwick and Arrow pictures.

In addition to his long affiliation with the films, Rawlinson has toured in repertoire companies, has had a fling at stock and frequently has appeared in vaudeville. About a year ago he filled a ten-week engagement at the Palace as master of ceremonies—the most impeccable the house has ever had. He even out-impecced Wesley Eddy and Allan Rogers, no mean sartorial feat.

Incidentally, since you have been worrying so about it, a composite of seven American cities is said to have been used in contriving the background for "The Secret Six," the vivid drama of politics and the underworld that comes to the Palace screen tomorrow and of which I missed a Wednesday midnight preview through press of other matutinal duties.

Now that the decision has been definitely made, it may be revealed that the Metropolitan, omitted from yesterday's advance week announcements, will continue "Ten Nights in a Barroom" through a second week. The picture has proved another of those surprise hits that pack them in.

To inaugurate the Fox Theater's observance of National Music Week, the Business High School Girls' Glee Club will sing at the first afternoon performance today, and the Boys' Glee Club from the same institution at the second, both under the direction of Miss Emma Louise Thompson.

The 25-piece orchestra of the Americanization School Association will play at both evening performances. The personnel of this organization represents ten different nationalities, under the conductorship of Vladimir Vasa.

I suppose your back yard has been full of gold finches, too, these past few days?

Former Boy King Has Diphtheria

Crown Prince Michael Is Stricken at Mother's Home in Roumania.

Bucharest, Roumania, April 30 (A. P.).—Crown Prince Michael, former boy King of Roumania, was stricken with diphtheria today. He was running a high temperature. Two injections of serum were administered by physicians, who expressed the belief that serious danger had been averted.

The former boy king was stricken at the home of his mother, Queen Helen, who is estranged from King Carol. Michael was said to be suffering considerable pain.

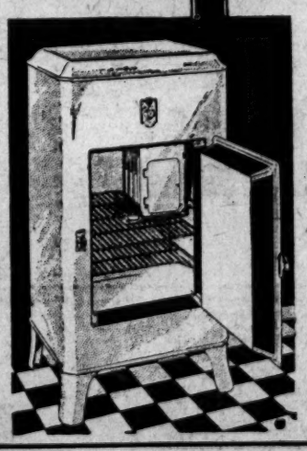
Made in 3 sizes, with 7¼, 8½ and 10 square feet of shelf area. All have Pyroxalin lacquer exterior finish, Porcelain-on-Steel interior, PositiveAirCirculation feature and Hermetically Sealed Unit.



BEFORE the final design of the Majestic Refrigerator was definitely decided upon, over 10,000 housewives were personally interviewed to learn just what features each wished for in an electric refrigerator.

One would expect a thousand different opinions, varying so widely as to be impossible of accomplishment, yet after all questionnaires had been carefully cross-tabulated and studied it was found that 30 features fully met all the demands of these thousands of practical housekeepers.

Flat Top, Quiet Operation, Concealed Mechanism, Conveniently Placed Temperature Regulator, Plenty of Ice Cubes . . . all these important points, and twenty-five more, were incorporated.

Majestic's exceptionally thick wall of Dry-Zero insulation and vibrationless rotary pump insure low cost operation the year 'round.

Majestic Dealers are prepared to demonstrate these great machines fully and extend liberal terms on their purchase. Make it a point to examine a Majestic today or tomorrow.

HOW IT BEGAN

By Russ Murphy and Ray Sprangley

PRETZELS DO NOT BELONG WITH BEER
THE WORD "PRETZEL" IS DERIVED FROM THE LATIN "PRETIOLA" MEANING A LITTLE REWARD. PRETZELS WERE ORIGINALLY GIVEN ABOUT 1500 A.D., TO GOOD LITTLE CHILDREN AS A REWARD FOR LEARNING THEIR PRAYERS. THE FORM OF THE PRETZEL WAS DESIGNED TO REPRESENT FOLDED ARMS, REMINDING ONE OF AN ATTITUDE OF PRAYER.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

GOOD-BY, MENINGITIS, FOR A WHILE.

THE danger of badly epidemic meningitis conditions has passed, so far as 1931 is concerned. There may be local outbreaks of small proportions and there is certain to be a greater general prevalence than there was two years ago in the same months, but conditions will not be bad and no one needs to be anxious. Certainly there will not be any such epidemic waves of meningitis as periodically swept across the country in the years prior to 50 years ago. In fact, there will be so little epidemic meningitis in the remainder of 1931 that the average citizen would never know it is around were there no health department reports and no health columns.

The next menace, so far as epidemics of disease of the central nervous system are concerned, is from possible epidemics of infantile paralysis. Local epidemics are apt to bob up toward the end of May. If the local health authorities and the people of the places where these outbreaks occur are careless and indifferent the local condition may smolder until later in the summer and then become bad. The greater menace is not due until about August 1.

In the last 25 years the abdominal organs have been made safe so far as epidemic and near epidemic infections are concerned. This statement strains the word "safe" considerably, but as applied to comparative conditions it can be successfully defended. In more recent years the lungs are becoming safe from infections. There is a long road to travel before they can be said to be safe, but we are on the way.

But the bad news that somewhat offsets the good is that the central nervous system is in for trouble. There is an increasing tendency toward infections of those important organs. It seems probable that there are some new diseases in the making, and the old ones seem to be on the increase. Meanwhile, health people all over the world are at work trying to find cures for these diseases of the brain and cord and, what is more important, vaccines and methods to prevent them.

If a person will avoid infection this year, there is hope that a method of prevention will be found before the wheel turns him another chance to catch it.

VITAMIN B.

N. M. R. writes:

1. What is vitamin B?
2. In what foods is it found?

REPLY.

1. It is one of the vitamins or, more accurately, it is several of them in combination. The term generally used is vitamin B complex. One of this group prevents and cures pellagra. Another does the same for beriberi. Possibly a third, having to do with fertility of parents and vigor of progeny, is a member of the combination.

2. Among the foods that are rich in one or more of this group are wheat germ, whole wheat grains, flours and cereals containing whole grains, yellow of eggs, salmon, lean meat, peas, beans and most vegetables.

Sylvan Theater Stage Lighting System Ready

Installation of the stage lighting system at the Sylvan Theater, south of the Washington Monumnet, has been completed and found satisfactory, officials of the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks said yesterday.

Electricians will now be able to synchronize illuminating effects and to utilize colored lights and spotlights. The footlights are housed in concrete boxes.

Low Northeast Library Bid Reported $118,700

Boyle-Robertson, Inc., submitted the lowest bid yesterday for construction of the Northeast branch library at Seventh street and Maryland avenue northeast, according to Roland M. Brennan, chief clerk of the engineering department. The estimate was $118,700.

Eighteen bids were received for the project, the highest estimate being $137,400. The amount available is $145,775.03.

M'CALLUM OPPOSES SHIPLEY IN GOLF SEMIFINALS

Westbrook Pegler Says

PARIS, April 30.—Owing to some perverse quirk, the French people are partial to the French language in their discussions of boxing, and Americans attending the international Golden Gloves bouts in Chicago in May may wish to know that when a Frenchman speaks of "crochet" he is merely referring to a hook, and when he speaks of a "coup" he means nothing but a sock or bust.

And to be perfectly "au courant" with the situation, the customer would do well to advise him that "poids mouches" is flyweight; "poids plumes" featherweight, and "poids cogs" bantanweight. Your correspondent is not entirely au courant yet, having been here less than a week, but he is becoming more au courant by association with the "sports" at a place called the Silver Ring. This place is conducted by Mr. Jeff Dickson, of Vicksburg, Miss., who has just received the decoration of the Legion of Honor from the French government for promoting prize fights for the benefit of wounded soldiers.

Appreciation of prize fight promoters runs a little higher here than it does in the United States. On a dollar - for - dollar comparison of receipts turned over to charities of late, Tex Rickard would have deserved the Grand Cross of the Legion.

Estimate in U. S. Is Lower

It will be pleasant news, no doubt, to a large number of Americans who have certain views regarding prohibition that the decoration of the Legion of Honor has been awarded to a saloonkeeper, for Mr. Dickson's Silver Ring is a place where alcoholic beverages are sold. The "sportifs" at Chevalier Dickson's place seem to have some misgivings regarding the ability of their "boxeurs" to "faire la boxe" with "boxeurs Americains" in all classes up to "poids lourds," the heavyweight class. They do not believe amateur boxing has been as well developed here as in the United States.

They are quite optimistic regarding Fernand Laudrin, their representative in the poids lourds, who is an army aviator. Dr. Charles Sebenq, the physician who will accompany the French team to Chicago, believes M. Laudrin would be professional heavyweight champion of Europe if he were a professional. It required formal consent from three separate departments of the French government to obtain permission for the young man to go to the United States for the amateur bouts, and his professional career, if any, will have to wait until his soldiering is finished.

For the sake of brevity, the French have adopted certain familiar English terms for the conduct of their "combats de boxe," because even equivalents might sound like a political debate and run on and on. Thus, referees in the amateur bouts are limited to three English words, namely out, break and some other word which your correspondent did not quite catch in the confusion of the felicitations addressed to "Le Proprietaire, M. Chevalier Dickson," of Vicksburg, Miss., and the Silver Ring of Paris upon his decoration, and Mr. Dickson's modest oration in acknowledgment.

3 Words Do for Amateur Referees

Mr. Dickson was so carried away that he directed his bartenders to serve a round of refreshments on the house, and the sportifs in turn were so carried away by this unprecedented conduct of a Parisian saloonkeeper that all is confusion at the present writing.

The French boxeurs have been given their choice of interest to be visited in the United States when they are on their way to make the boxing with the boxeurs Americains in Chicago, and they have decided on Niagara Falls, the Chicago stock yards and New York City. There was one vote for Michigan City, Ind. No reason was given.

The Ballston Baseball Team is seeking a game with some strong unfimited club for Sunday, to be played on the Ballston Field. Manager McQuinn may be reached at Clarendon 1263 after 6 p. m.

Idle Nats Gain on Tribe And Mackmen; Crowder To Face Red Sox Today

West, Ankle Better, Likely to Return to Line-Up Today.

Fischer to Start in One Game of Twin Bill Saturday.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent).

BOSTON, Mass., April 30.—These Boston folks seem to have a habit of calling off ball games. Following a four-day visit of the world's champion Athletics, during which no diamond action was had, today's scheduled opener of a Washington-Boston series was declared postponed although the weather was not as unfavorable as it has been at some of the games played at Griffith Stadium this spring. In fact, the sun shone brightly just about game time.

The idea, of course, is to draw a large crowd at Fenway Park day after tomorrow, when a double-header will be played. There is an American League rule that teams may not list a twin bill on their first seasonal visit to a city but this was waived with respect to the Red Sox in the days when they did not play Sunday ball. As it has not been changed, although they play on the Sabbath here, Saturday's bargain day attraction is permissible.

The day proved profitable for the Nats nevertheless. By idling while Cleveland lost to the Tigers, they gained a half game on the league leaders and are now only a game out of first place. When the Yankees beat the Athletics today, the latter club, which is regarded as the team to beat for the pennant, fell another half game in the rear. The Mackmen are now two full games behind the Nats.

Johnson Plans to Use Crowder.

Manager Walter Johnson plans to use "General" Alvin Crowder tomorrow and hopes to have Sam West back in center field, with Harry Rice switching to right in this event. As the Red Sox have not played for four days, Manager John "Shano" Collins has all of his pitchers available and there is no telling which one he will start.

Johnson looks upon the four postponements here with the Athletics as a distinct "break" in favor of his team. That means four doubleheaders, likely in a row, when the Mackmen return here and will be a big strain on Connie Mack's three-man pitching staff. As the Red Sox have several good hurlers, I look for them to do considerable damage to the Athletics when these postponed games are played off. And, as we gained three games on the Yankees during that time, I figure this long lay-off for the A's, and what it caused in the way of double-headers later, as a gain for my team over the Mackmen, too."

Regarding West's injury, his ailing ankle was greatly improved today and, with the added rest this afternoon, he is very likely to be able to play tomorrow.

Fischer to Start Saturday.

Pitcher Carl Fischer has made such a fine showing as a relief pitcher in his four shifts, once each against the Mackmen and Red Sox and twice against the Yankees—that Manager Johnson plans to start him in one of the games of Saturday's doubleheader.

"Carl has developed almost overnight," said Johnson in discussing the improvement shown in this young left-hander. "I don't mind admitting now that we were on the verge of letting him go at the Biloxi training camp, but he suddenly began to show something and now he strikes me as a mighty fine prospect. He always has had a good fast one, but the development of a fair curve, plus the

YANKS ROUT WALBERG, WIN, 7-2

Johnson Yields Only 6 Hits; Foxx Fans 3 Times.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30 (A.P.).—Returning to action after four days of idleness, the Athletics ran into Henry Johnson's fast ball at its best today and dropped the series opener to the Yankees, 7 to 2.

Johnson allowed only six hits and struck out seven. In the eighth inning he retired Foxx, Miller and Dykes in order without permitting a run after the Athletics had filled the bases. Foxx fanned three times.

The Yanks knocked Rube Walberg from the box in the sixth, when they scored three runs.

LANDIS BANS TWO.

Chicago, April 30 (A.P.).—Joseph Genewich, star New York Giant pitcher, and Johnny Gooch, veteran catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, today were placed on the ineligible list by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis for failing to report for duty ten days after the opening of the season.

Alfred Weston, of the Boston Braves, also was ruled ineligible.

Garden Sues To Halt Primo From Bout

Seeks Injunction to Prevent His Match With Sharkey.

Claims Prior Contract; Johnston Unperturbed.

NEW YORK, April 30 (A.P.).—The proposed heavyweight fight between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera was moved out of Ebbets Field and into the Federal Courts today.

The Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois, claiming to hold a contract prohibiting the ponderous Carnera from engaging in any "major bouts" before meeting the winner of the Max Schmeling-Young Stribling heavyweight title fight, scheduled for Cleveland July 3, filed an injunction in New York today seeking to halt the Sharkey-Carnera brawl.

The Illinois corporation asks not only that Carnera be enjoined from fighting Sharkey, but that he be further restrained from entering into any bouts without its consent, a consent he did not have when he signed the Sharkey contract, it said.

Sees Injury to Cleveland Bout.

In support of its petition for an injunction, the Garden pleads that if Sharkey and Carnera are allowed to proceed, it will seriously impair the gate receipts for the Schmeling-Stribling fight and that if Carnera be defeated it would make him practically worthless for the proposed championship bout in September under its auspices.

James Joy Johnston, copromoter with Humbert Fugazy for the Dodger Athletic Club, the promoter of record for the Sharkey-Carnera fight, labeled the injunction suit as an effort to gain publicity for the Cleveland show.

"If they have a good contract it probably will hold," Johnson said, and then added, "But they haven't."

"All I can say," he continued, "is that the 600 millionaires of Madison Square Garden had better muster all the legal brains they can because the Dodger Athletic Club knew what it was doing when it signed Sharkey and Carnera. We are willing to let the courts decide."

The Sharkey-Carnera fight was formally approved by the New York State Athletic Commission, which is not a party to the suit, last Tuesday. At that time Chairman James A. Farley made it clear the commission had no direct interest in the matter. It had been notified by the Garden along with other interested parties that an injunction would be sought if Carnera were signed to fight for any one except it.

The commission, Farley said, comes into the matter only when signed contracts of both fighters in a match are presented to it. When Carnera was signed by the Illinois Garden he was under suspension in New York and under his contract the opponent he is to meet is not designated by name.

Heath, of Reds, Breaks Arm as Pirates Win

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 30 (A.P.).—Reaching Eppa Rixey for [illegible] hits in the six innings he worked, one a homer inside the park by Lloyd Waner, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Cincinnati, 8 to 3, today. Meine gave the visitors eight hits.

Mickey Heath, the Reds' new first sacker from the Pacific Coast League, had his right arm broken when Thevenow, Pirate shortstop, crashed into him as he reached out to take Cuccinello's wide throw in the fourth inning. The bone was fractured between the wrist and elbow.

Robins End Slump, Beating Phillies, 6-1

Brooklyn, April 30 (A.P.).—The combination of Babe Phelps' pitching and Johnny Frederick's hitting enabled the Brooklyn Robins to snap out of their slump and trim the Phillies, 6 to 1, in today's series opener.

Phelps held the visitors to six hits, while Frederick drove in four runs, three of them on his home run in the third inning. Jim Elliott, who had registered two previous victories over the Robins, lasted only four innings.

TIGERS TURN ON TRIBE TO WIN, 9-4

Hoyt Holds Indians in Check; Harris Shifts Batting Order.

DETROIT, Mich., April 30 (A.P.).—The Detroit Tigers used a new batting order today and made an even dozen hits off three Cleveland pitchers, good for a 9-4 victory. Waite Hoyt, on the mound for Detroit, outlasted Hudlin, Miller and Craghead.

Fonseca, Indian first baseman, had a perfect day with a single and two doubles in three times at bat. In the seventh his double drove in three runs.

Johnson and Alexander each got three hits in four times at bat for Detroit. The Tigers scored four runs off Hudlin in the first inning and never were headed.

Jess Harper Returns To Notre Dame Today

South Bend, Ind., April 30 (A.P.).—Jess Harper, the big rancher from Kansas, will return to Notre Dame tomorrow to carry on for Knute Rockne, the man who once carried on for him.

At his own request, no official welcome will be held for Notre Dame's new director of athletics, although a large number of students are expected to greet him.

Harper resigned as football coach at Notre Dame in 1918, turning the job over to the late Rockne.

Braves, Given 2 Hits, Bow To Giants

Fitzsimmons Hero in Duel With Zachary, Winning, 2-1.

Pitcher Scores 1 Run, Drives in Another in Fast Game.

NEW YORK April 30 (A.P.).—Fred Fitzsimmons pitched and batted the Giants to a 2-to-1 victory over the Boston Braves in their series opener today.

In addition to holding the Braves to two hits, the crack right-hander scored the first Giant run in the fifth inning and singled Mel Ott home with the winning score in the sixth. The Braves scored their lone run without a hit.

Tom Zachary allowed the Giants ten hits, but kept them well distributed for the most part.

Two 21-Hole Matches Mark Day; 11 Won on 18th Green.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

WALTER R. M'CALLUUM, who won the prize for low gross in the qualification round of the invitation tournament of the Washington Golf and Country Club, yesterday escaped the traditional fate which awaits a medalist, surviving through his two matches to play as a semifinalist this morning, his opponent being M. A. Shipley, of the Argyle Club.

The other two semifinalists are James G. Drain, a 20-year-old member of the home club, against John L. Slattery, who plays third on the golf team of Georgetown University.

McCallum had an easy time to reach the semifinals, defeating Thomas S. Pitt, Argyle, in the morning round, 5 and 3, while in the afternoon he eliminated T. M. Belshe, of the Indian Spring Club, by the wide margin of 6 and 5.

Slattery Jumps Stymie In Morning Match.

The battle royal, which resulted in an unexpected upset, was between Slattery and Harry G. Pitt, Manor. The latter had won his morning match against Dr. Thomas D. Webb, Washington, by a return to his normal game, with five birdies between the fourth and the fourteenth holes, but in the afternoon he met a really hard customer when he was paired against Slattery. He was 1 up at the turn, and still held that advantage on the sixteenth tee. It looked as if he would win the sixteenth, making his dormie 2 up, when Slattery laid himself a stymie, but the Hilltop golfing star kept the match alive by cleverly jumping the stymie and halving the hole.

When Pitt's drive on the seventeenth went into the ditch the match was squared and Pitt only saved himself from defeat on the eighteenth by a remarkable niblick shot from the hillside, away on the right of the green, laying his ball within 4 feet of the hole and running down the putt.

The match came to an end on the twenty-first hole in dramatic fashion when Slattery chipped into the cup for a birdie 3 from fully 20 yards off

BEELZEBUB SETS PIMLICO STEEPLECHASE RECORD

Bradley Star Nose Winner In Feature

Leads From Start But Barely Stalls Off Cawvoge.

Louis O. Left at Gate by Starter as Favorite Players Boo.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., April 30.—A new 2-mile steeplechase track record of 3:46 4-5 was hung out in the thirteenth annual renewal of the Green Spring Valley Steeplechase, when Edward Riley Bradley's Beelzebub won by a nose from Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Cawvoge, with whom he was coupled in the wagering.

Beelzebub's victory netted Owner Bradley the $3,640 purse and erased from the record books the old mark of 3:47 3-5 made last November by Canterbury.

Freddie Thorndyke sent Beelzebub to the top at the drop of the flag and he never made a single mistake thereafter. He fenced faultlessly and showed plenty of speed, but was lucky to outlast Cawvoge for the purse.

Cawvoge chased Beelzebub until next to the last fence, where he bobbled and allowed Mrs. T. W. Durant's Sydney to go into second position. However, Cawvoge came on again and was second to Beelzebub over the last fence, but his rider, P. Bellhouse, lost his stirrups and this beat Mrs. Whitney's gelding out of first money.

Sydney easily led home the Fox Catcher Farm's King Crier for third money.

Of the field of fifteen going postward all but Luckite, Indigo and Blanton finished. The two fell, but their riders escaped injury.

Election Day Takes Opener Handily.

A crowd of 12,000 which took advantage of perfect spring weather saw Mrs. Katherine E. Hitt's Election Day race 4½ furlongs in 0:54 3-5 to win the Oriole opening event to pay $8.50.

Dark Vision took the lead, but was second to Cary T. Grayson's Misty entering the home lane. At the eighth pole, Workman had to snatch up Dark Vision when the Palmwood Stable's Galavantier bumped him. Going to the sixteenth pole, Watters moved to the lead with Election Day to win handily from Galavantier, with Misty heading William Ziegler, jr.'s Lead-Off for the show money.

The huge crowd took a drubbing when Starter James Milton left Louis O., the 8-to-5 favorite, standing behind the stall gates when he sent the field of 12 away in the Mackenzie, a half-mile sprint which found J. B. Belk's Flaming Mamie the winner.

Louis O was outside the gates and standing sideways when Milton lifted the latch. The announcer in the stands called out "false start," but the boys went right on about their business.

Only Flaming Mamie and Ral Parr's The Nile got away, and they ran one, two. Preston Burch's General Lejeune, who was heavily wagered upon away from the track, made a gallant bid to overhaul the first two, but could do no better than finish third.

The fans, who backed Louis O. into 8-to-5 favoritism rightfully booed and jeered after the running of the race.

Ellilona's Stretch Rush Wins Fourth.

A. Hullcoat's Ellona and Charlie Pegg proved the winning combination in the mile and one-sixteenth of the fourth.

W. E. Allen's Verve, who made all the pace until collared by Ellona half way through the home stretch, easily saved the place from E. P. Summerfield's Hedge Fence.

Workman's Ride Wins For Red Briar.

The Chincoteau, six-furlong secondary feature found H. Guy Bedwell's Red Briar, 4-year-old chestnut son of Thunderstorm—Briar Path, under a powerful ride by Sonny Workman, winning by a neck from P. S. P. Randolph's Gay Pal. John A. Morris' Spirit River was third.

Gay Pal and J. E. Davis' Redoubtable cut out the early running and Workman had to resort to the whip half way down the back lane to keep in fourth place.

Gay Pal was still setting the pace at the eighth pole, but Red Briar, under a terrific lashing by Workman, was gaining on the pacemaker.

Watters, astride Gay Pal, started bearing out the final sixteenth in an effort to check Red Briar's rush, but Workman shot his mount's head in front to keep it there, until they had passed safely under the imaginary wire.

Meander and Workman Never Headed.

Sonny Workman took W. J. Owen's Meander to the top at the rise of the barrier and made every post of the mile and one-sixteenth route, a winning one in the sixth.

Trailing Meander to the wire came P. B. Codd's Night Signal, with A. J. Gericke's Ear Full third.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—ELECTION DAY, $8.50, $5.30, $3.70; GALAVANTIER, $44.20, $14.60; MISTY, $3.30.

ELECTION DAY, a bit green at the barrier, began slowly, worked her passage up on the outside and finished with a rush last furlong to get up in the final strides. GALAVANTIER, in close pursuit of the pace, caught and passed the pacemakers at furlong pole, but hung after taking the lead. MISTY had a lot taken out of her racing DARK VISION into submission. She tired in stretch run and swerved across in front of DARK VISION. Workman was forced to pull the latter up.

SECOND RACE—Four furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. The Mackenzie. For maiden 2-year-olds. Start poor from stall gates. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 3:01. Off at 3:09. Winner, J. B. Two-dollar mutuels paid—FLAMING MAMIE, $7.20, $4.40, $3.10; THE NILE, $9.20, $7.10; GENERAL LEJEUNE, $4.30.

FLAMING MAMIE and THE NILE broke rapidly and drew away from their opposition first furlong. FLAMING MAMIE forced a fast pace first three furlongs and drew away into an easy lead in final furlong. THE NILE met with no mishaps. She was unable to keep pace with the winner, but always held others safe. GENERAL LEJEUNE had to be whipped away from the post, made a desperate effort to overcome the leaders, but was never able to close the gap. LOUIS O. was left at the post. The field was off in ragged fashion.

THIRD RACE—Two miles. Purse, $3,000 added. Green Spring Valley Steeplechase Handicap. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:47. Off at 3:51½. Winner, E. Two-dollar mutuels paid—BEELZEBUB (entry), $7.60, $8.20, $5.20; CAWVOGE (entry), $8.20, $5.20; SYDNEY (entry), $6.50.

BEELZEBUB came again after taking the last jump and, fighting it out with CAWVOGE, outsamed latter in final drive. CAWVOGE, hard ridden all last quarter, responded with a good effort and took the lead at last jump, but stumbled in landing. This cost him the race. SYDNEY, a forward contender entire journey, fenced well and shook off CRUMPLER after taking last fence. INDIGO lost rider on the flat going to eighth fence. BLANTON fell at tenth jump. LUCKITE fell at ninth jump and SIR JOHN L. ran out of course at eleventh fence.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:16. Off at 4:19. Winner, A. Two-dollar mutuels paid—EILONA, $16.40, $10.00, $6.90; VERVE, $69.20, $38.60; HEDGEFENCE, $9.20.

EILONA, outrun from the start, was rated off the leaders until making the turn into the home stretch, when she moved up with a rush on the inside. She finished full of speed and drew away into a commanding lead last furlong. VERVE had a lot taken out of her racing WIG into submission first six furlongs. HEDGEFENCE wore down the tiring NAE BREEKS and outgamed him at end. WIG was hustled along the entire journey.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,500. The Chincoteague. For 3-year-olds and upward, foaled in Maryland. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:50. Off at 4:57½. Winner, H. G. Bedwell's ch. c. (4), by Thundergirm—Briar Path. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $300; third, $200. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 3-5, 1:13.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—RED BRIAR, $6.90, $4.10, $2.60; GAY PAL, $3.50, $2.40; SPIRIT RIVER, $2.40.

RED BRIAR raced under slight restraint to top of home stretch. He finished in the middle of the track and, closing full of courage, wore GAY PAL down and was up right at the end. GAY PAL had lot taken out of him forcing the early pace and racing REDOUBTABLE off her feet. He tired badly last sixteenth. SPIRIT RIVER, slow to find his stride, finished strong. TEWSENELDA broke very slow and was shuffled back.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 5:23. Off at 5:23. Winner, W. J. *Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MEANDER, $6.80, $3.50, $3.10; NIGHT SIGNAL, $4.30, $3.30; EAR FULL, $4.50.

Workman hustled MEANDER to the front in run to the first turn and rated him under slight restraint. He had a bit in reserve when NIGHT SIGNAL challenged at top of home stretch and he held the latter safe all last furlong. NIGHT SIGNAL slipped through next the inside rail rounding the far turn. He moved up with a rush, but hung after getting to the leader at top of home stretch. EAR FULL, hard ridden entire trip, tired badly after making a determined challenge rounding the far turn. ANCOCOA, erratic improved his position first six furlongs, but stopped in stretch run.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 5:59. Off at 6:02½. Winner, J. Two-dollar mutuels paid—CLEAR SKY, $6.10, $4.40, $3.00; ROYAL PANOPLY, $11.40, $5.20; PHANTASIME, $3.50.

CLEAR SKY, slow to get going and a distant trailer for the first half mile, reached his field rapidly and, swinging to the outside when moving to the front, drew out at will during the final stages. ROYAL PANOPLY, kept well placed from the start, made repeated bids in the final half mile and held on well. PHANTASIME was hurried to the front and had good speed, but weakened after seven furlongs.

Pitt Team Beats G. W. At Tennis; Jacobs Wins

By the margin of six matches to three, Pittsburgh's net team defeated George Washington yesterday on the courts of Columbia Country Club, winning four of the six singles and two of the three doubles.

Eddie Jacobs, ace of the visiting team, had little trouble in disposing of Bob Considine, 6—0, 6—4. Considine forced the issue a bit in the second set, but Jacobs finished going away.

Alan Staubly gave G. W. one of its best wins in disposing of Goodman, of Pittsburgh, in a three-set, free-hitting match, 3—6, 6—2, 6—3. Staubly played his usually stinging backcourt game to good effect, but accomplished the victory by mixing his hard shots with a heavily undercut chop.

The No. 1 doubles match in which Jacobs and Goodman defeated Staubly and Considine, 6—4, 9—7, was bitterly fought from start to finish. The local team led at 4—1 in the second set.

SINGLES.

Jacobs (P.), defeated Considine, 6—0, 6—4; Staubly (P.), defeated Goodman, 3—6, 6—2, 6—3; Goldsmith (G. W.), defeated Cohen, 8—6, 7—5; Adler (P.), defeated Gable, 6—0, 6—1; Alcorn (P.), defeated R. Sherfy, 6—2, 7—5; Vollmer (P), defeated L. Sherfy, 1—6, 6—2, 6—3.

DOUBLES.

Jacobs and Goodman defeated Considine and Staubly, 6—4, 9—7; Alcorn and Cohen defeated Goldsmith and Gable, 6—3, 1—6, 10—8; R. and L. Sherfy defeated Adler and Vollmer, 6—2, 6—4.

G. U. Athletes Honor Memory of Thompson

All athletic activities were suspended at Georgetown University yesterday as a mark of respect to the memory of William Thompson, sophomore half back, who died early yesterday morning in the university hospital as a result of an operation performed last Monday night.

Thompson was a brother of Jerry Thompson, who starred on Georgetown football teams of 1926 and 1927. Interment will be at Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Blick Midgets Oppose Rendezvous Girls' Team

The John Blick Midgets will oppose the Rendezvous Girls' teams in a special match of three games, to be rolled at the Arcadia alleys tomorrow night. The affair gets underway at 7:30 o'clock.

The Rendezvous quintet finished second in the Ladies District League, and possess a veteran array of pinspillers in Peggy Babcock, Margaret Leaman, Sammy Forteney, Bess Kirk and Irene Scott. The Blick boys are also well represented in Ouncie Harrison, Al Baer, Bill Sisler, Ray Sisler, Jack Simmons and Bob Chalfonte. This combination has suffered only one reverse during the entire season. Total pins will decide the winner.

BROWN WINS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, April 30 (A.P.).—Panama Al Brown, generally recognized bantamweight champion of the world, knocked out Verdist, Belgian featherweight champion, in the eighth round of their ten-round bout here tonight.

Oelschlager, Ex-G. W. Athlete, Dies Suddenly

Word was received here yesterday of the death on April 23 of William Oelschlager, former George Washington University athlete, in St. Louis, his native city. Oelschlager was stricken suddenly upon his arrival at his home after a bus ride from this city. He had been a sufferer of diabetes.

In 1930 Oelschlager was a member of the George Washington freshman football squad and performed as the heavyweight on the Colonial boxing team.

500 ATHLETES IN MARYLAND CARNIVAL TOMORROW

Four Sports On Colorful Program

Va. U. Withdraws Due to Death of Dr. Alderman.

2 Track Meets, Baseball, Lacrosse and Tennis Listed.

THE University of Virginia has cancelled the appearance of its varsity track team and freshmen lacrosse team scheduled for tomorrow in the Maryland University field day, it was announced yesterday, following the sudden death of Dr. E. A. Alderman, president of the Charlottesville institution at Connellsville, Pa., Wednesday night.

The withdrawal of the track team leaves the Maryland and Navy cinderpath artists to fight it out in the varsity meet, which is to be conducted concurrently with the annual Maryland interscholastic meet, feature of the program. Also, the freshmen lacrosse game, which was to have opened the program at 10:30 a. m., has been called off.

Virginia's track team had been figured capable of extending the strong Navy aggregation for the varsity honors, so as a result of the cancellation Navy remains a top-heavy favorite inasmuch as Maryland's team is far below standard this year.

500 Athletes to Take Part.

Approximately 500 athletes will take part in the carnival that includes besides the track events, a baseball game, a lacrosse tilt and a tennis match with Maryland University representatives appearing in all. West Virginia University will furnish the opposition in the baseball game, Penn State is to be the lacrosse opponent and William and Mary will be the invading host in the tennis match.

The interscholastic meet has attracted 372 athletes representing 46 schools, including Tech, Central and Eastern, of Washington, and Episcopal, of Alexandria. The last mentioned, with Tech, is expected to figure prominently in the battle for the point trophy.

Prince Georges Schools Compete.

A section of the meet has been set aside entirely for schools of Prince Georges County, but the county events, however, will be run in conjunction with the rest. Thirteen events are listed for all schools and five closed to county schools.

Opening the program at 1 p. m. will be the field events of the varsity and scholastic meets. A half hour later will begin the track races and the baseball game. At 2 o'clock the tennis match will start, and the lacrosse game, starting about 4:15, will be the closing contest.

COLD FORCES NATS TO IDLE AT BOSTON

knowledge of how to use it, has made him a success.

"Carl is keeping his curve ball low and generally inside, and is using it as a change of pace. He's been taught to show it to all of the batters and only use it as a waste ball or, in any event, to put it over where they can't do much damage to it. And, he has learned his lesson well. Then again, he has plenty of confidence that's in his favor. If he don't go the route Saturday and win his game, I'll certainly be disappointed."

While Johnson admits that he has been somewhat disappointed in the fielding of the Nats to date, he declares that they are a better team than they have shown. "The boys simply haven't gotten started yet. Joe Cronin is not as bad as some of his errors have made him look, while any one who has seen Ossie Bluege year in and year out knows that he can peg better than he has been doing. I'm not worrying but what we'll step out of our fielding slump shortly and show the class which I know we have."

The Nats are calling Roy Spencer "Slug" since he started off "busting the apple" when the opening gong rang. He's won several games and the pitchers throughout the league, at least those he has faced so far, seem to have plenty of respect for him now, whereas in past seasons he has been considered just another batter.

W. & L. LINKS ACE BEATS BRITON

Howell Victor Over Perkins on 21st Hole at Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 30 (A. P.).—In one of the most spectacular matches ever played over the Cascades course Billy Howell, youthful Richmond golfer, today defeated T. Phil Perkins, former British amateur champion, 1 up in 21 holes in the semi-finals of the Old Dominion golf tournament.

E. H. Bobbitt, of Hot Springs, defeated Winfield Donham, of Montclair, N. J., 5 and 4, and will meet Howell tomorrow in the finals at 36 holes.

Howell, who is Middle Atlantic champion and an 18-year-old Washington and Lee student, fought a great battle against his more experienced opponent, winning on the twenty-first green when Perkins missed a short putt after a recovery shot that made another halved hole appear certain. They alternated in winning holes and rounded the turn all even.

The Bobbitt-Donham contest, while a good exhibition of golf, lacked the spectacular touch and the gallery was with Howell and Perkins. Donham is a teammate of Howell on the Washington and Lee Team.

M'CALLUM REACHES TOURNEY SEMIFINAL

the green. Pitt, on the green in 2, had left himself a 30-foot putt for a half, but the ball, although it hit the cup, failed to drop.

There were innumerable incidents of more than ordinary interest during the day's play, as, for instance, when Slattery, 3 down and 3 to go, to J. H. Dwight, Columbia, in the morning round, squared the match on the eighteenth green and then won the nineteenth when Dwight, after slicing his drive, overplayed the green.

Drain, who is a semifinalist, was 3 down in the first three holes but the youngster did not lose his courage and finally defeated J. G. Herman, one of the longest hitters in the Washington Club.

Stevinson Encounters Disaster on 17th.

Miller B. Stevinson, who survives in the consolation, was eliminated from the championship flight, although he won the tournament last year, by driving his ball from the seventeenth tee into the ditch, giving Shipley, his opponent, an advantage of 1 up, which Shipley held to the finish by halving the final hole. J. P. McCarron, Congressional, after battling bravely against Maj. E. A. Noyes, Army-Navy, for 20 holes, lost on the twenty-first when he hooked his tee shot out of bounds.

The closeness of the contests yesterday was demonstrated by the fact that two went to 21 holes, three to the nineteenth and eleven more were decided on the eighteenth. The main interest in the matches today centers around the struggle between McCallum and Shipley in the morning round of the semifinals, for the enthusiastic friends of Slattery from Georgetown University were certain yesterday afternoon that he would come through for the final round.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, who remains in the tournament as a semifinalist in the consolation of the third sixteen, will present the prizes at the conclusion of the tournament this afternoon.

JARRETT ACE OF W. & L. VICTORY

Holds N. C. State Safe to Win by 5-2 Margin.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 30.—Jack Jarrett, sophomore pitching star from Dunbar, W. Va., this afternoon led Washington and Lee from a three weeks' sojourn in the wilderness of the Tristate League as the Generals upset North Carolina State, 5-2. The Generals won their last game in the league by beating Virginia, 9-2, at Charlottesville, April 9.

The Wolfpack brought a great trio of outfielders to Wilson Field in the persons of Hargrove, Goodman and Brake, who robbed the Generals of base hits by taking thirteen out of fourteen chances. Hargrove in left was particularly effective in spearing line drives.

The Generals played heads-up ball to tally their runs on three hits, garnered off McLawhorn's hurling. Routon's hit, two stolen bases, a base on balls to Mattox, Fuller's wild throw, Wilkie's bobble of Williams' fly and Cremin's hit over third gave the Generals three runs in the first, after successive singles by Hargrove, Duke and Brake had given State a run in their half of the inning.

Goodman and Brake doubled in the fifth to give State their last score. Washington and Lee tallied twice in the seventh on Goodman's error on Stapleton's fly, Richardson's hit, Routon's sacrifice fly and McLawhorn's error on William's hit. Jack Jarrett fielded his position well, taking part in six plays.

DEVITT NET MEN WIN.

Devitt Prep's tennis team went back into the running yesterday with a 3-1 victory over Takoma-Silver Spring, at Congressional Country Club courts. Willis and Nicholson, Devitt's aces, put their team into a 2-0 lead by two easy victories of Bozlewich and Staig, respectively, by the scores 6—0, 6—1.

Shorb turned in Silver Spring's only tally by defeating Kendall, 8—6, 8—6. In the lone doubles match, Nicholson and Dabney defeated Staig and Bozlewich, 6—3, 6—2.

White Fans 19 Batters As Indians Win, 12-3

Special to The Washington Post.

Williamsburg, Va., April 30.—With Lefty White striking out nineteen batters, William and Mary swamped its ancient rival, the University of Richmond, on the diamond here this afternoon, 12 to 3. Today's victory puts the Indians back in a commanding position in the Virginia Conference loop, after their defeat by Bridgewater last week.

William and Mary bunched hits in the early innings to shove over ten runs by the fourth frame, Scott's home run with two men on bases in the second being one of the factors in this early lead.

Demerest and Darden were also credited with extra base hits. Richmond's runs came after Stallings was passed and Sherman sent a triple into right field that he stretched into a home run when Broderick muffed it.

White Sox Win in 11th After Loose Game, 10-9

Chicago, April 30 (A.P.).—In an eleven inning comedy of errors this afternoon, the Chicago White Sox defeated the St. Louis Browns, 10 to 9. Bob Fothergill singled to right in the eleventh, but Lu Blue was out at the plate on a fine throw by McNeely, and it appeared that Kimsey would weather the storm. Bill Cissell followed with another single to right and Reynolds scored the winning run.

Most of the scoring occurred in the early innings when Stewart and Braxton were doing the pitching. Seven errors were committed in the second inning, three by the Browns and four by the White Sox. McKain and Kimsey took over the mound labors and both did good jobs from then on. McKain allowed but four hits in eight innings and won his third game of the season. It was also the Sox's third win in a row. Ralph Kress, after playing almost every other position, was at first base for the Browns.

Staunton Cadets Bow To Woodberry Forest

Special to The Washington Post.

Woodberry Forest, Va., April 30.—Collecting fourteen hits from the offerings of two visiting pitchers, seven of them going for extra bases, the Woodberry Forest nine defeated Staunton Military Academy here this afternoon, 14 to 7.

In the first inning, Capt. Lewis, of the locals, poled out a homer, scoring one man ahead of him. In the third, a scoring spree by Woodberry Forest was featured by a double by Bond, a triple by Weaver and a circuit clout by Joyner.

Going in for Nay in the second inning, Weaver held the Cadets to three scattered hits. Capt. Lewis led at bat with three safeties out of five trips to the plate.

La Plata High Wins Charles County Meet

Special to The Washington Post.

La Plata, Md., April 30.—The annual field day for the public schools of Charles County were held on the grounds of La Plata High School yesterday. Dr. William Burdick, director of physical education of the State Department was in charge.

Despite a cloudy sky and a slight rain in the morning, a record-breaking crowd attended the games. A total of over 1,100 contestants participated in the events.

La Plata School won the day by obtaining a total of 179½ points. Lackey School of Indian Head was a close second with a score of 173½ points. Scores by the other schools are as follows: Glaava 105, Hughesville 60, Glymont 21, Nanjemoy 11, Pomonkey 10, Marbury 10, Waldorf 9½, Pisgah 4½, Rock Point 3.

Five records for the county were broken. Frank Wade, La Plata School, made the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds. Robert Bean, Hughesville School, broke the record in running broad jump, 115-pound class, by making 15 feet 8 inches. E. Heise, of Indian Head, made a record for the county in the running high jump, junior class, by clearing the pole at 4 feet 6¾ inches. Somerset Cooksey, La Plata School, running high jump, senior class, did 5 feet 1 inch, while F. Lewis Mitchell, La Plata School, in the soccer kick for distance, did 165 feet.

Hilltop Frosh Defeat G. U. Prep Nine, 11-4

The Georgetown Freshman nine turned in an 11-4 victory over Georgetown Prep yesterday afternoon at Garrett Park, showing a good defensive brand of play, being guilty of but one error and rapping out ten decisive hits, including two home runs by Keane, third baseman.

The Prepsters started out as though they were going to make short work of the Hoya Yearlings. O'Callahan set the Yearlings down in one-two-three order at the start, and then watched his teammates drive in three runs in their section of the opening inning.

Georgetown came back strong in the second inning to score five runs, aided by Keane's homer with two on base, and thereafter were never headed.

Crowley, Yearling pitcher, yielded only four hits to the team for which he starred last year. Felix was another Yearling who played for the Prep team last year.

Hitting honors went to Keane and Peterson, while Ragland, Prep catcher, turned in an able performance.

Episcopal High Nine Routs Hyattsville, 15-4

Hyattsville, Md., April 30.—Episcopal High School's Baseball Team walloped Hyattsville, 15 to 4, in Magruder Park here this afternoon. It was Hyattsville's sixth loss in seven starts.

Behind the steady pitching of Nicholson, Episcopal hammered out thirteen hits, one of them a homer by Hooff. Babe Anderson, who pitched virtually all the game for Hyattsville, was wild and ineffective. He passed twelve.

Episcopal gained an early lead and was never headed. Its advantage at the end of the second inning was 7 to 2.

EASTERN 6-5 VICTOR OVER EMERSON

Homer by Snyder Is Deciding Punch in Short Game.

THE entire roster of the Eastern High ball team managed to squeeze through a 6-5 victory over Emerson yesterday afternoon at Eastern field in a seven-inning game, marked by Eastern's rally in the fifth inning to score three runs.

Taylor's double and Snyder's home run in the fifth gave Eastern its winning margin after Bill Draper, Emerson flinger, had held the high school series champions pretty well under control.

STOCK PRICES RISE WITH BUYING RUSH

90 Composite Shares Gain 5.7 Points in Best Market Since October.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Stocks came back with a rush today when bears, discouraged by the absence of volume selling at the opening, swung first gradually and then rapidly to the buying side.

The rally, amounting to 5.7 points in the 90-share composite price index, was the best the market had seen since early last October, eclipsing by a small margin the automatic rebound that corrected the heavily oversold position in mid-December. Like that upturn, it was at the expense of the short interest, and it brought comfort to a Wall Street which badly needed relief from almost two months of steady selling pressure.

Because of yesterday's discouraging weakness, professional bears had doubtless expected heavy liquidation at the opening and were surprised by the steadiness of initial prices. U. S. Steel touched Wednesday's low during the first hour, but refused to break it. Shorts switched to American Can for a time, with indifferent success, and then began a cautious covering movement, which grew in breadth until the last hour, when the retreat became a scramble.

Pivotal Shares Rise.

In general, pivotal shares went up much faster than they had gone down. Net gains of 3 and 4 points were common. Many prominent issues closed 5 or 6 higher; thinly traded stocks shot up spectacularly. Sales amounted to 3,300,000 shares.

In some instances closing prices were slightly under the highs, for there was a little selling at the finish. U. S. Steel, for example, which had risen 5½, closed 4¾ up. Auburn yielded 4 points on an extreme advance of 28½, and Ingersoll-Rand shaded a 16-point jump. General Motors, General Electric, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Anaconda, Sears Roebuck, Loew's and Union Pacific returned net gains of 3 to 4, while Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Atchison and Worthington Pump ranged between 5 and 6 higher.

Speculative circles in Wall street rather believed the New York Federal Reserve Bank would follow its reduction in bill-buying rates with a cut in the rediscount rate, and rumors to this effect lent strength to the early covering. However, the directors' meeting after the close, announced no change.

Borrowing Rate Stands.

A lower rate could hardly be expected to exert much influence on local member bank borrowing, since the New York City banks have long been out of debt to the Federal and find it difficult to give profitable employment to funds now on hand. One of the obvious reasons for a cut would be to check further gold importations, but with the flow from Paris at least temporarily halted many bankers were not surprised at the maintenance of the 2 per cent borrowing charge.

President Grace's statement after the Bethlehem meeting, that neither little improvement nor much of a decline would be noted in May steel business, bore out the impression given by other interests in the trade. A fairly steady course for a few more weeks would be viewed as favorable.

Brokers' loans fell $114,000,000 in the last week, which witnessed considerable distress liquidation. Two brokerage houses were suspended from the exchange during the period, and it has been understood that some large amounts of weekly held stock were disposed of by other sellers. The decline in these loans was the largest of the year.

Later wheat futures rallied a cent in sympathy with the weather news and firmness at Winnipeg. Corn closed 1 to 1½ higher. Cotton was heavy, July breaking below 10 cents. Final quotations were 7 to 10 points off.

Foreign exchanges firmed. Sterling cables and the French franc recovered Wednesday's losses and other European rates showed nominal gains.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 30 (A.P.).—Lively upturns in grain prices late today accompanied word of a probable increase of the amount of imported wheat allowed in France. Purchases of United States wheat by France were also noted, and for the first week since last August no Russian wheat exports were announced. Stock market recoveries aided the upturn of grain.

Wheat closed irregular, ¾ cent off to 1⅛-1¼ up; corn, ¾-1⅛ advanced, oats at ¾-1¼ advance to ¼ decline, and provisions varying from 30 cents setback to a rise of 2 cents.

Crop deterioration reports from France preceded the forecasts of an additional enlargement of the quantities of foreign wheat that French millers would be permitted to use above the 15 per cent recently authorized by a quick succession of government decrees. Emphasizing bullish advices from France were forecasts of a decreased harvest in Poland. Urgent need of rain in Canada counted also strengthening factor, despite indications of scattered showers over a large area. There were complaints, too, of lack of moisture in domestic spring wheat territory.

Absence, however, of definite announcement relative to proposed reduction of Germany's wheat import duties did much to depress prices in the first part of the day. Bears made capital also of assertions that monthly private estimates to be issued here tomorrow would show general improvement of domestic winter wheat conditions, especially in the Southwest. Persistent selling of May wheat attracted special notice, too, and was ascribed to Government sponsored sources. After the close it was estimated that new purchases of North American wheat for shipment overseas would total more than a million bushels.

Corn and oats and rye rallied briskly with wheat. Indications were that corn, in particular, had been oversold. On the early downswings of all cereals, rye touched a new bottom-price record for the season.

Provisions averaged lower owing to dearth of aggressive demand.

BOND SALES ACTIVE IN SPOTTY MARKET

Foreign Issues Are Steady; Industrials Gain in Narrow Trading.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—Bonds wavered back and forth today in spotty but more actvie trading.

Foreign obligations were much steadier, but the turnover in a great many of them consisted of a few small sales. German Agricultural Bank 6s of October, 1960, and Polish 7s dropped sharply. Bulgarian 7½s, Sao Paulo 7s and Uruguayan 6s made good gains. An equally significant feature of all these issues was the moderate amount of trading in them. German 7s, Brazilian 6½s and Austrian 7s were active and steady. The mixed movements of this group were fairly typical of the rest of the list.

Sales in railroad loans were concentrated among a few issues. St. Paul 5s of 2000 were active at fractionally higher levels. St. Louis San Francisco 4½s of 1978 were steady on large sales, while New York, Chicago & St. Louis 4½s of 1978 lost fractions. Gilt-edge rails were usually quiet and unchanged. Loans of the United States Government were quiet most of the time, but continued firm.

Moderate selling pressure appeared in Cincinnati Gas & Electric 4s of 1968, which were one of the most active bonds. Detriot Edison 4½s lost fractions, but American Telephone 5s of 1961 showed a rising trend, showing that the price cross currents extended to the better-grade issues also.

Industrial issues were marked by unusually narrow trading and price changes. Phillips Petroleum 5½s receded further, while U. S. Rubber 5s made a good gain. Standard Oil of New York 4½s of 1951 were one of the most active bonds of the group at steady prices.

Although stock-privilege bonds were active, the changes in most of them were small. Warner Bros. Pictures 6s and Texas Corporation 5s were higher. Lautaro Nitrate 6s dropped sharply on a few sales.

Curb Review

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—A two-month decline in the curb market was interrupted by the sharpest rally of the year today.

Utilities and oils rallied briskly in a flurry of short covering. The day's turnover aggregated 580,000 shares or about 45,000 more than yesterday's.

Large scale buying of Standard of Indiana developed early in the day, along with strong support for the standards on the big board. This issue moved up nearly 2 points, then lost part of its gain, closing up 1 net. Cities Service recovered 1½ points in a large turnover, and closed at the best. Humble, Vacuum, Standard of Kentucky, Nebraska and Ohio all gained a point or two. There was little in the oil news to account for the upturn, and apparently sponsors of these issues were merely taking advantage of an oversold position.

Active short covering developed in the utilities. Electric Bond & Share closed about 3 points higher, and American Gas & Electric surged up nearly 8. Issues up about 1 to 2 included American Superpower, Associated Gas A, Central Public Service A, Electric Power & Light warrants, Middle West Utilities, Insull Utility Investment and United Light A.

High fliers in the industrials were Parker Rust Proof, up 8, and Aluminum Co., up 5. Ford, of Canada A, Ford, Ltd., Pilot Radio Deere, and Fox Theaters A were among issues gaining about 1 to 2 points. A few lightly traded issues declined. Quaker Oats appearing at 130½, off 9½ points.

In the investment trusts, Shenandoah preferred gained 3, while Sisto Financial lost 1.

DRY GOODS SESSION TO BE HELD MAY 25

Business Topics of Interest to Various Branches Are Listed on Program.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Topics vital to the business will be discussed at the initial general session of the concurrent conventions of the Controllers' Congress, store managers' division, personnel and traffic groups and Retail Delivery Association of the National Retail Dry Goods Association to be held here May 25-28, inclusive.

The program for this session, to be held in the grand ballroom of the Mayflower Hotel, beginning at 10 o'clock on the morning of May 25, will present important subjects for consideration of executives from the five participating groups before they convene in separate session to discuss more specialized problems of store procedure.

At this session, W. W. Everett, vice president of Woodward & Lothrop and chairman of the local committee on arrangements, will preside, and Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, president, Board of Commissioners, District of Columbia, will give an address of welcome. Following this, D. F. Kelly, president of The Fair, Chicago, and president of the association, will speak on "How to Make Merchandising More Profitable."

Older Employe Problem.

"The Problem of the Older Employe" will be presented by Murray W. Latimer, economist, Industrial Relations Counselors, Inc., New York, an outstanding authority on employment problems. "Our Vanishing Economic Freedom" will be the theme for the address of Merle Thorpe, editor, The Nation's Business.

These conventions are the semi-annual meetings of the five groups of the national association. Sessions of the controllers' congress, store managers' division, personnel and traffic groups are to be held at the Mayflower Hotel and those of the Retail Delivery Association at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Outstanding executives from among the 3,700 member stores of the association will discuss questions of importance to retailers during the four days of the meeting and a record attendance is expected of store owners, controllers, store, personnel, traffic and delivery managers.

Committee on Arrangement.

The local committee on arrangements is composed of Mr. Everett, Harold H. Levi, the Hecht Co.; Frank R. Jelleff, Frank R. Jelleff, Inc.; A. C. Case, the Palais Royal; B. B. Burgunder, S. Kann Sons Co.; Mark Lansburgh, Lansburgh & Bro.; I. L. Goldheim, Goldheim's, and Albert D. Hutzler, Hutzler Bros. Co., Baltimore.

Local bank clearings for April totaled $113,382,805.88, a decrease of $4,653,847.10 from April last year. Clearings for the four months of 1931 were $432,332,755.06, as compared with $446,914,825.40 for the corresponding period last year.

"We're Going Back to Old Virginia—Won't You Join Us?" reads the first "call" issued yesterday for the thirteenth annual convention of the District of Columbia Bankers Association at Hot Springs, Va., June 18-21. The call is in the shape of a blotter bearing calendars for May and June with the convention dates in red numerals.

American Ice Co. reports, for first quarter ending March 31, net earnings after all charges amounting to $48,086. Last year's figures for this period, on same basis, were $69,300.

Mitten Group Is Sued For $30,000,000

Philadelphia, April 30 (A.P.).—A suit for the return of nearly $30,000,000 was filed in the Federal District Court here today against Mitten Management, Inc., Mitten Bank Securities Co., the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co., and nearly a score of individuals including Mayor Harry A. Mackey.

The action, which also calls for the abrogation of Mitten Management's contract to manage the transit company's lines, was brought by Rosalbino Giannini, of Camden, N. J., a small stockholder.

Oil Well Is Discovered In New Texas Area

Longview, Tex., April 30 (A.P.).—An oil well brought in by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. in the South Kilgore area of East Texas, has extended production more than a mile from previously proved territory.

The location of the well, the No. 1, still helps to link the Kilgore and Joiner oil pools. The Magnolia product.on department estimated the well's daily production at 16,320 barrels on the basis of the initial flow yesterday.

Wall Street Briefs

National Public Service Corporation has purchased all the common stock of Eastern New Jersey Power Co. from Utilities Power & Light Corporation. As a result of the purchase National Public Service increases its annual consolidated gross revenues to approximately $36,000,000, and total assets of $264,000,000. National Public Service is a subsidiary of National Electric Power Co., and a part of the Middle West Utilities System.

The gold statement of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for the week ended April 29 shows imports of $7,000,000 from Argentina, $3,492,000 from France, $456,000 from Mexico and $155,000 chiefly from Latin-American countries. Gold earmarked for foreign account increased $1,500,000. There were no exports.

The average renewal rate for all money during April was 1.517 per cent, compared with 1.53 per cent in March and 4 per cent in April, last year.

Floyd B. Odlum, vice president of Electric Bond & Share Co., and William O. Hays, jr., vice president of Electrical Securities Corporation, have been elected directors of American European Securities Co.

Kolster Radio Corporation common stock, which was one of the speculative favorites of the bull market, disappeared from the ranks of publicly traded stocks today when the New York Stock Exchange announced that the stock and the certificates of deposit for it had been stricken from its list. The company is now in receivership. The stock reached a peak price of 95⅛ in 1928. The stock has ranged from ½ to 2¾ this year and the certificates have varied between ⅛ and 1⅜.

George Whitney, of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the board of the National City Bank, of New York, have been elected trustees of the Consolidated Gas Co. of New York. They succeed Samuel Sloan, of the City Bank Farmers Trust Co., and the late Walter R. Addicks.

Vincent Bendix, president of Bendix Aviation Corporatino, expressed the belief that by the middle of the year the automobile companies will be back in their normal stride and that earnings of his company will rise accordingly. He expects the present quarter to be substantially better than the previous quarter, when, he said, dividends had been amply earned, due to an increase in the manufacture of aircraft and automobiles. A statement said that the corporation's earnings for the first three months this year were well over $1,000,000 in excess of those for the final quarter last year. A statement issued yesterday erroneously attributed these figures to sales.

Curtis Publishing Co. reduced the annual dividend basis on the common stock to $4 from $6 by declaring a monthly payment of 33 1-3 cents a share. The stock has been paying 50 cents monthly.

First quarter net income of the Missouri Pacific Railroad was $580,095, equal to 81 cents a share on the $5 preferred stock, on which there is a substantial accumulation of unpaid dividends. In the same period last year the road earned $1,531,349, equivalent to 76 cents a share on the common after allowing for the regular quarterly preferred requirements.

Wheeling Steel Corporation reports net loss of $628,623 for the first quarter contrasting with net profit of $1,253,224 a year ago.

Consolidated Cigar Corporation's first quarter earnings made a favorable comparison with 1930, totaling $478,547 against $497,473.

Directors of Packard Motor Car Co. have declared a dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock. In the two preceding quarters dividends of 15 cents each were made, prior to which 25 cents was paid quarterly.

Directors of Batchelder, Snyder, Dorr & Doe Co. have omitted the $2 quarterly dividend on the preferred stock due May 1. The company is controlled by Frosted Foods Co., Inc., a subsidiary of General Foods Corporation.

A sale of copper has been made in the domestic market at 9¾ cents a pound, delivered, ⅛ of a cent below the bottom of last year's decline in the fall. The price is the lowest in more than 27 years. Trade circles reported there was practically no demand in the domestic market and that custom smelters are holding their price at 9½ cents, delivered. Foreign sales of the metal dropped off sharply today.

HUGE BOND ISSUE BY TREASURY SEEN

Long-Term Notes Considered as Method of Settling Present Fiscal Situation.

(United Press.)

A huge issue of long-term Government bonds is being considered by the administration as a method of straightening out the tangled fiscal situation and heading off progressive demands for increased taxes during the next session of Congress.

It was learned yesterday that a high official of the Treasury has informed members of the Senate finance committee that an issue of long-term securities will probably be resorted to during the coming summer or fall. This, it was said, was one of the reasons back of the Treasury's request, granted by Congress last winter, for authority to issue $8,000,000,000 in new securities beyond the amount previously authorized.

The Treasury now has short-term securities outstanding amounting to more than $3,000,000, a larger floating debt than at any time since war days. The amount will increase substantially during the next few months when several short-term issues mature and will have to be refunded.

Current Expenses Needed Also.

At the same time, the Government must raise money to meet current expenses, including provisions for the anticipated deficit of at least $800,000,000.

From a study of the maturity dates of several of the short-term issues, some persons in close touch with Government fiscal affairs have reached the conclusion that a major issue is in contemplation for next fall, although it might be resorted to sooner.

The Treasury has authority to prescribe the size of the issue, interest rates, maturity date and other details within the total authorized by Congress.

The political aspect of the situation is one factor influencing many to believe that an issue of long term securities will be forthcoming before Congress reassembles.

Tax Rewards Cause Concern.

Demands by Senators William E. Borah (R.), Idaho; James Couzens (R.), Michigan; Robert M. LaFollette (R.), Wisconsin, and others for an increase in taxes have caused concern. The theory is advanced that if the administration could go before Congress with a budget providing for the Government's fiscal needs over a considerable period, much of the force of the tax-increase movement would be counteracted.

On the other hand, continuation of the present system of financing through short term securities is regarded as likely to keep the Government's financial affairs alive for congressional disqussion throughout the next session and well into the coming presidential campaign. Many Democrats are no more enthusiastic about increasing taxes than is the administration.

Senator Pat Harrison (D.), Mississippi, has advocated slowing up public debt retirement, which, he said, is seven years and $3,500,000,000 ahead of schedule.

14 States to Back Freight Rate Cut

Plans Made for Combatting Railways' Efforts to Enjoin Change June 1.

Kansas City, Mo., April 30 (A.P.).—J. W. Scott, rate expert of the Kansas Public Service Commission, announced today plans of fourteen interested States to combat the attempt of fifteen Western railroads to enjoin the Interstate Commerce Commission from putting into effect reduced freight rates on grain and grain products June 1. The railroads applied for an injunction in Federal Court in Chicago today.

Indicating State public service commissions would lead the fight to block the railroads' move, Mr. Scott named a law committee consisting of Charles Steiger, general counsel for the Kansas Public Service Committee; Hugh LaMaster, assistant attorney general for Nebraska, and Paul Walker, commissioner of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission.

The action of the railroads in filing the injunction suit was not unexpected, Mr. Scott said. The States affected by the schedule of rates ordered effective June 1 are Missouri, Kansas, Arizona, Arkansas, Idaho, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Nebraska, North Dakota and Oklahoma.

Bank of France.

Paris, April 30 (A.P.).—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes in francs: Gold decreased 483,000,000; sight balances abroad increased 1,000,000; bills discounted at home increased 969,000,000; bills bought abroad increased 1,000,000; advances decreased 91,000,000; circulation decreased 560,000,000; current accounts increased 896,000,000. Rate of discount, 2 per cent.

Sao Paulo Funds Arrive.

New York, April 30.—The first of Boston Corporation, fiscal agents for the City of Sao Paulo, Brazil, 6½ per cent external secured sinking fund gold bonds of 1927, due 1957, have announced receipt of funds to cover the regular semiannual service requirements, including interest due May 15, and funds for the retirement of $41,500 par value of bonds on that date.

BRIAND HELD LEADER IN PRESIDENT'S RACE

Minister, However, Passive Candidate; Field Is Cut to Half a Dozen.

Paris, April 30 (A.P.).—France is preparing to elect her twelfth president on May 13 at Versailles.

Candidates have narrowed down to a half-dozen. Two or three are considered so strong that several ballots are predicted before an absolute majority can be obtained in the general assembly, which is the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate sitting in joint session.

Paul Doumer, president of the Senate, who was candidate for the presidency back in 1906 when he obtained 371 votes; Deputy Paul Painleve, former minister, and Aristide Briand, minister of foreign affairs, are given the best chances of victory unless a "dark horse" is run in to break a deadlock.

Briand Passive Candidate.

Briand probably would be considered the preelection "victor" if he cared to say the word. So far he has done nothing to dispel belief that he does not want to give up his present work toward peace and his proposed European union, to become president.

Deputy Painleve, noted scholar, finds himself for the second time within reach of the presidency. He was the choice of the Left in 1924 and was President Doumergue's principal opponent. He collected 309 votes but a combination against him put President Doumergue into office.

Another candidate not to be counted out is Fernand Bouisson, a Socialist and presiding officer of the Chamber of Deputies. If unity of the Left can be found this year, Bouisson might be the victor providing the Left chooses to back him rather than Painleve.

Poincare Backing Lebrun.

Former Premier Raymond Poincare, who has convalesced from his illness, is supporting Senator Albert Lebrun, who comes from his section of France. He names as his second choice Senator Leon Bernard, present minister of justice.

Also in the political light is Deputy Andre Maginot, minister of war. He, too, comes from Poincare's country.

Briand, sponsor of the plan for a European federation, has obtained the government's consent to open negotiations with all other industrial countries in Europe with a view to facilitating the marketing of European wheat as the best means of advancing that federation.

Wheat marketing will be one of the principal considerations when the little entente meets at Bucharest next Monday. The conferees will occupy themselves with the problem of moving wheat from the agricultural countries of the East into the markets of the industrial countries of the West.

That meeting will be the first of several in which the same problem will be of paramount interest. There is to be a conference at Geneva on May 15 regarding the organization of the proposed European union, and there will be a grain conference at London three days later.

Sea Captain Urges U. S. To Develop Sea Power

Paris, April 30 (A.P.).—If the United States found herself without allies in another war, Capt. George W. Steele, jr., U. S. N., told the American Club today, she would have to depend on her own merchant ships to transport troops and supplies. He urged the Americans to help the development of national sea power by using American vessels in time of peace.

Capt. Steele is retiring as naval attache here to assume command of the aircraft division of the Atlantic fleet. He spoke at a luncheon given by the club in his honor.

Employe in Store 70 Years Honored

Hoover and Colidge Among Those Congratulating New York Man.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—President Hoover, Calvin Coolidge and other notables today congratulated William C. Creamer, who has been in the employ of a New York department store for 70 years and who used to wait on Mrs. Abraham Lincoln.

Seventy years ago today Mr. Creamer started to work in the Arnold Constable & Co. store, at the age of 10, as a cash boy. His salary was $1 week, paid in gold. The president of the store gave a luncheon in his honor today.

It was while he was a junior salesman that Mr. Creamer used to sell silks to Mrs. Lincoln. He remembers her as "a small, plainly dressed woman, somewhat finicky and far from extravagant."

$50,000,000 Action Against R. C. A. Nears

Wilmington, Del., April 30 (A.P.).—During either the June or the September term of United States District Court a series of 15 cases against the Radio Corporation of America, in which damages estimated at more than $50,000,000 will be asked, will be started before Judge John D. Nields.

The cases are being brought against R. C. A. as a result of the patent license agreement which heretofore has been in litigation. Under this agreement all manufacturers of radio sets licensed by R. C. A. are required to install R. C. A. tubes in the sets.

Bodies of 2 Americans Arrive From Nicaragua

New Orleans, April 30 (A.P.).—The bodies of two American employes of fruit companies, slain with seven others in bandit raids on Logtown, Nicaragua, three weeks ago, were brought to New Orleans today aboard the steamship Ampala.

The bodies were those of John D. Phelps, lumber mill worker, of Livingston, La., and Joseph Luther Pennington, timber estimator, of Garyville, La. They were killed in the first attack of bandits on Logtown, April 11.

Chinese Rebellion Rumors Denied

Guards Increased, However; Move Said Backed by Opium Revenue.

Canton, China, April 30 (A.P.).—This capital of Kwangtung Province, from which the victorious march was begun in 1926, resulting in the Nationalist government being set up in Nanking, was stirred today by rumors of impending rebellion in Kwangtung and the neighboring Kwangsi Province.

Chinese officials denied revolt was brewing, but the foreign colony on Shameen Island in the Pearl River increased the guards on the bridges connecting it with the native city and restricted movements of Chinese to and from the settlement.

Reports were widely circulated that insurgents, bolstered with funds obtained from opium revenues, were plotting to gain control of the provincial governments.

Woman Under Threat Of Rabies Disappears

Mechanicville, N. Y., April 30 (A.P.).—Mrs. Anna Smith, for whom a health warning was broadcast by newspapers and radio, could not be found today, a check of hospitals in eastern New York failing to reveal that she had applied for treatment for rabies.

Mrs. Smith was reached at Newcomb, north of Glens Falls, yesterday, a radio message informing her a dog that had bitten her in North Carolina last week had developed rabies.

Rothstein Estate Wins Gus Van Suit

Verdict of $7,800 Is Given in Dispute Involving Gambling Debt.

New York, April 30 (A.P.).—The estate of Arnold Rothstein, slain gambler, has won a verdict of $7,800 from Gus Van, partner of the late Joe Schenck in the vaudeville team of Van and Schenck.

Mr. Van testified that he met Rothstein in Broadway in June, 1928, and that the gambler offered to lend him money either through his Rothmere Corporation or "my boys." Later, in a dice game in Rothstein's Fairfield Hotel, he borrowed from three of the "boys"—$6,150 from one, $1,050 from another and $2,000 from a third.

Mr. Van gave post-dated checks for the loans, and when he could not meet them, Rothstein offered to pay the check-holders and take a note for $10,381, which included a bonus. Mr. Van contended that the checks never were paid, and that he really did not owe the money.

2 NEW NICARAGUAN BRUSHES REPORTED

Captured Rebel Quoted as Saying Sandino Aid Was Killed.

(Associated Press.)

Two skirmishes between Nicaraguan insurgents and native troops were reported yesterday to the Navy Department.

The reports quoted a captured insurgent as saying Chavarri, a Sandino lieutenant, had been killed in the first engagement.

Meanwhile, Secretary Stimson received word from Nicaragua that withdrawal of Marines to Managua from the northern and central portions of the country was being carried out as originally planned.

The Navy Department reports said on April 27 a patrol of the native guardia, commanded by Corpl. Donald L. Truesdale, of the Marine Corps, pursued a group of insurgents who had been found attacking a form near Condega.

The patrol caught up with the insurgents at Agua Cate and fired at them. They escaped, but eleven animals, some clothing and blankets were taken. The guardia suffered no casualties.

On the following day Corpl. Truesdale's patrol was in contact with an insurgent group and killed a subchief of Chavarra. Ten insurgents were wounded and one was captured. Corpl. Truesdale is from Lugoff, S. C.

Honduran Battle Is Thought Near

Rebels Closely Pursued by Government Troops May Turn.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, April 30 (A.P.).—Members of the army general staff expressed the belief late today that a battle between the government troops and the rebel army under Gen. Ferrera might occur at any moment near Santa Rosa, in Copan Province, in western Honduras.

Gen. Ferrara, with his main body of the rebel army, was 15 miles from Santa Rosa, the government announced, and is being closely pursued by government troops.

The belief prevailed that the rebels might attack Santa Rosa or that the government forces might overtake them before they could reach the town.

LEGAL NOTICES

LUCIAN H. VANDOREN, Attorney, 206 Southern Building.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE DISTRICT of Columbia, holding an Equity Court. Thomas P. Blankenship, 736 Twenty-second street northwest, plaintiff, vs. Claire K. Blankenship, sometimes known as Claire F. Bird, address unknown, defendant. Equity No. 52359. The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring null and void the bond of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff, Thomas P. Blankenship, and the defendant, Claire K. Blankenship (sometimes known as Claire F. Bird), upon the ground that at the time of marriage of the parties hereto, a marriage previously contracted between the defendant and one George F. Bird was in full force and effect. On motion of the plaintiff, it is, this 24th day of April, A. D. 1931, ordered, that the defendant, Claire K. Blankenship (sometimes known as Claire F. Bird), cause her appearance to be entered herein on or before the fortieth day exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, occurring after the day of the first publication of this order; otherwise the cause will be proceeded with as in case of default. Provided, a copy of this order be published once a week for three successive weeks in the Washington Law Reporter and The Washington Post, before said day. JENNINGS BAILEY, Justice. A true copy. ARLINGTON ROTARY CLUB HAS ELECTION

Thomas W. Phillips Named President at Meeting at Golf Club.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 500. Clarendon, Va.

Thomas W. Phillips was elected president of the Arlington Rotary Club at its meeting yesterday at the Washington Golf and Country Club. Other officers elected are: The Rev. Isaac Steenson, vice president; Ernest M. Shreve, treasurer; J. Hammond Brewer, secretary; J. A. Deuterman, sergeant-at-arms, and W. T. Westcott, director.

Among visiting Rotarians were W. K. Cooper, Thomas L. Eagan, Thomas E. Mills and Harry Kidwell, from the District of Columbia; L. R. Jones, from Madison, Wis., and H. E. Cross, William Leitch and R. C. Bilham, from Alexandria.

A. E. Wilson, of the Washington Gas Light Co., talked on the experiences of the high-pressure salesman.

Plans were completed for a trip to Norfolk, Va., May 6, 7 and 8, at which time the annual district conference will be held. Delegates from Alexandria, Fairfax, Warrenton, Leesburg and Arlington County will attend the conference.

Signs over all fire hydrants where drinking faucets have been connected saying that water is not fit for drinking purposes were ordered by the county board of supervisors at its meeting yesterday.

The order was result of a letter by Dr. P. M. Chichester, county health officer, who stated that test of the water has proved it is impure and not fit for use unless boiled. Dr. Chichester said the condition of the water is due to the construction of the fire hydrants. He recommended that the board install separate faucets connected directly with the water mains.

Placing of the signs was ordered on motion by Supervisor B. M. Hedrick. The motion further provided that the county engineer make a survey and report at the next meeting the most suitable locations for installation of public faucets.

Col. H. G. Pepper, from Barcroft, following reading of the letter from Dr. Chichester, declared the board should take immediate steps to give water free to those unable to get pure water elsewhere.

It was fully explained that the county water system to the homes is excellent and that only the water which is being taken from the faucets connected to fire hydrants is unfit for use.

Chairman Edward Duncan stated that the county has spent in excess of $150,000 in the last year for extensions to the water system, of which amount Jefferson District has contributed $50,000.

Representatives from a number of sections of the county presented petitions asking for immediate road improvements. The board authorized Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth to communicate with Miss Bessie Christian and H. R. Dulaney, who have agreed to give rights of way for improvement of Washington street as approach to the new Memorial Bridge and obtain the necessary contracts.

Supervisor B. M. Hedrick stated the board will take over that section of the road from Military road to the Georgetown-Alexandria pike and grade it and later give it surface treatment. This is the section, he pointed out, on which the rights of way have been offered by Miss Christian and Mr. Dulaney.

Sponsors of the movement for improvement of Washington street appeared satisfied at the action of the board. It was learned they will continue to work for the final completion of the entire right of way so there will be an approach to the bridge when it is opened to traffic. It was further pointed out that the right of way for the remaining roadway is available free to the county.

The board awarded contract for improvement of Rucker avenue and reconstruction of a part of Courthouse road to the Northern Virginia Construction Co. The accepted bid which calls for a macadam roadway was $1,197.50.

The board approved an application by the Airport Swimming Corporation through its president, Keith Kiggins, for a permit to construct a swimming pool on the property formerly known as Arlington Beach opposite the Washington Airport property.

It was pointed out by Mr. Kiggins that the project will cost approximately $50,000 and that it will be constructed in accordance with all health regulations. The building will be 200 feet in length with a width of 90 feet. He stated that work will be started immediately and that, as far as possible, local labor will be used.

The board approved the request of Sheriff Howard B. Fields that another traffic officer be allowed. Sheriff Fields last night stated he expects to present the name of the new officer to Judge Walter T. McCarthy in the Circuit Court today.

Walter U. Varney, former president of the Arlington-Fairfax Volunteer Firemen's Association, called attention to the fact that the local fire companies are now required to pay for electric current. He asked the board to consider this question. Chairman Duncan stated that the matter will be taken up and that officials of the Electric Light Co. will be asked to meet with the board.

Tomorrow is the last opportunity to pay poll taxes for taxpayers wishing to participate in the county election in November. County Treasurer E. Wade Ball announces his office will be open today and tomorrow until 4:30 o'clock.

Speaking before the Arlington County Monarch Club at its weekly meeting yesterday at Windsor Arms, County Commissioner of Revenue Harry K. Green stressed the value of a service club in the community and congratulated the club on the work which it has done since its organization more than three years ago.

Grayson At Ahalt was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Joseph C. Anderson. Mr. Anderson stated that it would be impossible for him to give the office the attention it required.

The club has completed its plans for its annual ladies' night at the Army-Navy Club in Arlington County May 7. Chairman Dexter Hussey, who is in charge of arrangements, stated the program is ready and promises to be the biggest event ever staged by the club.

The Lyon Park indoor carnival opened last night in the community house with a record attendance. At 7:30 o'clock tonight the Clarendon Fire Department will give a demonstration rescue from the second story of the community house with the equipment of the new $9,000 ladder truck recently added to the county fire fighting equipment.

Beginning tonight there will be dancing after 10:30 o'clock, continuing tomorrow night, the closing night of the carnival.

LEE MEMORIAL FETE TO BE AT STRATFORD

Daughter of Confederate General, Gordon, Is on Program.

Stratford on the Potomac, Va., April 30 (A.P.).—James C. Young, author of "Marse Robert," will be principal speaker at the second annual May celebration at Stratford Hall Saturday afternoon, under auspices of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation.

The celebration will be in commemoration of "Light Horse Harry" Lee and Anne Carter Lee, who once were master and mistress of the Stratford plantation, living there from 1794 to 1811. Four of their children, including their youngest son, Robert E. Lee, were born on the old place, which now is being purchased by the Lee Foundation for the purpose of restoration as a national shrine.

Mr. Young will speak of "Light Horse Harry's" life and character. By special request Mrs. Orton B. Brown, State director of the foundation for New Hampshire, will give a recital, including one of her dialect sketches and a group of religious and folk dance songs. More than twenty years ago, before the marriage of Orton B. Brown, of Berlin, N. H., Mrs. Brown, who then was Caroline Lewis Gordon, daughter of Gen. John B. Gordon, C. S. A., and a Georgia senator, gave her recitals professionally throughout the United States. Mrs. Egbert Jones, State director for Mississippi, will give a ten-minute talk on Stratford pilgrimages. A group of Negro singers will render spirituals. Invocation and benediction will be given by Maj. Giles B. Cook, chaplain general of the foundation, and the last surviving member of Gen. Lee's staff. Mrs. Charles D. Lanier, president of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, will preside over the ceremonies and deliver the address of welcome.

Open house will be held at Stratford during the week-ends of May 2, 9 and 16.

Woman Hurt, Cook Dies in Car Wreck

Mrs. Betty Strong, Injured, Is at Hospital in Warrenton.

Special to The Washington Post.

Warrenton, Va., April 30.—As a result of an automobile collision near Buckland, Prince William County, at 10 o'clock this morning, Lorraine Holland, colored, 20 years old, is dead, and Mrs. Betty Carter Strong, her employer, is painfully injured at the Fauquier County Hospital here.

Mrs. Strong, daughter of Mrs. Carter and the late Dr. C. Shirley Carter, was driving her car toward Washington, with Lorraine Holland, her cook, beside her. An automobile driven by P. G. Garing struck the Strong car. Mr. Garing is from Baltimore and was en route here to visit his daughter, a student at the Warrenton County School.

Mrs. Strong's car was demolished. The Holland woman lived six hours with a fractured skull, fractured right arm and a fracture of both jaws and internal injuries. Mrs. Strong is suffering from severe cuts in the neck and a concussion. Mr. Garing and his driver were unhurt and proceeded to Warrenton.

Second Youth Killed By Auto in Frostburg

Special to The Washington Post.

Frostburg, Md., April 30.—Just as the inquest held by County Coroner Joseph B. Finan into the death of Clarence Patterson, 9 years old, ended this afternoon resulting in Lawrence Hayes being held in $1,000 bond on a manslaughter charge, a second child met death here under similar circumstances.

Richard, 6-year-old son of Oscar Knierlem, was struck and killed by a truck driven by Claude A. Kimmell, who was released on his own recognizance, pending further investigation.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE TRUTH ABOUT TROUTING.

THIS is the trout-fishing season. A trout is a fish known mainly by hearsay. It lives on anything not included in a fisherman's equipment.

* * * *

Fishing for some fish is a careless pastime requiring nothing but a natural instinct for loafing, but fishing for trout is a specialized occupation for skilled workers only. It is a merger of hiking, swimming, marathon waltzing, lariat throwing and angling, combining the most exasperating features of each.

* * * *

Behind the whole pastime is the silly notion that a trout's favorite lunch is a horsefly fed to it on the end of a buggy whip.

* * * *

It is the only outdoor sport in which more territory is covered afoot than golf. All things considered, golf is a better game because they have caddies to carry the luggage.

* * * *

Trout can be caught with worms on a bent pin, but custom has made it a violation of the Constitution, the Treaty of Ghent, the Monroe Doctrine and the white man's code to take a fish without the maximum hocus pocus, correct form, perfect coordination of mind and body and the use of about $300 worth of superfluous equipment.

* * * *

Etiquette requires that you fish for trout with "flies." A "fly" is a curious bunch of rooster feathers designed by the same fellow who makes women's dress ornaments and named by the bird who digs up new monikers for sleeping cars.

* * * *

These "flies" are the pride of the real trout angler's heart. If the trout liked them as well as the fishermen, everything would be jake.

* * * *

THE basic idea in trouting is to tie a "fly" on the end of a line and cast it so that it will land in the face of some trout with an insatiable appetite for mattress feathers. The truth of the matter is that all sensible trout know that some gouty member of the Rod and Game Club is doing his spring molting.

* * * *

Nevertheless, any joke can be carried too far, and after a certain amount of annoyance a trout will snap at the darned thing out of resentment. This is what the trout fisherman calls a "strike."

* * * *

Now and then the hook will become caught in a rock, a floating branch, a submerged twig or the handle of an abandoned washbasin. This is also called a "strike."

* * * *

There are many strange theories accepted as facts by trout fishermen, one of which is that the trout will not bite when the water is high. Another is that they will not bite when the water is low. A cardinal axiom is that there is no trouting when the water is cold. Another cardinal axiom is that there is no use trouting when the water is warm. Any alibi goes when delivered knee deep in a brook.

* * * *

It is all done by mirrors.

* * * *

If you really want fish it is best to call up the market and order halibut.

FLYING PREFERENCE.

WHEN I go anywhere by plane
I want an autogiro
So I can fly straight up and down
Between the land and sky-ro.

Its drop per second in a pinch
Is fourteen feet to twenty,
And when I'm falling I've a hunch
That that is more than plenty.

CEMETERY STATUTE HELD VOID BY COURT

Appellate Body Declares Prince Georges Law Unconstitutional.

The Court of Appeals in Annapolis yesterday upheld Circuit Court Judge Joseph C. Mattingly's decision that the "cemetery law" of Prince Georges County, passed in 1929, is unconstitutional. This is a victory for the Northwest Cemetery Co., which has been fighting the statute allowing the board of county commissioners to regulate establishment of graveyards.

The appellate court's decision was based on the wide powers given the commissioners. The 1929 act provides that permission must be obtained from the board before a cemetery can be established in the county. The Northwest Cemetery, Inc., opposed the law on the ground that the power of the board was unregulated and that no basis was set up on which permits might be refused.

The commisisoners applied for an injunction to prevent work on the cemetery, and the cemetery company demurred to the bill, which was finally dismissed by Judge Mattingly. An appeal from his decision was taken.

Judge Hammond Urner, of Frederick, prepared the opinion, delivered yesterday. He laid down the legal principle that an ordinance which gives a governmental body indefinite power to forbid or permit a lawful enterprise is unconstitutional and void. "It is because the omission to prescribe definite standards for the exercise of such an authority might result in arbitrary discrimination beyond the proper scope and purposes of the police power that such enactments are held to be in conflict with the organic law," he said.

The appellate court also pointed out that assumption by the cemetery officials that the act was effective did not deny them the right to contest the constitutionality of the measure. The attorney for the commissioners had contended that it did.

William Boone, of Forestville, Md., a deputy sheriff under Sheriff W. C. Hopkins, has been dismissed for failing to serve summonses on witnesses in a murder trial, Sheriff Hopkins said yesterday.

Monday Boone was given about twenty summonses to serve on persons in the vicinity of Croome, and his alleged failure caused the trial of Samuel Spencer, colored, to be postponed a day.

Sheriff Hopkins declined to say any more than that his office had been embarrassed by Boone's failure to have the witnesses present.

Boone was appointed by the sheriff after the county commisioners failed to reappoint him as constable. He had acted in this capacity in Spaulding district for many years, under former Sheriff Charles S. Early.

Spencer, tried for the murder of Edward Cole, alias Edward Fleet, during a fight in Croome several months ago, was found guilty of second degree murder.

Early last month Dr. Varty, a druggist, ran to the home of a neighbor with a bullet wound in his shoulder. He was not in a serious condition and returned to his home after treatment in a Washington hospital. Mrs. Varty was arrested and taken before Judge Moffat, who placed the assault charges against her.

She was freed after posting bond of $100, but was recalled to the hearing which resulted in quashing the charges. She was represented by Attorney J. Wilson Ryon.

Mrs. Nellie K. Hinman, of Hyattsville, has filed a petition for absolute divorce from Howell S. Hinman, alleging desertion. In her petition, which Attorney Bird H. Dolby filed in circuit court, she states that she was married in May, 1921, and that he abandoned her in July, 1927. They have no children. She gave her husband's last address as Fifteenth street near L street northwest.

B. & O. Freight Cars Burned.

Man, Fighting Fire, Burned.

Louis Brown, 20 years old, colored, of 1244 Union street northwest, was burned about the legs and arms yesterday while trying to extinguish a fire on a tarpaulin in the rear yard at 481 N street northwest, caused by a carelessly tossed match.

INCREASE IN COUNCIL IS SOUGHT BY MAYOR

Alexandria Official Would Have Legislature Change City Government.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
207 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 323.

Mayor Edmund F. Ticer, at the meeting of city council yesterday, presented a letter, addressed to the council, in which he proposed that the Virginia Legislature be requested to pass an act authorizing an increase in the number of councilmen from five to seven or nine, so that the voters could, in 1932, elect six members instead of only two.

The mayor in his letter, which was merely "received" by the council, stated his belief that the old form of government, consisting of a mayor with veto power, eight aldermen and sixteen members of the common council, consisted of too large a membership, while the present number of five councilmen, he believes, is too small.

Mr. Ticer stated he has come to this conclusion on account of the recently increased territory, and believes that the plan suggested will afford all of the people a much larger representation in the council; that the work has been increased many times, and can be better administered by a larger membership. He states that a return to the old form of government will be a step in a backward direction.

The agitation in favor of a return to the old form of government, which has culminated in petitions said to have been signed by more than the required number of voters, and which will be presented in the circuit court at its May term, is said to be based principally upon the desire of the voters to have direct representation in council. The present membership, instead of being elected from the various wards, and each having a constituency to represent, is elected from the city at large, as is the evident intention of the mayor in suggesting a larger number of members. In this event, there would be no ward representation. Of the five members, of which the present council will consist when it is at its full strength, two will have been elected by the council itself, and one who has recently resigned was also elected by the council, so that only three members were elected by the voters. Under the present law, it would be possible, although not at all probable, for all members of the council to be elected by members of the council who had themselves, in turn, been elected to office by members of the council instead of the voters.

The mayor stated that it is his belief that better work is done when ward lines are eliminated, and he is not in favor of going back to the election of members from any given districts or wards. A considerable amount of the support for the movement to go back to the ward representative form of government is understood to come from residents of the newly annexed territory. Since the annexation of that territory three members of the council have been elected by the voters, two have been elected by council, and one remains to be elected by council. None of the five already chosen are residents of the annexed territory.

The election of a member of the council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Pierce, which was expected to be made yesterday, was deferred to the next regular meeting, May 7. Although several names have been mentioned as possibilities, none of the councilmen have indicated a choice.

A special meeting of city council was held yesterday afternoon to consider an ordinance providing for the widening of the roadway of a portion of Washington street by setting back the curb line; for the removal of trees within said area; for the removal or relocation of certain wooks, poles, wires, cables, mains, pipes, meter boxes, cut off boxes and other fixtures and property located and maintained by the Virginia Public Service Co., the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., the Western Union Telegraph Co., the Postal Telegraph and Cable Co., the Alexandria Water Co. and the Alexandria Gas Co. in said portion of Washington street; for the placing underground of the conductors of the Virginia Public Service Co. on Washington street between First street and the Southern Corporate limits of the city; for the placing underground of the transmission conduits of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. on Washington street from First street to the southern corporate limits; for the revocation of permits to operate and maintain curb gasoline pumps and for the removal of same from Washington street, and providing penalties for violations thereof.

The ordinance was placed on its first, second and third reading and passed after discussion as to minor points in moving curb lines, and proper care of trees now within that line that will have to be set back, but the idea of council is not to eliminate these trees.

An application was received from Mrs. Elizabeth B. Nash for a permit to establish a gas filling station in Duke street, just within the city limits, on the north side, and the city manager was instructed to ask for fuller information and also refer the matter to the zoning commission.

A letter was received from the George Mason Hotel Corporation, D. M. Zirkle, manager, asking permission to place signs at given points in the city directing the diverted traffic to the hotel, as Washington street will shortly be closed. Councilman Lamond moved that the city manager be empowered to confer with the hotel management and agree upon some suitable signs, to be placed at points that may later be selected for routing traffic, with the understanding that such signs are to be temporary.

More than 500 applications are understood to have been received by the city school board for positions as teachers in the public schools for next year, included in which are applications from a majority of the teachers already employed. Many of the applicants are from North Carolina, and many others are from States other than Virginia. The nearness of Alexandria to Washington, and the higher salaries paid here as compared to other sections, is considered responsible for the large number of applications.

The school board, at its meeting next Wednesday night, will begin the work of choosing teachers for the next session, there being approximately 130 to be elected. The number of those at present employed who do not expect to return next year is said to be smaller than ever before.

The Boy Scouts will, on May 7, assume charge of the government of Alexandria, the various officials having been elected by the troops, Jack Weaver, of Grace Church Troop, No. 169, having been chosen mayor. The taking over of the city government for one day each year is a feature of the Scout training in citizenship.

Other officials elected are Jack Evans, city sergeant; Londsey Noble, city clerk's office; John Krafft, civil and police judge; Clement Moore, city treasurer; Lloyd Burke, chief of police; Edmund Ticer, Commonwealth's attorney; Lawrence Noel, manager of the chamber of commerce; John Burroughs, postmaster; Jack Parker, editor of the Alexandria Gazette; Alfred Moss, city engineer; Randall Book, city manager; James Power, city auditor; Walter Edwards, city health officer; Johnson Dervis, commissioner of revenue; Paul Mont, Alexandria Hospital; Raymond Coucher, Marine Barracks; Earl Myers, manager of the George Mason Hotel; Louis Robinson, superintendent of schools; John Quarles, Virginia Public Service Co.; Raymond Gallegher, fire chief, and Edwin Roberts, sewer works.

Charles W. King, treasurer of the Alexandria Fire Department Convention Fund, has forwarded a check for $200 to the ambulance fund of the Alexandria Fire Department. The money was turned over to the ambulance fund in appreciation of the aid rendered by the members in handling the street carnival which was staged last night for the convention fund.

The Washington Society of Alexandria yesterday afternoon planted a tree on the grounds of the Washington Street Public School, the first public school established in America, and sponsored by George Washington, the tree placed in honor of the 142d anniversary of the inauguration of Washington as the President of the United States. The planting was done by Boy Scouts.

David D. Hickerson, aged 83 years, died yesterday at the home of his nephew, S. C. Humphrey, on Braddock Heights. He was a native of Fauquier County, Va., and is survived by two sisters. The funeral will be held at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow from the home, conducted by the Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and burial will be at Remington, Fauquier County, Va.

Past high priests' night will be observed this evening at 8 o'clock by Mount Vernon Chapter, No. 14, Royal Arch Masons, with High Priest A. D. Yates in charge. Other past high priests who will participate in the program are Reuben J. Schooley, C. A. Mason, Virgil C. Davis, Alfred C. Moss, John A. Martin, Arthur Paul, Alfred C. Cosdon, A. H. Sherwood, William Lewis Allen and John H. Trimyer.

Alleged Counterfeiter Is Taken to Baltimore

Chester F. Foote, 29 years old, was turned over to Baltimore authorities yesterday following his release from Lorton Reformatory on a charge of counterfeiting. He is charged in Maryland with violation of parole.

Detective Sergeants S. H. K. Wilson and R. J. Cox arrested Foote for the Baltimore authorities.

CAPITAL MAN SHOT IN ROW WITH POLICE

Lerty Holsinger in Hospital Following His Attempted Arrest in County.

In a pitched battle with two Fairfax County police late yesterday, Lerty Holsinger, 40 years old, of Thirty-third street near M street northwest, was shot three times and the two officers were bruised about the head.

The scuffle occurred on the Chain Bridge Hill, in Arlington County, when Policemen Lewis Finks and Carl McIntosh attempted to arrest the man for an alleged liquor violation.

Holsinger is in Georgetown University Hospital, under treatment for a bullet wound in the right hip, a fracture of the right leg and a broken left ankle, both caused by bullet wounds.

The two policemen said they saw Holsinger drink from a bottle, and when they inquired what he had been drinking he is alleged to have said it was "none of their business." The policemen smelled liquor, they said, and ordered Holsinger from his automobile.

When Holsinger refused, they attempted to drag him from the car, but, the officers said, Holsinger wrested a blackjack from the grasp of Finks and struck at the policemen.

Finks ordered the man to surrender, he said, and Holsinger rushed at him with the blackjack.

Holsinger struck Finks on the head with the blackjack, Finks said, and the officer fired three shots at the man's feet. The man collapsed and was taken to the hospital by the policeman. In the car with Holsinger at the time was Mrs. Jessie Holsinger, his wife. In the automobile the officer found a small quantity of alleged liquor, they claim.

Finks said last night that there is a warrant for Holsinger's arrest in Fairfax County on a charge of violation of the State motor vehicle law. Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth, of Arlington County, will hold a hearing today and if the police used more force than necessary he will ask for their arrest.

Alexandria Water Rate Hearing Is Continued

Richmond, Va., April 30 (A.P.).—Testimony seeking to establish that the American Water Works & Electric Co. of Alexandria paid more than twice the market value when it purchased properties of the company in Alexandria was given today in the hearing on the company's application for a 40 per cent increase in water rates.

The case was resumed before the State Corporation Commission today after being continued from March 27. The City of Alexandria is opposing the application.

ALDERMAN FUNERAL SET FOR TOMORROW

University of Virginia Head Will Be Buried in Charlottesville.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 30.—The funeral of Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, who died in a Connellsville, Pa., hospital last night, will be held from the University Chapel at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, the service to be conducted by the Rev. Dwight Moody Chalmers, pastor of the Charlottesville Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Rev. Noble C. Powell, of Baltimore, former rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at the university. Interment will be in University Cemetery.

Dr. Alderman's body will reach here at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. All activities of the university will be suspended for the week-end. Flags are at half mast and no classes will meet tomorrow or Saturday.

Messages of condolence from all sections of the country poured into the Alderman home today. One came from Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, which stated she would be present at the funeral.

Telegrams came from two members of the Wilson Cabinet, David F. Houston and Josephus Daniels. "In his passing," said Mr. Houston, "the South has lost one of its greatest unofficial statesmen, its most distinguished educational leader, its most gifted public speaker, and one of the most potent factors in the rebuilding of several Southern commonwealths."

"Dr. Alderman," said Mr. Daniels, "held the highest place in the great profession he adorned, and in civic leadership."

Messages of Regret.

John H. Finley, associate editor of the New York Times, wired last night that he was on the way to New Hampshire to attend a governors' conference, but that he would have difficulty in taking a part, so great is his sorrow.

Elmer Ellsworth Brown, chancellor of New York University, said that flags at that institution had been placed at half-mast. "Dr. Alderman," he said, "was one of the most distinguished and magnificent university presidents of this country."

Senator Simeon D. Fess said of the late educator: "One of the country's most distinguished educators."

Robert Underwood Johnson, secretary of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, said: "The oratory of no American of our time has exceeded his exalted tone and literary style of his high-minded utterances on public subjects. He honored and adorned the academy and it will always cherish among his archives his noble and intellectual career."

John D. Rockefeller, jr.: "The country has lost one of its wisest and most progressive educational leaders. Few men have left a more enviable record of high service to their age and generation."

"The National Institute of Arts and Letters has lost a distinguished member and the literary and academic world a great influence for good," wired Burton J. Hendrick, secretary of the institute.

Other Wires Received.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, said: "One of the few outstanding Americans of our time."

"In letters, statesmanship and education Dr. Alderman's place will be close to Jefferson in the annals of our country," said Bishop Ernest M. Stires, of the Episcopal Church.

Senator Royal S. Copeland said: "The whole country mourns his death."

Bishop William T. Manning, of New York, declared: "His passing is a loss to the whole cause of education."

Gov. O. Max Gardner, North Carolina, wired: "No leader of his generation made greater or more enduring contribution to education and, indirectly, to social and economic upbuilding of the South."

Bradford Knapp, president Alabama Polytechnical Institute, said: "One of the most forward looking of all Southern leaders."

"His illustrious life has adorned the high traditions of our universities and he has interpreted to us all the ideals of scholarship, the virtues of citizenship and the visions of service," was the message received from George Washington University.

Tributes were also received from Thomas J. McMahon, president of the National Democratic Club; Charles P. Thwing, president emeritus of Western Reserve University; Bernard M. and Herman B. Baruch, New York; Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh; George J. Ryan, president of the Board of Education, New York, and Senator Claude Swanson.

Alderman Is Paid Tribute by Chase

Passing of University of Virginia's President Brings Sadness.

Urbana, Ill., April 30 (A.P.).—Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, who will be installed tomorrow as president of the University of Illinois, expressed his sorrow today in a statement of tribute to Dr. Edwin Anderson Alderman, who died last night while en route here.

"I have been deeply shocked and saddened," said Dr. Chase, "to learn of the sudden death of my friend, President Alderman, of the University of Virginia, while on his way here to participate in our installation exercises at the University of Illinois. President Alderman was one of those men who were in a genuine sense the creators of what is progressive, forward looking and courageous in the South today.

"He was early fired with the vision that the way to rebuild a shattered civilization was through public education and to that task he devoted his life. Nor was his a narrow path. With wide contacts, his national reputation, his sincere friendliness and high ability had won him a leading place among the educators in the United States, while his mastery of eloquence had placed him as one of the greatest orators of the country. I am saddened by the loss of a friend, a colleague and a champion of the cause of education."
